Virginia Wesleyan College is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award the degrees of bachelor of arts and of bachelor of science. Inquiries to the Commission on Colleges 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or telephone 404.679.4500 should relate only to the accreditation status of Virginia Wesleyan and not to general admission information.

Non-discrimination Policy
Virginia Wesleyan College admits students of any race, religion, color, creed, gender, national and ethnic origin, age, marital status, covered veteran status, handicap, sexual orientation, or any other legally protected status to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the College. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, creed, gender, national or ethnic origin, age, marital status, covered veteran status, handicap, sexual orientation, or any other legally protected status in administration of its educational policies, admission policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other College-administered programs.

Catalog
2011-2012
If you ask Virginia Wesleyan students why they came here, most would say that they were attracted to the warm and intimate campus community featuring small classes, a dynamic faculty, a rigorous liberal arts curriculum, and a focus on character as a central element in academic preparation. Others would point out that, because the college is located in one of the nation’s most vibrant and historic metropolitan areas, it offers a wide array of possibilities for students to pursue internships and practice volunteerism and civic engagement.

One current student told me that what he loves most about Virginia Wesleyan is that it’s always changing in ways that make it better. He specifically mentioned the new curriculum. Over the past four years, our faculty have reviewed and revised every major and every course in order to make the educational experience—inside and outside the classroom—more engaging, more exciting, and, ultimately, more relevant to the career aspirations of our students. With this catalog, the college launches the new, “enhanced” curriculum. The new course structure is sometimes called the “4 x 4” because students typically take four 4-semester hour courses each semester.

You will find this book to be an excellent guide to Virginia Wesleyan’s academic programs. So please read it carefully and refer to it often. But don’t stop there. Especially if you are a new student, please take advantage of this campus’s open doors to ask questions, to make friends, and to create opportunities. You will find that there are lots of people ready to assist you.

Whether you are a new or returning student, I urge you to become an active campus citizen: get involved in a club, perform with a drama or musical group, play a sport, and attend cultural events. My one word of advice to all students is this: Associate!

To each student, I ask that you please introduce yourself to me. I am eager to get to know you, to hear how you are faring, and to help you make your time here academically and personally enriching. Make the most of your experience here. Virginia Wesleyan not only will prepare you for a career; it will prepare you for life. Work hard and expect much of yourself. Dream big dreams and let Virginia Wesleyan put you on the path to their realization. To begin, all you need is a spark.

Dr. Timothy G. O’Rourke
Vice President for Academic Affairs and
Kenneth R. Perry Dean of the College

This catalog is published by Virginia Wesleyan College and contains information concerning campus life, academic policies, program and course offerings, and career preparation. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with the academic policies contained in the catalog. Failure to do so does not excuse students from the requirements and regulations described herein.

Disclaimer: The catalog is offered as a guide, not as a contract. It is not intended to and does not contain all policies and regulations that relate to students. The college reserves the right to make alterations in programs, course offerings, policies, and fees without prior notice.
Virginia Wesleyan College has been selected as a 2012 Best College in the Southeast by The Princeton Review.

Mission Statement

The mission of Virginia Wesleyan College is to engage students of diverse ages, religions, ethnicities, and backgrounds in a rigorous liberal arts education that will prepare them to meet the challenges of life and career in a complex and rapidly changing world. In accord with our United Methodist heritage, Virginia Wesleyan aspires to be a supportive community that is committed to social responsibility, ethical conduct, higher learning, and religious freedom.

Faculty Advisory System

The mission of the advising system at Virginia Wesleyan College is to foster the growth of strong relationships between students and faculty, enabling student success through intentional connections with people, academic programs, and processes of the college. This endeavor should lead to successful academic planning, retention, and professional growth, as students pursue life and career goals following a timely graduation.

Prior to arrival on campus, each freshman is assigned a faculty advisor. Entering students meet with their advisors to work out a schedule of classes prior to registration. Returning students also meet with their advisors prior to registration.

Prior to graduation, a full-time faculty member in the student’s major department will certify that the student has completed requirements for the major. Therefore, upon declaring a major, students must secure an academic advisor a full-time faculty member in their major field.

Advisors will make every attempt to give effective guidance to students in academic matters and to refer students to those qualified to help them in other matters, but the final responsibility for meeting all academic requirements for a selected program rests with the student.

Transcripts

Transcripts are provided by the Registrar’s Office and are issued only upon the written request of the student. All financial obligations to the college must be met prior to the release of a transcript.

A transcript of work completed at any high school or at any college other than Virginia Wesleyan College must be obtained directly from that institution.

All educational records of students enrolled at the college are maintained in accordance with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 as Amended. The Act was designed to protect the privacy of educational records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their educational records, and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal and formal hearings.

Student consent is required for the release of records covered by the Act to outside parties (i.e., prospective employers), except for those agencies entitled to access under the provisions of the Act (i.e., college personnel with a legitimate educational interest, federal education and auditing officials, and requests related to the application for or receipt of financial assistance). Any other access must have written authorization from the student, with the exception of certain “directory” information which includes the name, address, and telephone number of the student, e-mail address, major field of study, dates of attendance, degrees, awards and honors received (including dates), photographs or electronic images, and the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended.

Proud of Our Past, Focused on Our Future: Virginia Wesleyan College Celebrates 50 Years

Chartered in 1961, Virginia Wesleyan College first opened its doors to students in 1966 with support from the United Methodist Church. The 2011-12 academic year marks the college's 50th anniversary. Numerous events and special tributes throughout the year will honor this important milestone, as does the recent publication of the commemorative book, Wisdom Lights the Way: Virginia Wesleyan College's First Half-Century (Donning Company Publishers) by college archivist Dr. Stephen Mansfield. The book is available in the Scribner Bookstore on campus.

Virginia Wesleyan began in 1959 as an idea in the mind of Methodist minister Joseph S. Johnston. Within two years, the school had a name, a charter, and an expanding body of supporters within the Methodist establishment and the regional business community. Established at a time when baby boomers were coming of age for higher education, the college received full accreditation in its first year of eligibility, enjoyed steady gains, and attained membership in the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges.

Rooted in the liberal arts tradition as well as its Methodist heritage, Virginia Wesleyan is focused on providing a broad academic foundation while cultivating engaged citizens. A meaningful liberal arts education includes the search for humane, social, and scientific principles which, after thorough examination, provide the basis for understanding oneself, society, and the world. A cross-disciplinary approach allows students to build knowledge and explore their interests in the classroom and beyond. An enhanced new curricular model for 2011-12 will prepare students for the future with expanded opportunities to learn by doing, to connect theory to practice, and to link the classroom to the world.

Wesleyan is a small school by design. Through individualized attention and active mentoring, students develop invaluable relationships and support networks while being encouraged to grow into independent thinkers and leaders who are optimally prepared for graduate study and the challenges of a rapidly changing workplace. Living and learning on campus provides an environment in which each student connects with each other and with faculty in substantive ways.

Finally, Virginia Wesleyan is defined by its unique location in southeastern Virginia. The college is just minutes from the Atlantic Ocean and set apart on a beautiful wooded campus, yet squarely in the middle of the state's most populous metropolitan region. Hampton Roads is home to a host of business, governmental, and cultural institutions, as well as a rich historical and natural resources that offer tremendous opportunities for students and alumni.

The Liberal Arts and Careers

While liberal arts colleges have traditionally prepared students for careers in the professions of teaching, law, business, the ministry, health professions, and the fine arts, Virginia Wesleyan believes that the liberal arts also provide a proper starting place for numerous other professions. The ability to meet challenges and to define and execute the world of work frequently depends on the capacity to analyze, synthesize, make appropriate value judgments, draw conclusions, and communicate results. The development of such skills and dispositions is at the very heart of liberal education.

The college offers approximately 34 majors, which relate to various careers or to graduate study. These are described later in this catalog.
The Setting

At the heart of the educational experience are the persons who teach. Virginia Wesleyan has, by design, recruited faculty members whose primary interest and commitment is to classroom teaching. In addition, faculty are engaged in scholarly and artistic activities and community service. Members of the faculty have earned degrees from over 140 colleges and universities, both in the U.S. and abroad. The richness of this educational experience is felt in their influence at Virginia Wesleyan.

The Library

Hoofheimer Library is at the heart of the Virginia Wesleyan campus. Located centrally—only a minute’s walk from classrooms, dorms, fitness and dining facilities alike—it provides the highest quality resources and services to meet the research and information needs of students, faculty, and staff.

In today’s wired society, proficiency in research and information seeking is essential in meeting expectations that arise in the course of work, family, and citizenship obligations. Helping students develop lifelong learning skills is an integral part of the academic mission of the college.

Academic resources include an extensive print and e-book collection, online access to scholarly journals and research databases, individual and collaborative study spaces, a computer lab, a seminar room, a technology classroom, and a friendly, helpful staff. Advanced research is also supported through interlibrary loan services and cooperative agreements with higher educational institutions both in and outside of the Hampton Roads area.

In addition to its important role in the academic program, the newly renovated library’s 24/7 study spaces, student art gallery, and Marlin Movies collection make it a popular destination for students to pursue recreational activities, including reading, relaxing, checking e-mail, or just meeting up with friends.

The Setting

The setting of the college complements its dual commitment to the development of the intellect and to involvement in society. Nestled on a 300-acre campus in the heart of Virginia’s largest metropolitan area, the college is physically insulated from the bustle of the city traffic, and yet the vast resources of this metropolitan area are easily accessible. Regardless of their major, students are only a few minutes away from a living laboratory. The Norfolk/Virginia Beach area is one of the fastest growing urban centers on the Atlantic coast. The college offers many opportunities for students to bring the theoretical and the practical together in this rich environment.

Marlins Go Green

Virginia Wesleyan College joins the ranks of outstanding universities and colleges nationwide that are leading the “green” movement through their own special programs and initiatives. Under the leadership of President William T. (Billy) Greer, Virginia Wesleyan has made sustainability a campus-wide priority. The President’s Environmental Issues Council works with student leaders, faculty and staff to implement a variety of green programs. Virginia Wesleyan has been nationally recognized for its “green” efforts in The Princeton Review’s Guide to 311 Green Colleges: 2011 Edition.

Physical Facilities

Virginia Wesleyan’s buildings, all constructed since 1966, are situated in the midst of expansive lawns, numerous athletic fields, and pleasant woodlands. The long-range plan calls for four villages surrounding a central academic core. The following complexes and buildings, with completion dates noted, now house the college’s academic, administrative, and residential functions.

Jerry G. Bray, Jr. Village (1966)
Residence Halls: Louise W. Eggleston Hall, Abel E. and Clara Eaton Kellam Hall, Margarette Hanes Old Hall, Paul Howard Rose Hall
Academic Buildings: Birdsong Hall, Peter D. Pruden Hall, Aubrey L. Eggleston Commons

Academic Village II
Academic Buildings: Charles and Bertha Mast Graybeal Hall, Floyd E. Kellam, Jr. Social Science Center (2002)

Joan and Macom Brock Village (1993)
Residence Halls: North Hall, South Hall, Harry I. and Elizabeth W. Teagle Hall, Apartments and Townhouses (2005)

Fine Arts Building (1966) with the Edward D. Hoofheimer Theatre (1981) is home for the college’s fine arts offerings in art, music, and theatre. In this complex are the art studios, music studios and practice rooms, acting studios, and a multi-media room. The Edward D. Hoofheimer Theatre is a versatile facility that serves as a setting for theatrical instruction as well as performance.

Henry Clay Hoofheimer II Library (1969) is an attractive building that sits at the center of the campus. The building houses a variety of academic and information resources and services to support the college’s liberal arts mission. It also houses the college archives, as well as a student art exhibit gallery. The well-equipped computer lab and a variety of study, instruction, and work spaces combine to make it a versatile setting where students are free to engage in scholarly learning and research, collaboration, conversation, reading or just relaxing.

S. Frank and Wilma Williamson Blocker Hall houses the Science (1970) and Humanities Centers (1988), which have science laboratories, classrooms, the Blocker Auditorium, and faculty offices. The auditorium in this building is the setting for numerous campus events.

Robert F. and Sara M. Boyd Campus Dining Center (1991) and related facilities house the college dining hall and the private dining areas known as the Shafter Room and the Princess Anne Room. The college’s collection of memorabilia and paintings related to the life and ministry of 18th-century Anglican cleric John Wesley is on display in this facility. Adjacent to the dining center are the business office and campus post office.

Lambuth M. Clarke Hall (1998) reflects the college’s commitment to providing state of the art teaching technologies. Teaching spaces, including a tiered classroom, are equipped with computers, document cameras, and interfacing capabilities. The building also contains the Adult Studies Office, the Learning/Writing Center, the Registrar’s Office, the Center for the Study of Religious Freedom, a 24-hour computer laboratory, and faculty offices.

Katherine B. and Mills E. Godwin, Jr. Hall (1999) accommodates many of the college’s administrative offices, including the offices of the President, Provost, Admissions, Alumni Relations, College Communications, Development, and Financial Aid.

Jane P. Batten Student Center (2002) features Cunningham Gymnasium, a multi-activity athletic center; the Scrivner Bookstore, a 59-foot climbing wall, an NCAA regulation pool, an indoor jogging track, and a convocation center that serves as the home court for the men’s and women’s basketball teams. Many student services and athletic offices are housed in the Batten Center, as well as Communications laboratory space, Recreation and Leisure Studies faculty offices and Dean of Students.

Women of Wesleyan Greenhouse (1974) provides a laboratory for courses in botany and contains numerous unusual plants.

Frank E. Brown Campanile (1975) is a campus landmark that symbolizes the institution’s Christian heritage and its dedication to the continuous search for truth.

Monumental Chapel (1975) is the site of a variety of lectures, campus and community meetings, and worship services. The Monumental Chapel and Frank E. Brown Bell Tower are included in the Council of Independent Colleges’ Historic Campus Architecture Project.

Everett Tennis Center (2011), built on the foundation of the Pensfield Tennis Center, contains eight courts including two championship courts and two lighted grandstand courts. The Center features spectator-friendly fencing, an upgraded lighting system on the grandstand courts, a welcome gazebo, a viewing stand, a brick façade entrance and ample seating for fans.

Trinder Soccer-Lacrosse Center (1996) with Foster Field (1996) is the home of the college’s soccer and lacrosse programs. The center includes locker rooms, restrooms, an athletic training room, a concession stand, and a press box. Foster Field has bleacher seating for 1,000 spectators. Lights were added to the facility in 2003.

Maintenance Building (1993) houses the physical plant operations and storage facilities for the college.
Virginia Wesleyan College seeks to enroll qualified students from diverse social, religious, racial, economic, and geographic backgrounds. Admission is based solely on the applicant's academic and personal qualifications. The college does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, handicap, sex, nationality, or ethnic origin.

Admissions Calendar
High school students are encouraged to apply in the fall of their senior year for admission the following fall. Transfer students may apply during either the fall or spring semesters for admission the following semester. Although the college employs a rolling admissions process, March 1 is the preferred application deadline for fall admission. December 1 is the preferred deadline for spring admission. The college continues to accept applications after those deadlines if space is available.

The Admissions Committee begins to review completed applications from high school students in October. All applicants can expect to receive admissions notification within three weeks after all their required materials have been received. All high school applicants for admission are expected to complete their senior year of high school school satisfactorily. All new students are required to submit a completed medical form to the Health Services Office before registering for classes.

Application materials are available from the Admissions Office. Prospective students may visit the college’s home page at www.vwc.edu, e-mail the office at admissions@vwc.edu, call the office at 1-800-737-8684 or 757-455-3208, or write to the Admissions Office, Virginia Wesleyan College, 1584 Weslayan Drive, Norfolk/Virginia Beach, VA 23502-5599. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. on weekdays during the academic year and until 4 p.m. in the summer.

Campus Visits
Although a personal interview is not specifically required, interested students are encouraged to visit the campus for a tour and presentation to talk with an admissions counselor. Interested students should contact the Admissions Office to schedule a time that is convenient to meet with an admissions counselor. Tours are regularly scheduled Monday through Friday at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., and on Saturdays at 11 a.m. Prospective students may sign up for a campus visit online or simply by calling the Admissions Office at one of the numbers above. Individual tours may be scheduled throughout the year as well. The college website provides current information on Saturday open houses and other special events for prospective students.

Admission Requirements for Freshmen

Public and Private High School Students
The Admissions Committee believes that high school students who have taken a strong, academic program of at least 16 solid units are most likely to succeed in meeting the requirements of Virginia Wesleyan’s curriculum. The program should include at least four academic courses each year. Because course offerings vary among high schools, the committee does not attempt to specify all courses, but recommends that the following 12 units be included as a minimum:

- English 4
- Foreign Language (in one language) 2
- Algebra 2
- Geometry 1
- History 1
- Science 1
- Additional units should be chosen from areas of study similar to those above. The committee looks favor on Virginia’s advanced studies diploma and on comparable programs offered in other states. Students whose high school program is somewhat irregular may be considered for admission; however, their records should demonstrate high achievement and aptitude. Such students may be admitted provisionally at the discretion of the Admissions Committee.

Homeschooled Students
Virginia Wesleyan welcomes qualified homeschooled students who have completed a four-year secondary school program with strong preparation in English, foreign language, algebra, geometry, history, and science. Additional coursework should be chosen from areas of study similar to these. In some cases, the Admissions Committee may request a syllabus as part of a student transcript to aid in its decisions.

Application Materials Required for All Freshman Applicants

1. A completed application and a $40 non-refundable application fee.
2. An official high school transcript or comparable home school documentation.
3. A recommendation from a guidance counselor or home school official.
4. An official record of scores on the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) or the American College Testing Program (ACT). Applicants are responsible for arranging to take these tests and for requesting that results be sent to Virginia Wesleyan. The CEEB code for Virginia Wesleyan is 54429.
5. Students with a high school grade point average of 3.5 or above on an especially strong college preparatory curriculum may apply without submitting standardized test scores. These students must indicate on the application form that they wish to be considered “test optional.” Students whose first language is not English should submit scores for the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) (see section on international students below).

Admission Requirements for Transfer Students
For admission by transfer from another regionally accredited institution, students must submit the following materials:

1. A completed application form and a $40 non-refundable application fee.
2. Applicants who have not yet completed 12 semester hours of college work must submit an official high school transcript and an official college transcript, including SAT or ACT scores. Generally, students transferring to Virginia Wesleyan present a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher.
3. Applicants who have successfully completed 12 or more semester hours of college work must submit a high school diploma or GED (necessary for receipt of federal financial assistance) and an official college transcript.
4. Students whose first language is not English should submit scores for the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) (see section on international students below).

International Students
Virginia Wesleyan encourages freshmen and transfer applications from qualified international students. Applicants who are not residents of the United States are considered on the basis of their performance in their country’s educational system in high school and at any colleges or universities they have attended. International students should submit their applications by June 1 for fall semester and by November 1 for spring semester. Applications should include all of the materials listed above for other freshmen or transfer students. International students whose first language is not English must also submit the following:

1. A TOEFL score of at least 550 on the written test or 80 on the Internet-based exam. (Past scores of 213 for the computer-based test are still accepted.)
2. A transcript of grades from high school reported in English.
3. A recommendation from a high school official, written in English.
Immigration laws require that all international students be prepared to assume financial responsibility for their educational and living expenses. Students must submit a financial affidavit before an I-20 can be issued.

International students who have outstanding academic records and have taken the SAT exam may apply to the Admissions Office for an academic or leadership scholarship. Scholarships are awarded based on the TOEFL score, the SAT scores, the high school transcript, and a scholarship essay.

Veterans
Virginia Wesleyan is fully approved by the Commonwealth of Virginia to offer college work to applicants who qualify for veterans’ benefits. Veterans with a high school diploma or its equivalent are assured admission as veterans. Those who have attended another college may be admitted as transfer students. Veterans who have received specialized training through military service should present their credentials for review when they apply for admission to determine whether the training qualifies for college credit.

Special Students
Residents of the community who take classes at Virginia Wesleyan but are not candidates for a degree are classified as special students. Tuition and fees for special students who are taking the classes for academic credit are the same as fees for regular students. Special students seeking to transfer credit to another institution may be required to submit academic credentials or certification of good standing at the current institution. A special student who is auditing a class will receive a reduced tuition rate.

Admission is offered to outstanding high school students who demonstrate readiness to enroll in college-level classes. Interested students should contact the Admissions Office for an interview. Due to federal financial aid regulations, special students who do not have a high school diploma or equivalent cannot be considered for federal financial assistance.

Special students may apply in advance but must wait to register until other students have registered. A special student who decides to become a degree-seeking student must reapply for admission as a regular student.

Credit for Prior Learning Experiences

Advanced Placement
Virginia Wesleyan grants course credit for Advanced Placement Exams of the College Entrance Examination Board. Credit is not awarded for both an AP exam and an IB exam in the same subject. (See chart on the following page for minimum scores.)

College-Level Examination Program (CLEP)
Entering students may apply for credit in disciplines in which they have taken CLEP examinations and achieved sufficiently high scores. Current students must receive prior approval before taking CLEP examinations for credit. They may receive credit for scores on the general examinations and on the subject examinations in areas applicable to Virginia Wesleyan’s curriculum. Specific information can be obtained from the Registrar’s home page (www.vwc.edu/academics/registrar).

International Baccalaureate
Virginia Wesleyan grants advanced placement and/or credit for a score of 5 or higher on the Higher Level examinations in the International Baccalaureate (IB) program. The table below lists courses that have been reviewed and approved for credit by the college’s various academic departments. Additional IB courses not listed here may be reviewed as necessary. No credit is awarded for Subsidiary Level examinations. Credit is not awarded for both an IB exam and an AP exam in the same subject.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Tuition and Fees

Virginia Wesleyan College holds tuition and other expenses to the minimum necessary for providing quality education and maintaining a fiscally responsible operation. Tuition and fees paid by students do not cover the actual cost of their education. Grants and gifts received by the college through the generosity of the United Methodist Church, foundations, friends, and others help to reduce the difference between income and costs. Basic tuition and fees for students entering the college for the academic year 2011-2012 are as follows:

Tuition $ 29,178
Double Room $ 7,988
Damage Deposit $ 150
Technology Fee $ 300

*Cost of rooms in East, Johnson, Village III, apartments, townhouses and singles is higher.

(New freshmen and transfer students may estimate the cost of attendance by accessing the Marlin Cost Calculator online at http://ww2.vwc.edu/admissions.)

Tuition for Part-time Enrollment and Course Overloads: Tuition for students enrolled for fewer than 12 semester hours in a semester is $1,216 per semester hour. A student may take more than 18 hours only with the permission of the faculty advisor and the Dean of the College, a student with such permission may take up to 20 hours in either the fall or spring semester of a given academic year without incurring additional tuition beyond the full-time charge. A student who is enrolled for more than 20 hours at the conclusion of the add/drop period of a given semester will incur a $1,216 charge for each hour in excess of 20. A student who exceeds 38 hours during a given academic year (fall and spring semesters, Winter Session) will incur a $1,216 charge for each hour beyond the limit.

Occasional Fees: Students who enroll in certain courses are charged a materials fee as listed for each course. Those who enrolled in applied music courses incur additional charges for private lessons. In cases where damage to college property occurs, the student(s) involved are charged a fee to cover repairs or replacement.

Payment of Tuition and Fees

The college bills students each semester for tuition, room, and meals. Charges for the fall semester are due and payable no later than July 31, 2011. Charges for the spring semester are due and payable no later than November 30, 2011. Miscellaneous charges are due in full when billed.

The schedule for payment is as follows:

Resident Student (double room)
March 30 (deposit) $ 300
July 31 18,783
November 30 18,583

Commuter Student
March 30 (deposit) $ 300
July 31 14,789
November 30 14,589

New students who have not completed their financial arrangements will be delayed in being processed for registration. Continuing students who have not taken care of their financial arrangements as noted above will have their advance registration schedules delayed.

Refund Policy: Because the college must make financial commitments for the entire year, tuition and room deposits are non-refundable. No refund, rebate or reduction of fees is made because of late entrance or withdrawal from courses. Students who withdraw from the college completely may receive a partial refund as follows: 90% during the first week of classes, 50% the second week, and 25% the third week. After the third week of classes, there is no refund.

Administrative Withdrawal for Non-Attendance: Students who register for a semester of coursework but do not attend class sessions of any of their courses during the first two full weeks of the semester are withdrawn from the college administratively and notified of that action by a letter sent to both home and campus addresses. Those students are responsible for 50% of tuition and room charges.

This policy does not apply to students who attend some but not all of their courses. They remain enrolled in the college and receive grades in courses that they did not attend but did not formally drop. Students are responsible for all tuition and fees charged for those courses.

Students who withdraw from or stop attending classes for which they are registered: The Financial Aid Office is required by federal statute to recalculate federal Title IV financial aid eligibility for students who withdraw, drop out, are dismissed, or take a leave of absence prior to completing 60% of a payment period or term.

If a student leaves the institution prior to completing 60% of a payment period or term, the Financial Aid Office recalculates eligibility for Title IV funds. Recalculation is based on the percentage of earned aid using the following Federal Return of Title IV funds formula:

\text{Percentage of payment period or term completed} = \frac{\text{the number of days completed}}{\text{the number of days in the term}} \times 100\%

If a student earned more aid than was disbursed to him/her, the institution would owe the student a post-withdrawal disbursement, which must be paid within 120 days of the student’s withdrawal.

The institution must return the amount of Title IV funds for which it is responsible no later than 45 days after the date of the determination of the date of the student’s withdrawal.

Students who withdraw from courses after the first two weeks of classes must also return a portion of the funds. The federal regulations require that Title IV funds be returned to the respective funds from which the student received funds. When Title IV funds are returned, the student borrower may owe a debit balance to the institution.

If a student earned more aid than was disbursed to him/her, the institution would owe the student a post-withdrawal disbursement, which must be paid within 120 days of the student’s withdrawal.

Refunds are allocated in the following order:

- Unsubsidized Direct Stafford Loans (other than PLUS loans)
- Subsidized Direct Stafford Loans
- Federal Perkins Loans
- Direct PLUS Loans
- Federal Pell Grants
- Federal Supplemental Opportunity Grants
- Other Title IV assistance

Financial Aid

Virginia Wesleyan believes that no student should be denied the opportunity to attend because of limited financial resources. The Financial Aid staff is available to counsel with students and their families regarding financial assistance.

Students who demonstrate financial need may qualify for grants, low-interest loans, and the work-study program. To be considered for financial aid, students must submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), which is available from the Financial Aid Office, from the high school guidance counselor, or online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Financial aid is granted on an annual basis, and each student’s need is re-evaluated each year. First preference is given to applicants who meet the March 1 priority mailing deadline.

Virginia Wesleyan also offers academic scholarships, without regard to need, to entering freshmen and transfer students with outstanding academic records.
Aid Programs:

Federal Pell Grant

- Amount: $555-$5,550 grant (Amount subject to change based on federal funding.)
- Eligibility: Demonstrated need

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

- Amount: $1,000-$2,000 grant (Amount subject to change based on federal funding.)
- Eligibility: Demonstrated need

Federal Work-Study (FWS)

- Amount: $1,500 award
- Eligibility: Demonstrated need

Federal Perkins Loan

- Amount: $1,000-$2,000 loan
- Eligibility: Demonstrated need

Federal Direct Stafford Student Loan Programs

- Amount: Up to half tuition for eight semesters
- Eligibility: Full-time enrollment in day program.

Virginia Tuition Assistance Grant (VTAG)

- Application: VTAG application
- Amount: $2,700 (2011-2012)
- Eligibility: No need requirement; based on academic achievement.

Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

- Amount: $1,000-$2,000 grant
- Eligibility: Demonstrated need

Phi Theta Kappa Scholarship

- Amount: $1,000-$2,000 grant
- Eligibility: Member of Phi Theta Kappa, at least 24 transferable semester hours.

Christian Service Scholarship

- Amount: Varies
- Eligibility: Christian Service Agreement/Grant

Sons/Daughters and Spouses of Clergy

- Amount: Varies
- Eligibility: Full-time enrollment in day program.

VWC Merit Scholarships:

- Wesleyan Scholars
  - Application: Wesleyan Scholar Competition
  - Filing deadline: January 1
  - Amount: Up to full tuition and fees for four years
  - Eligibility: No need requirement; based on academic credentials, essays, and interviews

- Presidential Scholarship
  - Application: VWC Admission Application
  - Filing deadline: March 15
  - Eligibility: No need requirement; based on academic achievement, SAT scores, GPA

- Academic Dean Scholarship
  - Application: VWC Admission Application
  - Filing deadline: March 15
  - Eligibility: No need requirement; based on academic achievement, SAT scores, GPA

VWC Award

- Application: VWC Admission Application
- Filing deadline: March 15
- Eligibility: No need requirement; based on academic achievement, SAT scores, GPA

Transfer Scholarships

- Application: VWC Admission Application
- Amount: Varies
- Eligibility: No need requirement; based on academic achievement.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Standard for Financial Aid Eligibility

All continuing students must be making satisfactory academic progress to be considered for financial aid, which includes Pell Grants, Supplemental Grants, Federal Work Study, Perkins Loans, Stafford Loans, and PLUS Loans; as well as institutional funds such as faculty and staff tuition remissions, ministers’ dependent grants, Christian Service loans, need-based grants, etc.

Full-Time Students

- Filing deadline: March 15
- Eligibility: No need requirement; based on academic achievement.

- Transfer Scholarships
  - Application: VWC Admission Application
  - Amount: Varies
  - Eligibility: No need requirement; based on academic achievement.

- Phi Theta Kappa Scholarship

Part-Time Students

Part-time students receiving financial aid are expected to progress at proportionately the same rate as full-time students. They are limited to 12 academic years of aid eligibility.

Transfer Students

The satisfactory progress of transfer students receiving financial aid is based on a student’s class status at the time of enrollment at Virginia Wesleyan.

Probation

At the end of each semester, all students receiving financial aid are evaluated for satisfactory academic progress. Any student who is not maintaining satisfactory progress is mailed a warning letter and is placed on probation for the following semester.

Suspension of Aid

A student who is not making satisfactory academic progress at the end of a probationary semester receives a letter indicating termination of financial aid for the following semester. The student may use the summer session or the next semester without aid to regain eligibility for financial aid for the following semester.

Appeals

Students who believe extenuating circumstances led to their unsatisfactory progress may appeal their suspension of aid by writing a letter of appeal to the Financial Aid Committee, c/o the Financial Aid Office. The letter must explain why the student was unable to meet the minimum standards and outline a plan for achieving those standards in the future. The Financial Aid Committee will review the case and notify the student of its decision in a timely manner.
The Educational Program

Virginia Wesleyan College endeavors to provide students with a sound liberal arts education that prepares them for effective living. Such an education must have qualities of breadth, depth, and flexibility.

Today's society requires educated specialists in many areas; however, the times also demand broadly educated individuals who understand their disciplines in the context of the society and in relation to the future. As a society we need liberally educated adults who possess the breadth of understanding and insight to meet the needs of a rapidly changing world and to respond creatively to lifelong opportunities for personal enrichment. The college's general studies program speaks particularly to this need for breadth.

A liberally educated person has also experienced the discipline of mastering a particular field of knowledge. Virginia Wesleyan's curriculum unites breadth with depth by combining general studies with intensified studies in a major field chosen by the end of the sophomore year.

Finally, a strong liberal arts program has flexibility. It allows students to choose courses that add to the breadth provided by the general studies program and the depth provided by the major. Approximately one-third of the courses students take at Virginia Wesleyan are electives. Students also find that they have many choices in selecting courses to fulfill the general studies requirements. They work closely with their faculty advisors to develop personal educational goals and to select courses that will enable them to attain those goals.

Divisional Structure

Virginia Wesleyan's academic program is administered through the Division of Humanities, the Division of Natural Sciences and Mathematics, and the Division of Social Sciences. The divisional structure affords opportunities for interdisciplinary communication and action not normally afforded by a departmental structure. The following disciplines are included in each of the divisions:

The Division of Humanities

Art/Art History
Classics
Communication
English
French
German
History
Journalism
Latin
Music
Philosophy
Religious Studies
Spanish
Theatre

The Division of Natural Sciences and Mathematics

Biology
Chemistry
Computer Science
Earth and Environmental Sciences
Environmental Studies
Mathematics
Physical Science
Physics

The Division of Social Sciences

American Studies
Business
Education/Special Education
Geography
Health and Human Services/Social Work
History
Political Science
Psychology
Recreation and Leisure Studies
Sociology and Criminal Justice

While the primary responsibility for getting fully involved in the academic program rests with the student, the interchange that takes place between students and faculty is a very important part of the learning process. Because the campus is small, and because of their interest in students, faculty members are generally accessible and ready to assist.

The Baccalaurate Degree

The liberal arts program at Virginia Wesleyan College offers a bachelor of arts degree and a bachelor of science degree with numerous options for majors in the humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences. Students carrying the normal course load of 16 semester hours can expect to graduate after eight semesters. The specific requirements for graduation are described in this section of the catalog. The following majors and degrees are offered:

Additional Baccalaurate Degree

Students may earn a maximum of one B.A. and one B.S. at Virginia Wesleyan by fulfilling the requirements for each degree, either separately or concurrently. Students who have completed one degree and wish to complete a second degree must earn a minimum of 32 additional semester hours beyond the first degree. These 32 hours must be in traditionally graded courses. At least 24 of the 32 hours must be at the 300/400 level, and at least 20 must be in the major field. The grade point average for the second degree is separate from the grade point average for the initial degree unless completed concurrently.

A student pursuing two degrees concurrently at Virginia Wesleyan must earn a minimum of 160 semester hours.

A degree may not be earned by combining partial requirements for a B.A. with partial requirements for a B.S., nor may a second degree be awarded with a major in the same academic field as the first degree. Graduation requirements and limitations, in addition to specific requirements for the major and minor, are the same for B.A. and B.S. degrees and may serve to fulfill the requirements of both degrees.

Once a baccalaureate degree has been awarded, the GPA for the degree is frozen. Subsequent coursework and grades are not calculated into the initial GPA for the degree. Coursework completed as part of the initial degree may be repeated, but the subsequent grade does not replace the initial grade. All courses and grades from Virginia Wesleyan are included in the academic record, and grades earned in courses for both degrees are calculated into the overall Virginia Wesleyan GPA. Coursework that repeats credit applied toward an initial degree does not count toward the 32 additional hours in residence that are required for a subsequent degree.

All requirements in effect at the time of graduation must be satisfied. All holders of a bachelor's degree are subject to the academic requirements and regulations for seniors. Such students are eligible for scholarships and awards and recognition including Dean's List, Honorable Mention List, and honor societies. Candidates for Latin honors must earn a minimum of 60 semester hours at Virginia Wesleyan.

If in the judgment of the faculty in the major area, the earlier work of a student does not adequately cover more recent advances or needs in the field, the student may be required to repeat certain courses or otherwise make up the deficiency. These requirements should be established at an early date. They must have the approval of the division chair in the major and be kept on file in the Registrar's Office.
3. Foreign Language Proficiency

(4 semester hours)

All students must demonstrate proficiency in a language other than English, equivalent to the minimal passing grade on the exit examination in the 213 course. For modern languages this level is defined in the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) proficiency guidelines as the Intermediate-Mid level for speaking, listening, reading and writing. For Latin, this level is defined by the advanced progress indicators of the American Philological Association's Standard for Classical Learning.

Entering students may demonstrate proficiency by presenting a score of at least 600 on the CEEB Foreign Language Achievement test or a 4 or 5 on the Advanced Placement exam. (Eight semester hours are awarded for a score of 5, and four semester hours for a score of 4.) Students who score below 600 on the CEEB Achievement test, below a 4 on the Advanced Placement exam, or below the minimal level on the college's own placement exam are placed in a foreign language course of their choice at the level determined by the foreign languages and literatures faculty. They must take the necessary coursework to attain the required level of proficiency.

Transfer students may demonstrate foreign language proficiency either through coursework completed at Virginia Wesleyan or by transfer credit. Transfer students must transfer at least one course from another college or university to receive credit for foreign language proficiency. Students who transfer in 64 or more semester hours of coursework must complete a language course. Students who transfer in 64 or more semester hours of coursework must complete a language course.

4. Laboratory Science (L)

(4 semester hours)

All students must successfully complete a Laboratory Science (L) course offered in the Division of Natural Sciences and Mathematics. Some laboratory courses may also carry a Quantitative Perspective (Q) designation. (See Frames of Reference below.) Students must satisfy their Q and L requirements with different courses.

Frames of Reference and the Senior Integrative Experience

(28 semester hours)

1. Aesthetic Understanding (A)

(4 semester hours)

Courses bearing the Aesthetic Understanding (A) designation explore visual art, music, theatre, and/or film. These courses offer students the opportunity to understand our cultural heritage as expressed in works of artistic expression created by others and/or to create these kinds of works themselves. Students study the creative process itself to understand and evaluate works intended to provoke an aesthetic response.

Goals:
• To become acquainted with major achievements in the arts.
• To explore the cultural and historical context of artistic achievements.
• To learn techniques for critical analysis and appreciation of works of art.
• To achieve an appropriate vocabulary with which to articulate this knowledge.
• In classes focusing on creative expression, to learn the mechanics, discipline, and value of creating works intended to evoke an aesthetic response.

2. Historical Perspectives (H)

(4 semester hours)

Courses bearing the Historical Perspectives (H) designation focus on how societies change over time, including how politics, values, beliefs, ideas, cultures, and individuals, interact with and reflect society. These courses interpret primary materials in their historical contexts. This emphasis on historical context excludes courses that are focused on a specific discipline (i.e., the history of art). (See Frames of Reference below.)

Goals:
• To demonstrate understanding of how societies change over time.
• To learn how to interpret and evaluate primary materials in their historical contexts and from later historical perspectives.
• To construct strong arguments about historical developments based on the study of primary material.

3. Quantitative Perspectives (Q)

(4 semester hours)

Courses bearing the Quantitative Perspectives (Q) designation focus on the analysis of data or models. These courses emphasize critical reflection on the performance, accuracy, applicability, and soundness of conclusions based on data or mathematical models.

All Q courses have a mathematics placement prerequisite. The math placement codes indicate levels of mathematics preparation for incoming students. A student's application file, transcripts, and SAT or ACT scores form the basis for placement. The levels are coded by letters: H, A, B, C, D. Students may challenge their placements by contacting the Mathematics Department coordinator.

Students who receive a placement level of D must take Math 605, which does not satisfy the Q requirement. Students who successfully complete 605 are expected to enroll in a course that does satisfy the requirement: Math 104 is suggested. Students who receive a placement level of C must take Math 104, which does satisfy the Q requirement.

Students who receive a placement level of B, A, or H may enroll in courses that bear their placement level as a minimum prerequisite. For instance, students with A placement may take B placement courses. Placement levels are listed in the prerequisite section for each Q course. Students who receive a placement level of H should consult with a member of the Mathematics Department regarding upper-level work.

Goals:
• To study varied approaches to quantitative methods and the critical analysis of data and/or mathematical models.
• To understand the application of quantitative reasoning to real world situations by using authentic numerical data whenever possible.
• To recognize the limits of quantitative methods in particular contexts.
• To read, construct, interpret, and evaluate tables, graphs, charts, data, and/or mathematical models.

4. Institutional and Cultural Systems (S)

(4 semester hours)

Courses bearing the Institutional and Cultural Systems (S) designation focus on human society and its attempts to attain goals valued collectively. Special emphasis is placed on developing a better and deeper critical understanding of the institutions and cultural systems that play an increasingly significant role in contemporary life.

Goals:
• To explore different ways of defining society, including learning to recognize various types of social phenomena and distinguishing types of social organizations.
5. Literary Textual Analysis (T) (4 semester hours)

- 200-level courses bearing the Literary Textual Analysis (T) designation are designed primarily to help students to refine their writing and literary analytical skills. These courses emphasize the thoughtful production of written work; the interpretation of rhetorical, symbolic and figurative language; and the meaning of implicit argumentation.

Goals:
- To develop analytical skills for dealing with literary texts that present interpretive arguments in clear, well-organized essays.
- To understand how to read literary texts that use implicit arguments, the role that figurative language plays in the creation of such implicit arguments, and how such a mode builds upon more fundamental textual analysis, which includes the use of symbolic and figurative language; reference, and metaphor, and how such a mode builds upon more fundamental textual analytical skills.
- To understand the literary mode of textual analysis, which includes the use of symbolic and figurative use of language, intertextual reference, and metaphor, and how such a mode builds upon more fundamental textual analytical skills.
- To develop conceptual tools and analytical skills for understanding and criticizing faith perspectives and religious heritages shape worldviews, actions, and interactions with society.

6. Ethical Values and Faith Perspectives (V) (4 semester hours)

Courses bearing the Ethical Values and Faith Perspectives (V) designation explore one of two possible areas of knowledge or a combination of both.

Ethical Values: Such courses are designed to prepare students to analyze moral and ethical problems, propose solutions, and make responsible decisions.

Goals:
- To identify moral and ethical issues.
- To develop analytical skills for dealing with these issues.

Faith Perspectives: Such courses are designed to prepare students to recognize how faith perspectives and religious heritages shape worldviews; to enable students to analyze, compare, and interpret historical religious traditions; and to help students recognize the implications of those traditions for individuals and societies.

Goals:
- To identify the worldview and value systems of various faith perspectives.
- To recognize how faith perspectives shape worldviews, actions, and interactions with society.
- To develop conceptual tools and analytical skills for understanding and critiquing faith and value experiences in a rational way.

7. Senior Integrative Experience (I) (4 semester hours)

The Senior Integrative Experience is designed as a capstone experience for the General Studies Program. Courses bearing the Senior Integrative Experience (I) designation are designed to help students understand how the above six Frames of Reference are interconnected across the liberal arts curriculum. Because solutions to complex world problems require a mature, holistic, and interdisciplinary approach, students must include in their thinking the insights and perspectives of different subject areas while synthesizing these diverse approaches to learning into a coherent worldview.

Goals:
- To review the differing methods and perspectives that characterize each of the Frames of Reference categories.
- To reflect on the interconnectedness of those methods and perspectives.
- To demonstrate understanding of that interconnectedness through a major project or group of assignments.
- To understand both the logical and the personal and social consequences of moral stands.

Major's
Each student must successfully complete at least one of the five types of majors offered by the college. The student must choose a major and designate a major advisor by the end of the sophomore year. Forms for completing this process are available on the Registrar's home page or in the Registrar's Office. Students may change majors at any time by filing a new declaration. The declaration of a comprehensive liberal studies, divisional, interdisciplinary, or individualized major must be filed at least three semesters before a student's anticipated graduation.

Other Graduation Requirements
Total Semester Hours: Students must complete at least 128 semester hours of academic coursework, two-thirds of which must be traditionally graded.

Grade Point Average: Students must have at least a 2.0 (C) grade point average in the major and at least a 2.0 cumulative average. The comprehensive liberal studies and the history and social sciences majors require a 2.5 average. The individualized major requires a 2.7 average.

Residence Requirement: Students eligible to graduate with 120 semester hours must complete their last 30 semester hours and at least 15 semester hours in their major area in residence at Virginia Wesleyan. Students required to complete 128 semester hours to graduate must complete their last 32 hours and at least 16 semester hours in their major area in residence at Virginia Wesleyan.

First-Year Experience: Freshmen and transfer students with fewer than 12 semester hours must complete FYE 101 First-Year Experience. This course, which is paired with a 4 semester hour course chosen by the student from the college's offerings, is designed to help students engage and succeed both academically and socially in Virginia Wesleyan's academic community. Led by a faculty mentor, a small, close-knit group of new students engage in an array of activities and exercises that invite them to explore the liberal arts, connect to the campus community, and develop the personal resourcefulness that leads to success in college.

Oral Communication Proficiency: All students must demonstrate the ability to speak well in the English language. Each academic major has an approved plan to help students develop effective speaking skills and to assess their competency in oral communication.

Foreign Language Proficiency: All students must demonstrate proficiency in a language other than English. Details about satisfying the language proficiency requirement may be found in the "Program of General Studies" section of the catalog.

Computer Literacy: All entering students should have basic computer skills, including e-mail, word processing, and accessing information on the Internet. In addition, students graduating from Virginia Wesleyan must meet discipline-specific standards of computer literacy established for their major programs.

Application for Graduation
Degrees are conferred in May, August, and December. Each candidate for a degree is required to file an Application for Graduation according to the following schedule:

See Two-Course Rule for August Candidates.

The Application for Graduation can be found on WebAdvisor.

Commencement Exercises: Students are eligible to participate in the first May commencement exercises held after they have completed all graduation requirements. Potential December graduates are also encouraged to attend the December reception held for them.

Two-Course Rule for August Candidates: At the end of the spring semester, if a potential graduate has at most two courses to complete, the student may obtain permission from the Registrar's Office to participate in May commencement exercises. To secure such permission, a student must:

- have submitted an Application for Graduation by the mandated deadline the previous September;
- have at most two courses remaining to complete all graduation requirements;
- have at least a 2.0 overall grade point average;
Major Programs

Each student is required to choose a major field of concentration and to complete requirements as indicated below.

There are five types of majors: the comprehensive liberal studies, departmental, the divisional, the interdisciplinary, and the individualized major.

Comprehensive Liberal Studies Major

The Comprehensive Liberal Studies Major (CLS) offers an opportunity to design a unique program of study based upon the interdisciplinary nature of the liberal arts. Students and faculty advisors create individual CLS majors by choosing courses that have a unifying focus or theme. Interested students should review the detailed guidelines that appear on pages 80 and 81 of the catalog.

Students seeking teacher licensure with endorsement in Elementary Education (preK-6) or Special Education: General Curriculum (K-12) must complete a major that reflects the interdisciplinary and interdependent nature of the liberal arts. The 55-60 semester hour Comprehensive Liberal Studies major consists of at least 27 in an individualized major; and • enroll in Virginia Wesleyan’s summer sessions to complete the remaining graduation requirements.

For purposes of determining two courses, the following applies: an internship is considered one course, regardless of the number of semester hours it carries; a science course together with a co-requisite lab is considered one course.

If the student receives permission to participate in the commencement, special notice will be made of the student’s status as a May candidate, and the degree will be conferred in May upon successful completion of the remaining courses. Honors status will not be determined until all summer coursework is completed.

A student who has participated in the May commencement exercises as an August candidate may not participate in a later commencement. If a student has not completed all degree requirements by August 15, the degree will be conferred at the next conferral date—December, May, or August—following successful completion of all degree requirements.

The Departmental Major

A departmental major consists of at least 24 semester hours. No more than 42 semester hours may be required in one department, although at least 20 semester hours must be in the major discipline. At least 18 semester hours of the total must be at the 300/400 level.

The following departmental majors are offered at Virginia Wesleyan: Art, Biology, Chemistry, Communication, Computer Science, Criminal Justice, Earth and Environmental Sciences, English, French Studies, German Studies, Hispanic Studies, History, Latin, Mathematics, Music, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Religious Studies, Sociology, Theatre, and Theatre and English.

Specific requirements for each of these major programs may be found in the ‘Design Your Future—Courses and Programs’ section of this catalog.

The Social Sciences Divisional Major

The Social Sciences Divisional Major (SSDM) is designed for students with a natural curiosity in several fields of study across the spectrum of the social sciences. The major consists of 48 semester hours and has an area of concentration and two enrichment areas, one of which must be drawn from the disciplines of history, political science, psychology or sociology.

When formally declaring this major, a student must file a Declaration of Major form with the Registrar’s Office at least two semesters before graduation, summer not counting as a semester.

Details about this major may be found in the ‘Design Your Future—Courses and Programs’ section of this catalog.

Interdisciplinary Major

Students may choose one of nine interdisciplinary majors: American Studies, Business Classical Studies, Environmental Studies, Health and Human Services/ Social Work, International Studies, Recreation and Leisure Studies, History and Social Sciences, and Women’s and Gender Studies.

As its name implies, an interdisciplinary major cuts across departmental lines and brings together related courses in various disciplines. Each interdisciplinary major supports a variety of career interests.

Students interested in pursuing an interdisciplinary major should consult the designated faculty coordinator or the Dean of the College. They must file a Declaration of Major form with the Registrar’s Office at least three semesters before graduation, summer not counting as a semester. Details for specific programs are found in the alphabetical listing of majors and courses in ‘Design Your Future—Courses and Programs’ section of this catalog.

The Individualized Studies Major

A student who has discovered a well-defined problem area or theme that cannot be addressed through Virginia Wesleyan’s established major programs may develop an individualized major.

Because this type of study requires considerable initiative and imagination, students pursuing this option must demonstrate preparedness by having completed at least 32 credit hours of college work with an overall GPA of at least 2.7. At least 16 semester hours must have been completed in residence.

Eligible students must identify an advisory board consisting of a faculty sponsor and two additional faculty members. The members of the advisory board must be familiar with the student’s academic work or have expertise in the proposed area of study. In consultation with these faculty, the student will develop a comprehensive academic plan of study, to include coursework in at least two different departments/programs.

The major must reflect between 40 and 48 semester hours of approved coursework, with at least 20 hours at the 300/400 level, including a senior thesis or capstone project. No more than two courses may count toward both the major and general studies requirements.

The proposal must be completed and submitted to the office of the Dean of the College for approval before the student has completed 54 semester hours, which is typically before the end of the student’s sophomore year. In unusual cases where a student can show progress already made toward the proposed major, the student may submit a proposal during the subsequent semester, but in no cases after the student has completed 80 or more semester hours. The deadline for the proposal is April 15 for a spring semester submission and November 15 for a fall semester submission. If the proposal is approved and completed, the student’s transcript will describe the major as “Individualized Studies.”

The application form for the Individualized Major can be found through the Registrar’s home page.

Minors: In addition to a major program, students have the option of completing one or more minors. This choice must be approved by a full-time faculty member of the department in which the minor will be completed, who will certify that the student has completed the requirements for the minor prior to graduation. No more than 6 semester hours taken to fulfill requirements for a student’s major (or majors) may also be used to fulfill requirements for a minor. A course used to fulfill requirements for a minor may be used to fulfill a General Studies requirement. Students with Advanced Placement credit should consult the specific department to determine whether those semester hours can be included as part of the minor. Application for Minor forms are due in the Registrar’s Office by March 1 for May or August graduation and by October 1 for December graduation.

The requirements for a minor shall consist of a minimum of 20 semester hours and a maximum of 28 semester hours (traditionally graded). Twelve hours must be at the 200 level or above, and at least 8 of those hours must be at the 300 level or above. A minimum of 12 hours must be taken in residence at VWC. A 2.0 GPA (C average) is required for all courses taken in the minor field. Students may not complete a minor in the same area(s) as their major(s). The requirements for each minor are listed in the appropriate section of this catalog that deals with that discipline.

Summary of course and credit requirements for minors:

• A minimum of five courses (20 hours)
• A maximum of seven courses (28 hours)
• Two courses may overlap with other major(s) or minor(s)
• Three courses at the 200 level or above, at least two of which are at the 300 level or above.

Other Academic Policies
Registration: By the beginning of each semester, students are required to formally register for classes. Currently enrolled students should register during advance registration for maximum opportunities to obtain a satisfactory class schedule. Late registration extends through the first five days of the fall or spring semester. Students should refer to the Registrar’s home page for registration information and for details concerning course offerings, procedures, and requirements.

Course Loads: A full-time student is one who carries at least 12 semester hours per semester. A student who carries fewer than 12 semester hours is classified as a part-time student. The maximum academic credit load for a student on academic probation is 12 semester hours.

• Any student with a cumulative grade point average of less than 2.0 is limited to 14 semester hours.
• The maximum academic credit load for a student with a cumulative grade point average between 2.0 and 2.49 is 16 semester hours.
• The maximum academic credit load for a student with a cumulative grade point average of 2.5 or above is 18 semester hours.

All semester hours of “Incomplete” from the previous term (counting summer and Winter Session as a term) are considered part of the student’s academic load.

Adding and Dropping Courses: Students may add or drop a course, or change a section of a course through WebAdvisor or by completing a Course Selection form at the Registrar’s Office. Students wishing to add a course after the first week of classes must have the approval of the professor. The added course will increase the total number of hours a student’s course load even though the student may have dropped another course (see “Withdrawal from Course”).

Dropping a course after the first week of classes does not reduce the total number of semester hours charged for the semester. Drops after the first week of classes and prior to the automatic “WF” period (see Academic Calendar) result in a grade of W, WF, WU, or WP, as determined by the professor. From the beginning of the automatic “WF” period until the last day of classes for the semester, a drop will result in an automatic WF or WU. Exceptions to this policy may be made for students who withdraw from the college for reasons of documented illness.

Auditing Courses: Students may audit a course by choosing this option at the time of registration and with the written permission of the instructor, the student’s advisor, and the Dean of the College. The fee for auditing courses is the same as for other courses.

Informal arrangements for auditing are sometimes possible with the permission of the faculty member, but in such instances, the course does not appear as part of the student’s permanent record.

Class Attendance Policy: The college expects students to attend all class meetings in courses in which they are enrolled. Each professor sets an attendance policy and includes it in the course syllabus. Professors best understand the responsibilities of individual students in their courses; thus they have sole authority over course attendance policies as they evaluate all excuses for absence and decide whether to permit students to make up work missed. Professors may request written confirmation of illness from the Health Services director or from a physician. They may request written confirmation of other significant reasons for absence from the Dean of Students.

Early Alert System: The college has established the Early Alert System to identify students experiencing academic difficulty and to provide appropriate counseling, tutorial, and advising services to enable such students to succeed in their coursework. The purpose of the system is to help every student achieve success, and the reporting and record keeping are strictly non-punitive.

When a student fails to attend class, struggles to complete assignments, performs poorly on examinations or papers, or otherwise encounters problems in coping with academic life, a faculty or staff member who has direct knowledge of the student’s situation may file an online report to the director of Early Alert, who then links the student to appropriate campus personnel who can address the student’s needs.

The Early Alert System notifies affected course instructors, counselors, faculty advisors, coaches, and support staff of the record of institutional intervention on a need-to-know basis. Sharing of Early Alert information beyond those faculty and staff with a direct interest in an individual student’s case is subject to the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

Grading System: Virginia Wesleyan College uses a 4.0 grading system. The table below lists the letter grades that professors use, the meaning of each letter grade, and the number of quality points that each grade represents. Quality points are used to determine a student’s grade point average (GPA). The procedure for calculating a GPA is described below, under “Grade Point Averages.”

Pass/Fail Grades: Some courses are offered only on a pass/fail basis and are so noted in the class schedule for a given semester. Students also have the option in a given semester of electing to take one traditionally graded course on a pass/fail basis, provided that the course is not required to fulfill general college requirements, or any part of the student’s major or minor program, or a repeat of a course originally taken as a traditionally graded course. Also, the course may not be used to fulfill the requirements for graduation with honors. To place a course on pass/fail, a student must obtain the advisor’s signature on a Pass/Fail form and return the form to the Registrar’s Office before the end of the third week of the fall or spring semester or before the end of the first week of a summer session.

The following limitations apply: In any given semester, students may not enroll for more than one-third of their academic load in pass/fail courses except on the written recommendation of their advisor and the approval of the Dean of the College. No more than one-third of a student’s total hours offered for graduation may consist of courses graded on a pass/fail basis.

Pass/fail grading may not be chosen for any honors seminar or for any course challenged for the H grade.

Incomplete: An Incomplete is given at the discretion of the professor when circumstances beyond the control of the student prevent the completion of course requirements. Incomplete work must be made up during the ensuing term, with summer counting as a term, so that a letter grade can be turned in to the Registrar no later than the last day of classes. Otherwise, a grade of Incomplete is recorded as a grade of F. Any exception to this policy requires approval of the Dean of the College prior to the stated deadline.

Grade Changes: A request for a grade change must be submitted by the faculty member to the Dean of the College for approval. Any change of grade from a previous assignment may be made within 12 months of the issuance of a grade.

Course Grade Appeal Process: A student who believes that he or she has received an unjust course grade may appeal the grade. The burden of proof of injustice rests with the student. A student pursuing an appeal must follow these steps:

1. First, the student must review the course syllabus for the grading policy and calculate a legitimate grade, based on all tests, papers, and other work graded by the faculty member during the semester.
2. If the student still believes the grade is in error, then no later than the end of the second week of the subsequent semester, summer or counting as a semester, the student must confer directly with the faculty member who assigned the grade, bringing to the meeting all graded work required for the course.
3. If after this meeting the student is still not satisfied with the faculty member's decision, then no later than the end of the fifth week of the same semester, the student must prepare and send to the Dean of the College a written appeal with all supporting evidence. At the same time, the student must send copies of all materials to the faculty member. After consultation with both the student and the faculty member, the Dean of the College, if she or he believes the case so warrants, calls together the members of the department in whose course the work was taken. This process is intended to ensure fairness and to ensure that all supporting materials are seen by neutral parties. After this consultation with the Dean of the College and the other members of the department, the faculty member makes the final determination.

Repeating a Course: Students will ordinarily be permitted only once to repeat a course for which they have been charged quality points, and then only if the original grade was below a C (2.0). However, students with a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or above may take for a third time a course not previously passed if they obtain the written recommendation of their advisor and the approval of the Dean of the College, who will consult with any professor who has previously taught the course, or with the coordinator of the department in which the course was taught.

When a student repeats a course, all previous grades for that course remain on the transcript, but only the most recent grade is used in computing the grade point average.

Grade Point Averages: A student's major and cumulative grade point averages are computed on work taken at Virginia Wesleyan, exclusive of pass/fail courses. Coursework taken on a cross-registration basis is also included in the Virginia Wesleyan grade point average, again exclusive of pass/fail courses.

A student's grade point average is calculated by dividing the total number of quality points earned at Virginia Wesleyan by the total number of semester hours attempted at Virginia Wesleyan, including failures and withdraw failures. Courses in which the mark was WP or W and courses taken on a pass/fail basis, are not included when computing the grade point average. In the case of repeated courses, only the semester hours and the grade points from the most recent attempt are used in the computation.

When completing the procedure for computing a grade point average:

1. A student who completes 16 semester hours with 12 semester hours of C and 4 semester hours of S has earned 24 quality points for the C's and no quality points for the S. To find the student's average, divide 24 quality points earned by the 12 semester hours of traditionally graded work attempted to find the grade point average of 2.0.
2. A student who completes 16 semester hours with 4 semester hours of B, 4 of C+, 4 of C, 4 of D, and 4 of F has earned 24 quality points for the B, 9.32 for the C+, 6.68 for the C, 4.0 for the D, and 0 for the F; for a total of 32 quality points. Divide the 32 quality points by the 16 semester hours to find the grade point average of 2.0.
3. A student's grade point average is computed under these rules by considering only courses undertaken in a given semester. The cumulative grade point average of all work taken at Virginia Wesleyan is simply computed by considering all traditionally graded courses undertaken. A cumulative grade point average cannot be computed by averaging semester grade point averages.

Final Examinations: Final examinations are given in most courses during the final examination period at the end of each term. Any student who has three examinations scheduled for three successive exam periods should discuss a possible schedule adjustment with the faculty members in the department course.

Midterm and Final Grade Reports: The college provides mid-semester progress reports for students with comments for students with midterm grades of C- or below. These may be viewed on WebAdvisor on the college's home page beginning in the eighth week of each semester. Students with grades in need of improvement should consult their professors and advisors for suggestions. Final grades may be viewed and/or printed directly from WebAdvisor.
A student who has been academically dismissed may apply for readmission once, and only after meeting the criteria as outlined in the Selective Retention Policy.

Academic Standing

Selective Retention Policy: Except under extraordinary circumstances as determined by the Committee on Academic Standing, the following policy governs the academic status of students with regard to academic probation, dismissal, and suspension.

A cumulative grade point average of 2.0 (C) is required for good academic standing at Virginia Wesleyan. When a student’s GPA falls below 2.0, the student’s academic status varies according to his or her academic classification. In any case, probationary status always requires the student to schedule special conferences with his advisor, with an academic counselor, and in some cases, with the Dean of the College.

A student who wishes voluntarily to withdraw from the college must submit an official withdrawal form. Assigned grades of W, D, and F remain on the student’s academic record. Any course taken at another college unless the student obtains prior approval of the Admissions Office must be transferred with a grade of C or better to be accepted toward graduation.

Students who have left the college, whether because of academic failure or for other reasons, have not earned additional credit, and are not permitted to register for such courses.

Non-Resident Credit: While a student is enrolled at Virginia Wesleyan, no credit is awarded for courses taken at another college unless the student obtains prior approval from the Registrar in writing of this intention and completes an official withdrawal form. Assigned grades of W, D, and F remain on the student’s academic record. Any course undertaken off-campus must be transferred with a grade of C or better to be accepted toward graduation.

Name Changes: Accuracy in record keeping is of utmost importance in the Registrar’s Office as the staff strives to protect the privacy of students’ academic records. Students with name changes should notify the office at once by bringing an original birth certificate, marriage certificate, or court order. Name changes affect only the last name; whereas the first and middle names given at birth remain the same, except in cases of a court-ordered change.

Catalog of Entry: Students who have left the college for a time, have earned additional credit, and have been readmitted to Virginia Wesleyan may choose to satisfy either the requirements listed in the catalog that was current at the time they first enrolled in the college or the requirements that are in effect at the time of application for graduation. Students who have left the college and earned additional credit prior to readmission to Virginia Wesleyan must satisfy the requirements listed in the catalog at the time of their application for graduation.

Withdrawal and Readmission to the College: A student who wishes voluntarily to withdraw from the college during a given term is not considered officially withdrawn until he or she notifies the Registrar in writing of his or her intention and completes an official withdrawal form. Assigned grades of W, WP or WF are determined by the date of withdrawal and the discretion of the professor. Any course registrations for the semester following the withdrawal are deleted. If a student fails to register for consecutive semesters by the last date for late registration, he or she is assumed to have withdrawn from the college.

A student who withdraws and desires to return to the college must apply to the Admissions Office for consideration by the Committee on Academic Standing.

A student who has been academically dismissed may apply for readmission once, and only after meeting the criteria as outlined in the Selective Retention Policy.

Academic Standing

Selective Retention Policy: Except under extraordinary circumstances as determined by the Committee on Academic Standing, the following policy governs the academic status of students with regard to academic probation, dismissal, and suspension.

A cumulative grade point average of 2.0 (C) is required for good academic standing at Virginia Wesleyan. When a student’s GPA falls below 2.0, the student’s academic status varies according to his or her academic classification. In any case, probationary status always requires the student to schedule special conferences with his advisor, with an academic counselor, and in some cases, with the Dean of the College.

A freshman student who does not achieve at least a 1.6 after undertaking the equivalent of one semester of full-time academic work is automatically placed on academic probation. All freshmen must have at least a 1.6 cumulative average after undertaking the equivalent of one semester of full-time academic work. Freshmen who do not achieve this standard are eligible for suspension or dismissal.

Any student whose cumulative average is below 1.8 after undertaking the equivalent of two semesters of full-time academic work is automatically placed on academic probation. Freshmen who do not achieve this standard are eligible for suspension or dismissal.

At any time after undertaking the equivalent of three semesters of full-time academic work, no student is automatically placed on probation if the student’s cumulative grade point average falls below 2.0. Such a student who is on probation is expected to raise his or her cumulative grade point average to at least 2.0 by the end of the next semester of full-time academic work, or the student is eligible for suspension or dismissal.

If, at the end of any given semester, the cumulative grade point average of a sophomore, junior, or senior falls below 1.6, the student is eligible for suspension or dismissal.

Any student who fails more than half of the semester hours in his or her academic load in any semester after completion of two or more semesters is subject to suspension for two terms or dismissal.

Transfer students who fall within this policy according to the total number of college semesters attempted.

As a general rule, a suspended student may not receive transfer credit for any coursework taken at another institution during the two terms immediately following the suspension. However, with the prior approval of the Dean of the College, a suspended student may take one or more courses at another institution for transfer credit at Virginia Wesleyan; a student granted such approval to do so must submit an official transcript of all such coursework taken at the other institution as one condition of readmission to the college.

After being out of college for two terms, summer counting as a term, a suspended student may apply to the Committee on Academic Standing, through the Dean of Admissions, for readmission. If the student is readmitted, the conditions are established by the Committee on Academic Standing at the time of readmission and communicated to the student in writing by the Dean of Admissions. Once suspended, students who do not meet the conditions of their final probation will be dismissed from the college.

Students who have been dismissed by the Committee on Academic Standing for five years or more may apply for readmission. Conditions for readmission include submitting a statement, along with relevant supporting documentation, of academic and/or work-related accomplishments since last being enrolled at the college. The material is intended to offer evidence that the student has grown in maturity, ability to handle responsibility, and commitment to achievement such that he or she should be able to experience academic success if permitted to begin their studies again at Virginia Wesleyan. If readmitted, the student is given the option of Academic Clemency.

Under the college’s selective retention policy, “the equivalent of one semester of full-time academic work” is defined as a minimum of 12 semester hours; two semesters, 24 semester hours; three semesters, 36 semester hours; four semesters, 48 semester hours.

The maximum course load for a student on academic probation is 14 semester hours. Any student with a cumulative grade point average of less than 2.0 is also limited to 14 semester hours.

Each student is responsible for being aware of his or her own academic standing relative to the college policy and is entitled to appeal the decision of the Academic Standing Committee. Letters of appeal should be directed to the committee chairperson located in the Registrar’s Office.

Academic Clemency

Virginia Wesleyan College recognizes that some students may, for a variety of reasons, develop academic records that do not reflect their true abilities. Students who leave the college with poor records may wish to request academic clemency upon their return. To encourage students to try again after an unsuccessful experience, the college is prepared to extend academic clemency based on the following policies:

- A student who returns to the college after an absence of at least ten consecutive fall and spring semesters may submit a request to the Dean of the College for academic clemency.
- A student must request academic clemency at the time of first readmission following his or her return to the college. If clemency is granted, previous coursework with a grade below 2.0 (C) is not used to satisfy any graduation requirement, nor is it calculated in the cumulative GPA or hours earned.
- Academic clemency is granted only once, and once granted may not be rescinded. It is available only to degree-seeking students and applies only to previous coursework with grades below 2.0 (C).
- Students readmitted under this provision must satisfy the requirements listed in the catalog that is current at the time of readmission.
- All coursework and forgivable grades remain on the academic transcript, but a statement of academic clemency is entered after each semester for which grades are forgiven.
- A student who has been granted academic clemency is not precluded from graduating with honors.

Program Enhancement

The Honors and Scholars Program

In 1985, Virginia Wesleyan initiated an exciting new honors program called Wesleyan Scholars, which was expanded in 1995 to include a broader range of academic achievements. High school seniors who have established academically superior records are invited to join the program upon their enrollment at Virginia Wesleyan. Current students of 3.4 or higher may apply for membership into the program.

Honors and Scholars students attempting either Wesleyan Honors or Presidential Honors participate in academically challenging honors courses, enriching co-curricular experiences, and community service. Inquiries about the Honors and Scholars Program may be addressed to the Director of Honors and Scholars.

Honors Coursework

The college offers special honors courses and honors sections of existing courses, which are available to students in the Honors and Scholars Program. Students may also opt to challenge a course for Honors credit by submitting a proposal to the Honors and Scholars Committee for review. The proposal must specify how the petitioning student.

- A student who returns to the college after an absence of at least ten consecutive fall and spring semesters may submit a request to the Dean of the College for academic clemency.
- A student must request academic clemency at the time of first readmission following his or her return to the college.
- If clemency is granted, previous coursework with a grade below 2.0 (C) is not used to satisfy any graduation requirement, nor is it calculated in the cumulative GPA or hours earned.
- Academic clemency is granted only once, and once granted may not be rescinded. It is available only to degree-seeking students and applies only to previous coursework with grades below 2.0 (C).
- Students readmitted under this provision must satisfy the requirements listed in the catalog that is current at the time of readmission.
- All coursework and forgivable grades remain on the academic transcript, but a statement of academic clemency is entered after each semester for which grades are forgiven.
- A student who has been granted academic clemency is not precluded from graduating with honors.

Program Enhancement

The Honors and Scholars Program

In 1985, Virginia Wesleyan initiated an exciting new honors program called Wesleyan Scholars, which was expanded in 1995 to include a broader range of academic achievements. High school seniors who have established academically superior records are invited to join the program upon their enrollment at Virginia Wesleyan. Current students of 3.4 or higher may apply for membership into the program.

Honors and Scholars students attempting either Wesleyan Honors or Presidential Honors participate in academically challenging honors courses, enriching co-curricular experiences, and community service. Inquiries about the Honors and Scholars Program may be addressed to the Director of Honors and Scholars.

Honors Coursework

The college offers special honors courses and honors sections of existing courses, which are available to students in the Honors and Scholars Program. Students may also opt to challenge a course for Honors credit by submitting a proposal to the Honors and Scholars Committee for review. The proposal must specify how the petitioning student. will surpass both qualitatively and quantitatively the requirements normally expected in the course.

Wesleyan Scholars are required to complete six honors courses across at least two different academic divisions. The intention of Honors courses is for the scholar to go beyond the requirements of the students in the regular course in both the level of engagement and performance. In order for an Honors course to count toward the total number of Honors courses required to graduate with Presidential or Wesleyan Honors, a student must earn a B or higher in the Honors course. Honors courses are noted on the student transcript with HNRS.

Honors courses are traditionally graded, and students may not elect to take an Honors course on a pass/fail basis. Extraordinary work can be rewarded with the grade of "H." If awarded, the grade of H will appear on the student's academic transcript, though it will count toward the GPA as if it were an A.

The PORTfolio Program

Virginia Wesleyan believes that a liberal arts education is the best preparation for life, especially for citizenship, careers, and professions. However, it seems that too many students view their college experience as bifurcated into “sets of classes”—classes in their major, courses in general studies, and elective courses—and “everything else”—learning outside the classroom through co-curricular activities, career development, fieldwork, or volunteer experiences. The PORTfolio program is a unique four-year experience that seeks to fully integrate liberal and experiential learning by consciously relating the two.

PORTfolio brings the liberal arts to life for selected students by allowing them to pursue their college education while using the Chesapeake Bay, the cities of Hampton Roads, and the world as their classroom. Complementing a student’s major, PORTfolio offers an integrated program of team-taught seminars, co-curricular activities, and experiential learning opportunities that connect the best of a liberal arts education with real-world experiences. Students in the program develop an electronic portfolio that helps them connect the lessons of the classroom to the world beyond the campus and link field experiences to their formal education. Freshmen are admitted to the program based on their academic, service, and leadership experiences. Sophomores, these experiences may confirm an academic major, allow self-assessment of skills and suitability for a profession, and provide training that leads to internships or job opportunities. Externships may have prerequisites set by the sponsoring organization. Although they are recorded on the student’s transcript, they do not yield semester hours towards meeting graduation requirements. To have an externship recorded on the transcript, a student must arrange the externship through Career Services before beginning it and complete at least 30 hours of approved work at a participating institution.

Externships are learning experiences that integrate students’ academic preparation and skills with professional work experience. There are two types of internships. Academic internships are taken for course credit. They are designed for students to undertake significant responsibilities and to reflect on their mission and daily activities by completing journals, papers, or other assignments, which are submitted to a faculty member. These internships are often accompanied by a seminar or other academic component. They are designed primarily for juniors and seniors moving toward completion of a major. To complete an academic internship, students must meet the prerequisites specified by the academic department that offers the internship, register for the internship course as listed in the catalog, and fulfill the academic and work requirements specified by the course. The minimum standard for academic internships is 150 hours of work experience for 4 semester hours.

Non-academic internships allow qualified students to undertake meaningful responsibilities with sponsoring organizations. They are not recorded on the transcript and do not provide semester hours towards graduation requirements, but they may provide valuable experience for later life.

Career Services maintains information on both academic and non-academic internships.

Study Abroad

Students who have demonstrated maturity and established a strong academic record are encouraged to consider the advantages of international study for a semester. This opportunity is not limited to students in internationally oriented degree programs. College-level credit earned abroad may be applied toward Virginia Wesleyan’s degree requirements as long as the student has obtained prior approval from the Office of International and Intercultural Programs and the Registrar.

Plan of Study: Students may choose to study in one of several places for a semester or an exchange or visiting program. Students enroll directly from Virginia Wesleyan and may enjoy special privileges during their stay. The college has exchange programs with the University of Madero (UMAD) in Puebla, Mexico; Humboldt University in Berlin, Germany; Kansai Gaidai University in Osaka, Japan; and a partnership with John Cabot University in Rome, Italy. Interested students may seek assistance from the Office of International and Intercultural Programs in choosing the right program, financial planning, transfer of credit, and having support while abroad.

Students applying to study abroad must usually have a cumulative grade point average of 3.0, or the minimum standard required by the host university, and recommendation of their advisor, the Registrar, and the Office of International and Intercultural Programs. Application deadline is March 1 for the fall semester and October 15 for the spring semester. College-level credit earned abroad is applicable toward Virginia Wesleyan degree requirements as long as the student has obtained prior approval from the Registrar. Students may transfer a maximum of 18 semester hours per semester from a study abroad program. Grades earned abroad are not included in the student’s grade point average. Students should also consider faculty-led international travel programs during the winter and summer sessions. Some programs range from 1-3 weeks and support a broad range of interests and majors.

Winter Session

Winter Session is a seventeen-day, credit-bearing term of intensive, engaged learning that complements and strengthens Virginia Wesleyan’s academic program. Scheduled in January, it provides opportunities for students and faculty to focus on a single academic subject without the usual distractions from other courses and commitments. A Winter Session course provides in seventeen days the contact hours and academic workload that in a regular semester would be distributed across fifteen weeks; it does so, however, in ways not available or not as effectively pursued in conventional semesters. Hence, these courses, many of which involve field trips, travel components, and pedagogical innovations, reflect an experimental, experiential quality while maintaining the same rigorous academic standards as other courses. The courses offered vary from year to year. Many courses, including those with special travel or experiential components, are taught only in Winter Session (see the list below).

In addition to 4-semester hour courses, Winter Session also provides opportunities for supplemental 1-semester hour and non-credit workshops and experiences. Hence, while students are not required to take any Winter Session courses, those who do may register for up to five semester hours in a given year toward graduation.

Full-time status for day students continues to be a minimum of 12 semester hours per semester, without regard to Winter Session credits.

Beyond a fee of $225, day students enrolled full-time during both fall and spring semesters are not charged additional tuition for Winter Session courses, as long as they enroll in no more than 38 hours across the academic year and no more than 20 in one semester. (Please note that exceeding 18 hours in any semester requires the approval of the faculty advisor and Dean of the College.) If students are charged for exceeding 20 hours during the fall semester, the minimum additional hours for which they are charged in the fall semester will not count toward the 38-hour total. Where they apply, lab and material fees, as well as any travel expenses, are additional.

Resident students wishing to live on campus during Winter Session must be enrolled in a credit-bearing course. They are not assessed an additional room charge for Winter Session. They, however, are required to purchase a three-week meal plan.

Winter Session policy and course information is available on the college’s website. Students register for Winter Session in the fall.

The following list identifies special courses taught in Winter Session. Complete descriptions of all courses can be found under the individual department headings.

Academic Resources

Support Services: Virginia Wesleyan offers students several sources of academic support, all free of charge: peer and professional tutoring, writing assistance, study skills workshops, and individual academic counseling. Contact persons are Mrs. Gaye Pearson, Director of the Learning Center and Disabilities Services; Dr. Carol Johnson, Director of the Writing Center; and Ms. Genai Hill, Director of Tutoring and Placement Reporting.

Accommodations for Students With Special Needs: Virginia Wesleyan recognizes and is sensitive to the needs of students with disabilities and special needs. In keeping with Title 1, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the college provides accommodations on request, when the request is based on recent medical or other acceptable professional documentation of disabilities. A student's decision to use academic support services and to seek accommodation is voluntary. The student is responsible for contacting Mrs. Gaye Pearson, Director of the Learning Center and Disabilities Services, to request accommodation for a handicapping condition or a learning disability. The college can arrange for diagnostic testing at the student's expense. In cases where a handicap has been documented, appropriate accommodations are made to support the student in an academic program that fits his/her aptitudes and skills, and, at the same time, adheres to the college's academic requirements.

Guided Study, Independent Research, Tutorial

Virginia Wesleyan offers qualified students the opportunity to pursue guided study, independent research, and tutorials. Students who meet the specific requirements of each program may enroll for 4 semester hours of guided study or independent research in a given semester. Students may count a maximum of 20 semester hours of guided study and independent research toward the total required for graduation. Exceptions to this policy may be made only by the Dean of the College.

Students planning to pursue guided study or independent research should obtain a copy of the guidelines available online or from the Registrar's Office. In preparing their proposals, they should state their objectives and the means of accomplishing these objectives clearly and specifically.

Guided study credit is available in any discipline in which a student wishes to pursue a program of guided reading or research. It does not need to be done in a student's major field if the student meets the minimum requirements of the program. To enroll in guided study, a student must have junior status, be in good academic standing, and obtain the approval of his or her advisor and the faculty member who would direct the study. Then the student must present to the appropriate division a brief written description of the proposed program. All proposals for guided study must be approved by the division dean. Applications must be received 4 weeks prior to the end of the semester preceding the one in which the guided study will be undertaken. The program is subject to the college's close supervision of the student's reading or research by the faculty member, including sessions together at least twice each month. Students may propose a guided study project to be done either full-time or part-time basis.

Independent research provides an opportunity for upperclassmen who have demonstrated competence in their major field to engage in a program of study with minimal faculty supervision. To enroll in independent research, a student must have junior status, a 2.5 cumulative GPA with a 3.0 average in the major, and obtain the approval of his or her advisor and the faculty member who would direct the research. Then the student must obtain divisional approval of a written project proposal, following the same procedures that were outlined for guided study. At the conclusion of the semester of study, the student presents the results of the research orally before the faculty member who directed the research and two other faculty members agreed upon by the student and the director. The director then determines the grade received for the program of research.

Tutorial coursework enables a student to take a regular catalog course on an individual basis rather than in a classroom format, usually to fill a gap in the student's plan of study in a semester when the course is not being taught to a group of students. Semester hour credit for a tutorial is the same as for the catalog course.

Cross-Registration

Virginia Wesleyan's membership in the Virginia Tidewater Consortium provides students with opportunities for enrolling in courses of higher education located in Hampton Roads. Subject to available space at another school, Virginia Wesleyan students may cross-register at other institutions for a course that is not offered here in a given semester. Students requesting to cross-register for a course at another school must have the written approval of the director of the Registrar and the Academic Dean. Grades earned through cross-registration become part of the student's grade point average. Complete information covering the conditions of cross-registration is available in the Registrar's Office.

ROTVC

Virginia Wesleyan offers students the opportunity to enroll in an Army ROTC program through an extension agreement with Old Dominion University. The college plans to offer a ROTC program at Old Dominion University. Courses in this program develop a student's ability to organize, motivate, and lead others. Further information on this program may be obtained by contacting Virginia Wesleyan's Admissions Office.

Transit Registration

Virginia Wesleyan students may take courses at other institutions of higher education and transfer the credit in. To do so, they must be in good academic standing, have applied, and receive the written approval of their advisor and the Registrar prior to registering for any courses at other institutions. Approved credit is accepted for transfer only when the student has earned a grade of C (2.00) or above. Transfer credit does not affect the student's grade point average at Virginia Wesleyan. Complete information covering the conditions of transit registration is available in the Registrar's Office.

Experimental Courses

Occasionally a faculty member or a group of students may wish to study a topic not adequately covered in the existing curriculum. Anytime a department wishes to offer a course that is not in the catalog, it may do so with the approval of the Academic Programs Commission, upon the recommendation of the division involved. If, after the course is taught, the department decides that it wants the course placed in the catalog on a permanent basis, it then submits such a request to the division. When several students decide that they would like to study a particular topic and can get a faculty member to participate, they may seek approval through following the process described above.

Adult Studies Program

Because Virginia Wesleyan is committed to encouraging learning as a lifelong process, the Adult Studies Program (ASP) offers evening and weekend courses to help meet the educational needs of adults age 23 or older whose work, family and community commitments require scheduling courses outside of daytime hours. ASP courses take into consideration the special needs of adult learners while maintaining the academic quality found in all Virginia Wesleyan programs. Courses are offered for those who plan to complete a degree, as well as for those who wish to take individual courses for personal enrichment or career advancement.

Adult Studies students may pursue their studies either full-time (at least 12 semester hours per semester) or part-time (fewer than 12 semester hours) and, either as classified students (i.e., pursuing a degree or other designated program) or unclassified students (taking individual courses for credit) at not towards a degree or designated program). Full-time students must have the approval of their advisor and complete the ASP Full-Time form.
Admission
To start the application process, applicants must be at least 23 years of age and have graduated from high school with a 2.0 GPA, or have a high school equivalency certificate. Transfer students must have at least a cumulative 2.0 GPA in previous college work and be in good financial standing with previous academic institutions. Exceptions are considered for Virginia Wesleyan graduates who wish to enroll in teacher certification programs.

Transfer Students: Generally, students transferring to the Virginia Wesleyan College Adult Studies Program present a GPA of 2.0 or higher. To assist prospective students in structuring their program at Virginia Wesleyan, the Adult Studies staff issues unofficial transcript evaluations. Once students have formally applied and been accepted to the program and official copies of all college transcripts have been received, they receive an official transcript evaluation from the Registrar's Office.

Internal Transfer: Sometimes changes in a student's circumstances or goals make it necessary to transfer internally between the day program and the Adult Studies Program. Although the college does not permit repeated switching between the two programs, a process exists to accommodate this need when circumstances warrant. However, students who first enroll in one branch of the college and subsequently change to the other program remain bound by the foreign language requirement of the program in which they first enrolled unless three full semesters or more elapse between their departure and the semester for which they seek readmission. Students interested in an internal transfer should contact either the Admissions Office or the Adult Studies Office.

Financial Aid: Basic financial aid information is available in the Adult Studies Office. The amount of traditional financial aid available to part-time students is limited. To qualify, students must demonstrate financial need and carry at least 6 semester hours per semester.

Because traditional financial assistance is limited, Virginia Wesleyan has developed a unique Adult Incentive Grant through which the Adult Studies tuition rate is substantially reduced from the day program rate.

Another form of financial assistance is the college's Employer Tuition Deferral (ETD) program, which enables qualifying participants to defer their payment of tuition until their employer reimburses them at the end of the semester.

Military tuition assistance and veterans' benefits may be applied toward tuition for Adult Studies courses.

Finally, a limited number of scholarships are awarded annually to selected Adult Studies students, based on financial need and academic achievement. Details about these various forms of financial assistance may be obtained at the Adult Studies Office or on the program's home page. Students should contact the college's financial aid office for information about federal financial aid eligibility.

Major Programs
Several majors are available through the Adult Studies Program. For detailed information on each of these programs, see listings in the "Major Programs" and "Programs and Courses" sections of this catalog.

1. Business
2. Social Sciences Divisional with a concentration in criminal justice, history, political science, psychology, or sociology
3. History and Social Sciences with teacher certification in history and social sciences
4. Comprehensive Liberal Studies, Curricular Emphasis (preK-6 teacher preparation program). This is a major for students seeking teacher certification in grades preK-6 as an elementary school or special education teacher. The identified courses meet the teacher competencies required by the Commonwealth of Virginia. The PRAXIS I and VCLA exams must be passed to Virginia standards before enrolling in the professional education coursework sequence. Students seeking this certification must also pass the Virginia Reading Assessment test before they can student teach. PRAXIS II must be passed before student teaching.

Depending on a student's current circumstances and educational background, other majors may be available on an individual basis.

Alternative Certification for Teachers (ACT) Program: This program is designed to prepare career changers to teach in one of the following areas: elementary school grades preK-6; in the content areas of math, earth science, chemistry, biology, English, art, foreign language, or history/social studies for grades 6-12; in art or foreign language for grades K-12; or in special education. This innovative evening program provides the professional knowledge necessary for effective classroom teaching. It is appropriate for individuals who have already earned a four-year degree, who possess the general knowledge and the content area knowledge incorporated in traditional teacher education programs, and who have demonstrated significant involvement in a career for at least one year.

The professional education courses include foundations of education, human growth and development, curriculum and instructional procedures, reading, special education, computer skills, classroom management, and successful classroom experience. The coursework meets the teacher certification requirements detailed in the Licensure Regulations for School Personnel, Virginia Department of Education. The PRAXIS I and VCLA exams must be passed at the time of application (see the Education Department's section elsewhere in this catalog for details). The ACT program also provides coursework for conditionally and provisionally licensed teachers.

General Information
Degree Requirements: Requirements for completing a degree in the Adult Studies program are the same as those for day students, with one exception. Regardless of how many semester hours they transfer in, ASP students are required to complete only two semesters of one foreign language. Students may fulfill this requirement by having completed two years of a foreign language in high school with a C (2.0) or higher average.

Audit: Adults from the local community may audit Adult Studies courses without record for a fee of $50 per semester hour. Certain courses may be audited only on a space-available basis. Audit registrations may not be changed to credit status at a later date. Students who audit with record are required to pay the current Adult Studies tuition rate and are graded on a satisfactory/un satisfactory basis. Senior citizens age 62 or over may audit Virginia Wesleyan courses on a space-available basis for $50 per course.

Advising: The Adult Studies Office offers academic counseling and extended office hours to assist evening students with the transition to college life, with a mid-life career change, or with advancement and career development.

Class Schedules: The Adult Studies class schedule accommodates the traditional work day, with classes that meet in the evening or on alternate weekends and some that incorporate modified distance learning. The program is flexible to accommodate busy schedules. The average part-time student takes one or two courses each semester, but students may work towards a degree as slowly or as rapidly as they wish. Part-time students are especially encouraged to enroll in the summer sessions.

Summer Sessions: For both day and evening students, the summer schedule offers a variety of courses in sessions of varying lengths. Students may enroll in any combination of courses and sessions that meet their needs up to a maximum of 12 semester hours. Students requiring additional coursework during the summer need the approval of the Dean of the College.

Alternative Forms of Credit.
College Level Examination Program (CLEP): Virginia Wesleyan participates in the College Level Examination Program, a national program of credit-by-examination that offers a student the opportunity to obtain recognition for college-level achievement. Any currently enrolled student may earn college credit through CLEP in the subject areas as well as in five general areas (English composition, mathematics, natural sciences, humanities, and social sciences/history). CLEP credit must be earned prior to a student's last 32 semester hours at Virginia Wesleyan. A student may receive a maximum of 32 semester hours for CLEP (or a combination of CLEP/DANTES) credit. Currently enrolled students must obtain the Registrar's approval by applying through WebAdvisor before scheduling a testing session.

Additional information is available on the Registrar's Office home page.

Military Credit: Virginia Wesleyan follows the guidelines set forth by the American Council on Education (ACE) when granting credit for educational experiences in the armed services. Veterans should submit an appropriate transcript (such as SMART, AARTS, etc.). Credit awarded must be equivalent to courses offered at Virginia Wesleyan or logical extensions thereof and are subject to review by faculty in the academic field. A student may receive a maximum of 32 semester hours for military credit.

The Center for Sacred Music at Virginia Wesleyan College educates students for careers in church music ministry and offers opportunities for all students to broaden their awareness of the music and ritual that have been part of humankind’s various faith expressions for thousands of years.

Monumental Moments: The Center collaborates with the Chaplain’s Office and the Department of Religious Studies to offer two special worship services in Monumental Chapel during the academic year. Students lead the service, and the Virginia Wesleyan College Choir and/or Wesleyan Singers present special music. A faculty member serves as guest speaker. In addition, during the Sacred Music Summer Conference, the Center presents a service of worship in Monumental Chapel on the opening evening. This service is open to all.

Church Music Certificate Program: The Church Music Certificate Program offers practical and theoretical career preparation for church music ministry. The course of study includes academic courses, attendance at symposia, critical observations of area church music programs, and participation in the college’s annual Sacred Music Summer Conference. The program has been recognized by the College Board for its excellence in training church musicians in a liberal arts setting.

Three semester-length courses are offered: Sacred Music History, Directing Church Choirs, and Psalms, Hymns, and Spiritual Songs (offered as MUS 310, Topics in Sacred Music). These courses are required for the certificate program, but may also be taken to supplement other curricula, providing a theoretical basis of study.

Sound and Symbol Lecture Series: The Center offers an annual lecture series to foster understanding and to encourage appreciation for diversity in the sacred music and ritual of various faith communities. Offered during the campus curricular hour on occasional Tuesdays and Thursdays throughout the academic year, programs are designed to appeal to students in all disciplines.

Performance Opportunities: The Wesleyan Festival Chorus is a massed choir of students and community singers linking choral musicians with the finest conductors in the world for worship leadership and for concert performances. Each summer, the chorus presents two events as part of the Sacred Music Summer Conference, as well as an annual hymn festival each fall.

Sacred Music Summer Conference: The Wesleyan Festival Chorus is a massed choir of students and community singers linking choral musicians with the finest conductors in the world for worship leadership and for concert performances. Each summer, the chorus presents two events as part of the Sacred Music Summer Conference, as well as an annual hymn festival each fall.

Past topics have included “Sacred Sounds: Cultural Unity and Diversity,” a four-part series; “Then Sings My Soul,” on the four streams of American Protestant hymnody; “Let All the World in Every Corner Sing,” an examination of “service music” used in various world religions; “Here Comes the Bride,” wedding ritual and music in various world traditions; and “Sing Me To Heaven,” an exploration of the music and ceremony used in various cultures for funerals and services of remembrance.

The Virginia Wesleyan College Anthem Series: In 2008, the Center for Sacred Music developed a choral anthem series with MorningStar Music Publishers of St. Louis, Missouri, entitled “Music from American Colleges and Universities.” Virginia Wesleyan holds the honor of the premiere work in that series: an anthem commissioned from Texan composer Hal Hopson in celebration of the 300th anniversary of the birth of Charles Wesley in 2007. This contribution to American music continues the college’s legacy, joining the VWC Choral Anthem Series, which the Center developed in 1998 with Hinshaw Music Publishers of Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Now in its tenth year, that series includes 11 choral anthems. An additional four anthems that have been dedicated to the work of the Center are published by Choristers Guild Publishing, Augsburg Press, and Hal Leonard Music Publishers. Through its various festivals and conferences, the Center commissions new music that is premiered at Virginia Wesleyan, then made available to the world. Anthems from this catalog of publications are used by church and school choruses throughout the country, and several have been selected for district chorus and all-state repertoire. Virginia Wesleyan joins Duke University and St. Olaf College as only the third institution of higher education with a named music series.

Fall Hymn Festival: Hymns have played a vital role in worship since the earliest Christians gathered to worship the risen Christ. Congregational singing exploded anew with the Protestant Reformation, and the Center’s annual Hymn Festival continues to encourage the great tradition of the people’s song. Various churches in the Hampton Roads area host the October festival. All are invited to be a part of the congregation or the massed choir that leads the service of singing.
In the fall of 1996, a diverse group of supporters from the college and the larger community came together to create the Center for the Study of Religious Freedom at Virginia Wesleyan College. The Center is grounded in the college’s United Methodist heritage, which has long recognized religious freedom as a basic human right for persons of all faiths. From its beginning, the Center has been a vehicle for fostering education, respectful dialogue, and mutual understanding.

Mission: The Center’s mission is threefold:

- Education—to provide Virginia Wesleyan students with an informed understanding of religious freedom as a basic human right;
- Scholarship—to engage in sustained study of the legal, social, and theological conditions of religious freedom;
- Engagement—to combat religious intolerance by constructively engaging our society’s broad religious pluralism.

Educational Programs: Each year the Center sponsors several interdisciplinary programs that offer unique opportunities for student enrichment. These programs support the college’s commitment to a rigorous liberal arts education. Courses offered through the Center affirm the value of diverse perspectives and methodologies. Faculty members from across the college’s academic divisions contribute to the Center’s work by teaching Center-affiliated courses and participating in Center programs.

Since its founding, the Center has sponsored more than 200 public educational events, including semester-long symposia on issues of religious freedom, lectures by renowned scholars, presentations on music and the arts, panel discussions, plays, and films. Center events have been attended by more than 10,000 people, including Virginia Wesleyan students, faculty and staff, and members of the larger community.

Center Library: The Center’s academic resources include a collection of more than 1,500 books. These materials are available to Virginia Wesleyan students, faculty and staff, and other interested users. The Center’s library emphasizes topics related to its mission, including constitutional law, religious freedom and church-state relations, religion and law, the role of religion in public and political life, and the global dimensions of religious freedom, including international human rights law. The collection also includes books on many of the world’s religious traditions, as well as books on theology and religious studies, philosophy, history, and education. All Center books can be searched on the college library’s online catalog, and most can be checked out.

The Center for the Study of Religious Freedom does not advocate any particular political or religious perspective. Rather, it promotes deeper understanding of religious freedom through academic research, interdisciplinary study, informal discussion with students and community members, and interfaith dialogue. We need not be afraid of our religious differences. Instead, we can see them as opportunities for mutual understanding and growth.
What kind of job can I get with a major in French? "If I want to be a lawyer, what major is appropriate?" "What kinds of careers are available working with children?" "What is the correct admission test for entering a graduate business school?" These are just a sampling of the kinds of questions students have while in college. The Career Services Center at Virginia Wesleyan College is devoted to helping students decide on a college major and gain career experience while still a student, search for employment, and/or apply to graduate school. Following are some of the programs and services that are offered.

INDIVIDUAL APPOINTMENTS: Career counseling is available on an individual basis to discuss the student’s major, career, job search, and graduate school concerns. Interest inventories are also available to help students identify major and career options.

CAREER RESOURCES: A comprehensive website provides specific self-assessment, occupational, graduate school, internship, and job search information. Copies of selected publications are available free of charge.

WORKSHOPS: Workshops are offered numerous times throughout the year. Topics include choosing a major, job search strategies, resume writing, business and social etiquette, choosing and applying to graduate school, and interview skills. Mock interviews may also be scheduled.

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING: Students may prepare for employment after graduation by participating in internships and shadowing externships while in school. Through these learning experiences, students gain exposure to fields of interest, relevant work skills, and professional contacts. Career Services advises students on finding and arranging an experience to meet their individual needs. The office maintains listings. Many major areas of study at Virginia Wesleyan offer students opportunities to participate in an internship for credit during the junior or senior year. Students should ask their major advisors for the criteria for completing a credit-bearing internship.

JOB SEARCH ASSISTANCE: Information about part-time, summer, and full-time job leads and internships is provided to students through job fairs, networking events, listings of current openings on the Career Services Center website, and employment activities on campus. Virginia Wesleyan is an active participant in Career 15, sponsored by the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges. Through this program, seniors may interview with selected Fortune 500 companies.

Virginia Wesleyan offers a significant number of career preparation possibilities, the majority of the college’s majors are not intended to provide technical training for specific jobs. Rather, they help students acquire and develop the broad skills of written and oral communication, research, critical thinking, and decision making that will prepare them to succeed in a world of constant change.

Pre-Professional Information

Medicine, Dentistry, and Veterinary Medicine: Students who wish to pursue careers in these fields must meet the admissions requirements for the professional school of their choice. Those standards include interest in grades, relevant co-curricular activities and appropriate internships, externships, and research. Virginia Wesleyan’s Pre-Professional Committee guides students through the application and interview process. In addition, the student-run Pre-Professional Club sponsors a variety of activities, including seminars by professionals from various fields, campus visits and meetings with admissions officials from pre-professional programs, and student volunteer activities. The club meets at least twice each semester. Students who have an interest in pursuing a career in dentistry, medicine, or veterinary medicine are encouraged to consult with Dr. Deirdre Gonsalves-Jackson.

Medical School: Students applying to medical school are expected to achieve a satisfactory score on the medical school admissions test (DAT) and to complete the following courses: General Biology, two semesters (BIO 131, BIO 132); Introductory and Inorganic Chemistry, two semesters (CHEM 120, CHEM 200); Organic Chemistry, two semesters (CHEM 221, CHEM 222); and Physics, two semesters (PHYS 221 and PHYS 222). Some dental schools may also require additional courses in biochemistry, psychology, and English.

Schools of Veterinary Medicine: Students applying to veterinary programs are expected to have gained significant experience working with animals and to have attained a satisfactory score on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). Specific course requirements vary among schools, and students are expected to contact the schools about their specific requirements prior to submitting an application. In general, students should complete the following courses: General Biology, two semesters (BIO 131, BIO 132); Introductory and Inorganic Chemistry, two semesters (CHEM 120, CHEM 200); Organic Chemistry, two semesters (CHEM 221, CHEM 222); Biochemistry, one semester, (CHEM 380); Physics, two semesters (PHYS 221 and PHYS 222); English, two semesters; Mathematics, two semesters (college algebra or higher); and Social Sciences, two semesters. It is also strongly recommended that students complete Comparative Anatomy (BIO 372) and Histology (BIO 371).

Allied Health Professions: Students wishing to enter allied health professions (dental hygiene, pharmacy, nursing, health care management, medical technology, occupational therapy, physical therapy, or radiological technology) need to complete at least two years—and may want to complete four years—of preparatory studies at Virginia Wesleyan before applying to a professional school. Students interested in any of these preparatory programs should contact Dr. Deirdre Gonsalves-Jackson for a list of required courses.

Church-Related Vocations: Ministry in today’s world takes many forms: pastoral ministry, religious education, hospital and military chaplaincies, teaching in church-related colleges, and counseling. A broad program of studies in the liberal arts is required for admission to the seminaries and graduate schools that prepare individuals for these ministries. Students interested in these vocations may choose to major in religious studies or some other area of the humanities or the social sciences. The college chaplain is available as a vocational advisor for students contemplating a future in the ministry.

Health and Human Services: The designation “human services” covers a broad spectrum of career possibilities. Virginia Wesleyan’s program in human services provides significant training for students planning careers in direct service, community action, the legislative process, or administrative planning. The college offers a well-defined program in each of these areas that culminates in an internship related to a student’s career goals. Students who are interested in this program should contact Dr. Benjamin Dobrin for more information.

Law School: Many Virginia Wesleyan students have been accepted into law school. No single major is recommended for students interested in pursuing a legal career. It is important to note, however, that law schools emphasize the importance of a broad liberal arts education in which the student has excelled. Students who are interested in the pre-law course of study should contact Dr. William Gibson.

Environmental Studies: Virginia Wesleyan offers two approaches to environmental studies. Students may choose the more traditional approach and major in biology, chemistry, or general science to prepare for graduate work in ecology, environmental science, or toxicology. Students interested in this approach should contact Dr. Gary E. Noe.

Students may also choose the interdisciplinary Environmental Studies major, whose flexibility and breadth of curricular options can meet a diversity of student interests and needs in environmental education. Students interested in this approach should contact Dr. Lawrence D. Hultgren or Dr. Maynard H. Schaus.

Dental School: Students applying to dental school are expected to achieve a satisfactory score on the dental school admissions test (DAT) and to complete the following courses: General Biology, two semesters (BIO 131, BIO 132); Introductory and Inorganic Chemistry, two semesters (CHEM 120, CHEM 200); Organic Chemistry, two semesters (CHEM 221, CHEM 222); and Physics, two semesters (PHYS 221 and PHYS 222). It is also strongly recommended that students complete the following courses: Anatomy and Physiology (BIO 221 and BIO 222); Comparative Anatomy (BIO 372); Histology (BIO 371); Biochemistry (CHEM 380); and Ethics and Health Care (PHIL 221/321).
PROGRAMS AND COURSES

SPECIAL DESIGNATIONS

College courses are numbered at the 100, 200, 300, and 400 levels. Traditionally, these levels correspond roughly to the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior level classes. As a rule, courses numbered at 100 and 200 levels are introductory and have a broad educational utility. Courses numbered at the 300 and 400 levels generally build on previous introductory offerings and have more specific educational utility.

100.......................freshman level
200.......................sophomore level
300.......................junior level
400.......................senior level

Courses which count toward a given General Studies requirement can be easily identified by a capital letter following the course title.

A — Aesthetic Understanding
H — Historical Perspective
I — Senior Integrative Experience
Q — Quantitative Perspective
S — Institutional and Cultural Systems
T — Literary Textual Analysis
L — Laboratory Course
W — Writing Course

COURSE OFFERINGS

While the courses listed in the following pages are generally offered in the scheduling patterns indicated, factors such as staffing or demand result in some courses being offered at irregular intervals.

ACADEMIC SKILLS DEVELOPMENT

Some students who have graduated from high school find that they are still lacking in certain skills which are important for college success. Through the academic skills development program, Virginia Wesleyan College offers assistance to students to improve their skills in thinking, writing, reading, and test-taking techniques.

ACADEMIC SKILLS DEVELOPMENT COURSES (ASD)

301 Tutoring (1)

Upperclassmen with grades no lower than B in certain courses may participate in tutoring for credit. To earn one semester hour, students fulfill a 30-hour tutoring contract. Tutoring sessions may be supervised by the Director of Tutoring and approved by the instructor of the course tutored. Offered based on need for tutors.

AMERICAN STUDIES

THE AMERICAN STUDIES MAJOR

DR. ERIC M. MAZUR, Program Coordinator

The American Studies major invites students to explore the rich history and culture of the United States and the concept of “America” for diverse communities within and outside of the United States. This interdisciplinary major prepares students for careers in law, social service, teaching, journalism, business, library science, and government; art, film, theatre, journalism, and literature; education, economics, sociology, religious studies, and others. Virginia Wesleyan College is located near many of the important places where history was made and continues to be made: Jamestown, Williamsburg, Washington, D.C., and the homes of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and Robert E. Lee. The American Studies major offers students an exciting educational experience both in and out of the classroom.

AMERICAN STUDIES COURSES (AMST)

200 Introduction to American Studies (4) S

Introduces students to the interdisciplinary field of American studies and exposes them to a variety of approaches to understanding American national experiences, values, and ideals. Investigates the myths and cultural narratives that have shaped our definition of what it means to be American, and general perceptions about American culture. Offered each fall.

ART/ART HISTORY

MR. PHILIP GUZOFOLI
MR. JOHN RUDLE

The Art Department offers courses in studio art and art history, balancing art production with an awareness of related cultural values. The Art major consists of core courses in studio art and art history, upper-level electives in a choice of media, and a capstone course that involves creating a body of work and exhibiting it. Class work is supported by ongoing art exhibits in two campus gallery spaces and by field trips to local and regional museums and galleries, further enriching the curriculum. Art majors may also earn certification for teaching by supplementing the major with specific education courses and in-service teaching. Minors are offered in both studio art and art history. Students should select courses for the minor according to their interests or to strengthen skills needed for art-related careers in communications, design, business, recreation, therapy, arts management, and other creative fields.

*Students majoring in studio art and wishing also to complete a minor in art history must fulfill all upper-level course requirements for the major with studio (ART) courses only. Art history (ARTH) courses that fulfill the requirements for the art history minor may not also be used to fulfill the upper-level requirements for the studio art major.

ART COURSES (ART)

105 Introduction to Studio Art (4) A
Introduces the basic studio materials and techniques for making art in a variety of media that may include painting, drawing, ceramics, sculpture, printmaking, crafts, fibers, and/or electronic technology. Includes lectures, demonstrations, studio participation and production, museum and/or artist studio visits, and related historical information. Studio course. Lab fee. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

204 Digital Art I (4) A

205 Drawing I (4) A
Acquaints students with the basic concept of drawing with various media, including pencil, charcoal, chalk, and pen and ink. Experiences in skill-building exercises are emphasized, as well as the practical application. Studio course. Offered each fall.

206 Painting I (4) A
An examination of basic painting techniques. Students study and experiment with a variety of painting media, including watercolor, acrylics, and oil types on various working-surface materials. Students use these experiences to create their own pictorial interpretations. Studio course. Offered each fall.

207 Representations of Space (4) A
Uses studio exercises and group critiques of class projects to explore visual perception and two-dimensional representation of the world. Students explore traditional drawing techniques and photographic imagery to develop a repertoire of intellectual, visual, and graphic techniques. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

208 Photography I (4) A
Explores photography as an art form. Topics include the control of basic camera functions, digital media, composition, artistic techniques, and laws impacting the use of photos. Students must supply a digital camera with manual control options. Students are responsible for the commercial development of all prints. Studio course.

209 Sculpture I (4) A
Explores the possibilities of sculptural form and three-dimensional problem solving through materials such as cardboard, paper, clay, plaster, wood, wax, etc. Emphasis is placed on understanding three-dimensional concepts of relief and sculpture-in-the-round through carving, modeling, and constructing. Studio course. Lab fee.

213 Ceramics I (4) A
Structured to provide an introduction to ceramic art production, balanced with ceramic art history, criticism, and aesthetics. Course topics include the development of techniques for hand-building and throwing on the potters wheel, clay and glaze preparation, glazing, and kiln firing. Provides students of all skill levels with a solid foundation in ceramics. Studio course. Lab fee. Offered each semester.

303 Graphic Design (4)
Introduction to the tools, methods, principles and practice of graphic design. Topics include visual communication, the use of type, the importance of visual research, communicating with vendors, clients and audiences, and the efficient use of graphics software. Students create an entry-level, interview-quality portfolio. Prerequisite: ART 101, 204, or consent. Lab fee.

304 Digital Art II (4)
Explores the computer as a tool for personal expression and production of artworks. Projects concentrate on the effective use of composition and color in original digital works. Topics include intermediate software features, web-based portfolios, and animation. Prerequisite: ART 101, 204, or consent. Studio course. Lab fee.

307 Travel Photography (4) A
Travel to specific regions or foreign countries for on-location photography. Topics include improving photographic skills, experiencing local arts and cultures, and creating interpretations of travel experiences. Students must supply a digital camera. Travel may be physically demanding. May be repeated for credit as location varies. Prerequisite: consent. Offered in selected winter and summer sessions.

308 Photography II (4)
Intermediate exploitation of digital photography. Emphasizes aesthetics and the development of personally meaningful portfolio projects. Topics include digital retouch, printing, and creative computer techniques with Photoshop. Students must supply a digital camera with manual control options. Students are responsible for the commercial development of all prints. Prerequisite: ART 208, 225, or consent. Offered each spring.

309 Sculpture II (4)
A continuation of Sculpture I, with special emphasis on exploring material for sculpture as used in mobiles, constructions, installations, and environmental works. Prerequisite: ART 209 or consent. Studio course. Lab fee.

313 Ceramics II (4)
A continuation of Ceramics I, with special emphasis on wheel techniques and thrown forms. Students experiment with clays and glazes and have the opportunity to fire their own works. Prerequisite: ART 117 or consent. Studio course. Lab fee.

319 Studio Art Teaching Assistant (1)
Allows qualified students to assist art instructors in teaching their classes. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisite: consent. Offered each semester.

350 Topics in Studio Art (4) A
Offers the opportunity for focused, in-depth study of one studio art medium, including related aesthetic and historical considerations. Topics may include: mixed media, jewelry, prints, fibers, installations, environmental art, raku, glass, blacksmithing, etc. May be repeated for credit as topics change. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Studio course. Lab fee. Offered each semester.

404 Photo and Digital Art Lab (4)
An advanced art and design course exploring the digital media of photography and computer graphics. Technical exercises and projects utilizing both media prepare students to develop their own projects. Topics include creativity and inspiration, equipment, identifying audiences, and basic business practices for artists. Prerequisites: ART 304, ART 320, or ART 303 and consent. Offered each spring.
ART/HISTORY

409  Sculpture and Ceramics Lab (4)
An advanced studio art course designed for the student’s continued growth and exploration of three-dimensional methods and materials. May be repeated for additional credit. Prerequisites: ART 117, 209, 211, 212, 213, 313 or 309. Studio course. Lab fee. Offered intermittently.

450  Senior Art Seminar (4)
Advanced course requiring the development of a studio research project. Students create a thematically focused body of artwork for exhibition, an explanatory paper, and an oral presentation while acquiring professional skills appropriate to art-related careers. Prerequisite: consent. Offered each spring.

ART HISTORY COURSES (ARTH)

201  Music and Art in the Western World (4)
Explores the traditions of music, painting, sculpture, and architecture of the Western world. Beginning with the Greeks and continuing through the present, many individual works from important art periods are introduced. Discussion topics include how the arts reflect the sociocultural conditions of their time and place, how media are used, and how the elements in each art form contribute to the aesthetic response. Identical to MUS 201.

225  The Photograph (4)
A history of photography from its invention in 1839 to the present. The course investigates within their historical contexts. Prerequisite: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher.

The following course(s) are undergoing revision to fit the new, enhanced, 4 x 4 curriculum. Thus, course numbers, titles, prerequisites, and offering information are subject to change.

333  Art of Africa, Asia, and the Americas (4)
Surveys the long-lived art traditions of diverse global cultures, including Africa, India, China, Japan, the Pacific, and Pre-Columbian and Native America. Prerequisite: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher.

351  19th-Century Art History (4)
A history of European and American art from the era of the French Revolution to the end of the 19th century. The works of major artists, such as David, Goya, Turner, Manet, Monet, Van Gogh, etc., are investigated within their historical contexts.

352  20th-Century Art History (4)
A history of artists, works, and movements of 20th-century European and American art investigated within their historical contexts. Prerequisite: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher.

The following course(s) are undergoing revision to fit the new, enhanced, 4 x 4 curriculum. Thus, course numbers, titles, prerequisites, and offering information are subject to change.

341  American Art (4)
A history of the visual arts in America from pre-colonial to modern times. Particular attention is paid to the relationship of the visual arts to social and political history, and the issue of “American identity” in the arts.

360  Topics in Art History (4)
An in-depth study of some particular period of art history or some disciplinary aspect or problem. May be repeated for credit at topic varies.

BIOLOGY COURSES (BIO)

100 The World of Biology (4) L
- An introduction to biology. Provides an overview of the study of life, including how biology affects our daily lives, including such topics as biodiversity, genetic engineering, and problems associated with the expanding human population. Designed for non-science majors. $50 lab fee. Offered each semester.

131 Principles of Biology I: Evolution and Ecology (4) L
- An introduction to the biological sciences. Lecture topics include Darwinian evolution, the origin and diversity of life, functional morphology, and ecology. Designed for students intending to pursue a major in biology or EES. $50 lab fee. Offered each fall.

132 Principles of Biology II: Cell Biology and Genetics (4) L
- Completes the introduction to the biological sciences for biology and EES majors. Lecture topics include biochemistry, cell structure and processes, cell respiration, fermentation, photosynthesis, cell division, Mendelian genetics, gene expression, cancer biology, and animal physiology. $50 lab fee. Offered each spring.

150 Introduction to Marine Biology (4) L
- An introduction to the organisms and communities of marine and estuarine areas. Students examine the basic physical and ecological processes that are pertinent to marine habitats and the diversity of marine organisms and ecosystems. Includes field and laboratory identification of local organisms and investigations of local field habitats. Designed for non-science majors. $50 lab fee. Offered each fall.

221 Anatomy and Physiology I (4) L
- An integrated lecture/laboratory experience that examines the anatomy and physiology of humans. Includes a survey of the major organs and organ systems of the body from both the histological and gross anatomical perspectives. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. $50 lab fee. Offered each fall.

222 Human Anatomy and Physiology II (4) L
- An integrated lecture/laboratory experience that examines the anatomy and physiology of humans. Includes a survey of the nervous, endocrine, digestive, urinary and reproductive systems from the histological and gross anatomical perspectives. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. $50 lab fee. Offered spring on demand.

285 Plants and Man (4) S
- Introduces students to the ways in which plants have sustained and influenced human cultures. Appropriate for both science and non-science majors. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

300 Plant Morphology (4) L
- A morphological and evolutionary study of plants from bacteria to flowering plants. Provides a view of the structure and modes of reproduction of plants. Prerequisites: a grade of C or higher in BIO 132 or consent. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

311 Genetics (4) L
- Principles of heredity as applied to both plants and animals. Prerequisites: CHEM 105 or 117 and a grade of C or higher in both BIO 131 and 132 or one year of general biology. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered each semester.

316 General Ecology (4) L
- A study of plant and animal communities in relation to habitat with emphasis on the effect of the environment on community structure and distribution. Prerequisites: BIO 131 and 132, or one year of general biology, or BIO 207. MATH 106 is recommended. Lecture three hours, laboratory/field three hours each week. Offered each fall.

320 Ornithology (4) L
- A study of birds emphasizing diversity, behavioral ecology, and life history. Regular field observations are required and may occur under a variety of weather conditions. Prerequisites: BIO 131 or 207. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered on demand.

322 Taxonomy of Vascular Plants (4) L
- Focuses on the classification and identification of the plants of southern Virginia. Includes discussion of the characteristics of the major families of plants of North America. Prerequisites: a grade of C or higher in BIO 132 or consent. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

354 Marine Invertebrate Evolution (4) L
- An introduction to the study of evolutionary processes, with particular attention paid to marine invertebrates, especially marine bivalves, because of their rich evolutionary history and well-documented fossil record. Evolution is examined at a variety of scales from molecular to ecological. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Prerequisite: BIO 131 or BIO 132. $50 lab fee. Offered fall of even-numbered years on demand.

384 Developmental Biology (4) L
- Explores the processes by which organisms grow and develop. Emphasizes principles and concepts that govern development in model organisms such as sea urchins, flatworms, fruit flies, zebra fish, and chickens. Reproduction of appendages, stem cells, cancer, and plants are discussed. Prerequisite: BIO 311 or consent. Offered on demand.

385 Animal Behavior (4)
- A study of the mechanisms and evolution of animal behavior. Topics include genetics and development of behavior, neural and physiological mechanisms of behavior, competition, social behavior, habitat selection, reproductive behavior, and parental investment. Laboratory exercises provide hands-on experiences for many of these concepts. Prerequisites: BIO 131 and 132 or consent. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

410 Evolution (4) L
- A study of the theories of plant and animal evolution and their leading proponents. Prerequisite: junior/senior status. Offered each fall.

420 Cell and Molecular Biology (4) L
- A study of the structure and function of prokaryotes and euukaryotes at the cellular and molecular level. Emphasizes the molecular nature of cellular structure, metabolism, and physiology. Prerequisite: grades of C or higher in CHEM 311, 321, and 322. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

460 Zymurgy: The Science of Fermentation (4) L
- Introduces the science and art of fermentation and considers the use of alcohol by human societies. Prerequisite: senior status or consent. Offered in selected Winter Sessions and spring semesters.

470 Internship in the Natural Sciences (2)
- An intensive study of a specific field of science through an on-site field experience with hands-on learning opportunities that are relevant to the chosen site. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. A minimum of 80 hours devoted to the 475 Natural and Social History of the Chesapeake Bay (4)

Provides a comprehensive view of one of the largest and most diverse estuaries in the world. Students examine the relationships between the natural history and the human history, including social and political aspects, use of the bay by various societies and their impact on and preservation of the bay. Saturday field trips required. Prerequisite: junior/senior status. Offered on demand.

482 Microbiology (4 L)

Teaches basic microbiological concepts and the role of microorganisms in various applied areas. Topics include microbial physiology, cell structure, microbial genetics, pathogenic microorganisms and disease, and environmental and applied microbiology. Students practice aseptic technique, isolation and identification of bacteria, staining, and determination of microbial numbers. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

489 Research in the Natural Sciences (2)

Offers students the opportunity to conduct original scientific research in an area of interest. Students work closely with one or more members of the Natural science faculty to develop and conduct a research project, then present their findings orally during the semester’s undergraduate research symposium and in a formal research paper. Students are encouraged to present their findings at a conference. Prerequisite: junior/senior status and a major in the natural sciences, prior approval by the project advisor, and consent of the instructor. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. May be repeated for a maximum total of 8 semester hours. Identical to CHEM 489, CS 489, and EES 489. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

115 Human Genetics (4)

An introduction to the science of genetics. Emphasis is placed on human genetics and the genetics of organisms that are important to mankind. A course for everyone concerned about how our genetic makeup affects what we are, what we do, and what we transmit to future generations. Areas such as evolution, reproduction, different types of inheritance and population genetics are explored. Designed for the non-science major. Offered each spring.

120 Microbes and Man (4)

An introductory biology course using microbiology as the unifying concept to explore many of the facets of the study of life. Topics include: the evolution and classification of life, cell structure and metabolism, the major roles microbes play in ecosystems, molecular genetics, control of microbial growth, biotechnology, the human immune system, and major viral and bacterial diseases of humans. Designed for non-biology majors. Offered on demand.

121 Microbes and Man Laboratory (1)

An introductory biological science lab course designed to accompany BIO 120. Students have the opportunity to learn a number of basic scientific techniques including: the correct use of microscopes, basic aseptic techniques, how to handle microbial cultures, basic bacterial identification, cell structure and function, and how to design and conduct simple experiments using microorganisms. Offered for non-biology majors. $50 lab fee. Offered on demand.

151 Introduction to Marine Biology Laboratory (1)

An introductory laboratory study of the organisms and communities of marine and estuarine areas. The lab includes field and laboratory identifications of local organisms and investigations in a variety of local field habitats. Designed for non-science majors. $50 lab fee. Offered each fall.

250 Field Experiences in Biology (4)

Provides students with an intensive field experience in a particular habitat. Studies are conducted to examine the interrelationship between organisms and their environment within specific habitats. May be repeated for credits as topics change. Does not fulfill the Natural Sciences requirement for Latin Honors. Lab fee.

280 General Horticulture (4)

A course designed to acquaint students with factors necessary to grow and maintain plants. Ideal for those interested in learning applied skills in botany. Students apply knowledge gained in lecture to projects in the greenhouse. Offered on demand.

375 Topics in Tropical Biology (4)

Features an intensive field experience in neotropical ecosystems (e.g., sea caves, mangrove swamps, coral reefs and rainforests). Descriptive field studies for everyone concerned about how our genetic makeup affects what we are, what we do, and what we transmit to future generations. Areas such as evolution, reproduction, different types of inheritance and population genetics are explored. Designed for the non-science major. Offered each spring.

445 Limnology (4)

Introduces the study of fresh waters, including lake, pond, river, and stream ecosystems. Emphasis is placed on physical processes, primary and secondary productivity, biochemical cycling, and food web interactions across all trophic levels. Offered on demand.

480 Readings in Biology (1)

An advanced seminar that discusses readings from the primary literature on various announced topics in biology. May be repeated for credit as topics change. Offered on demand.

484 Microbiology Laboratory (1)

Techniques of culturing and identifying microorganisms are taught. Procedures include: culturing, staining, determination of microbial numbers, effect of environmental influences, identification of enzymatic reaction, and isolation and identification of bacterial cultures. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

485 Seminar in Biology (1)

An advanced seminar on various topics in biology. Each student conducts in-depth library research on a topic of interest and presents a seminar to the department. Prerequisite: senior/junior status and a major or minor in the natural sciences. Offered each spring.

BUSINESS

Through a firm commitment to the liberal arts, global perspectives, and ethical decision-making, the Management, Business, and Economics Department develops leaders committed to creating sustainable social, environmental, and economic value through effective and responsible business practices. The business major combines a practical business education with a commitment to the Principles of Responsible Management Education (PRIME) as developed by the United Nations in support of its Global Compact, a framework of universally accepted principles in the areas of human rights, labor, the environment, and anti-corruption. The MBE Department is firmly committed to the interdisciplinary nature of successful management education; thus the business major integrates its core curriculum with allied coursework in a variety of disciplines while providing opportunities for career-based specialization through coursework and internships. It prepares graduates with the skills, knowledge, and attitudes necessary to manage society's rapidly changing institutions both efficiently and humanely. Moreover, the interdisciplinary nature of the program provides solid preparation for a wide variety of graduate degree programs.

BUSINESS COURSES (MBE)

100 Introduction to Economics (4)
- Provides students with a solid foundation in economic literacy and reasoning. Topics include scarcity, incentives, and choice; resource allocation; exchange, competition, and markets; economic efficiency; investment, production, and income; money, interest rates, and GDP; business cycles and governmental policies. Emphasizes active learning and current economic issues and problems. Offered each semester.

203 Accounting I (4)
- A study of the basic principles and systems of accounting that underlie financial reporting. Heavy emphasis is placed on actual bookkeeping to relate concepts. Requires math competency in basic addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, percentages, and ratios. Offered each fall.

204 Accounting II (4)
- The second semester of this two-part course covers the collection of accounting data to prepare financial reports for management use in planning and controlling. Prerequisite: MBE 203. Offered each spring.

216 Taxation (4)
- A study of the tax environment and the codes, regulations, and court decisions as they relate to income tax problems of individuals, including tax preparation and tax research. Prerequisite: sophomore status or above. Offered each fall.

301 Principles of Management (4)
- A study of the art and science of management in relation to the functions of planning, organizing, directing, and controlling. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, MBE 201 and 203, and junior status. Offered each semester.

303 Financial Accounting Theory I (4)
- A study of the theory and application of generally accepted accounting principles. Emphasizes financial statement presentation, current assets and liabilities, intangible assets, and operational assets. Prerequisites: MBE 203 and 204. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

304 Financial Accounting Theory II (4)
- A continuation of MBE 303. Emphasizes corporate equity accounts, long-term investments and liabilities, cash flows, pension costs, current value accounting, and foreign currency transactions. Prerequisites: MBE 203, 204, and 303. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

310 Money, Banking, and Financial Institutions (4)
- The basics of monetary policy in terms of public policy. Includes the study of the Federal Reserve System, commercial bank lending, investments, money, and capital markets. Prerequisites: MBE 201 and 202. Offered each fall.

316 Marketing Principles (4)
- Builds upon the analytical and communication skills gained in lower-level courses. Students gain an understanding of products and services, channels of distribution, pricing strategies, and elements of promotion. Prerequisites: MBE 201 and 203. Offered each semester.

322 Financial Management (4)
- A study of human resource process including such issues as recruiting, selection, training, performance appraisal, and compensation. Learning activities include experiential and group exercises, discussions, web-based topics, and case analysis on HRM framework and application to cases, analytical issue papers, oral presentations, and job opportunities. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and MBE 301, or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

324 Human Resource Management (4)
- A study of the major problems and issues in economic development and the economies of less developed countries with respect to achieving social and economic goals. Prerequisites: MBE 201 and 202. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

332 Economic Development (4)
- Focuses on the increasing degree of international trade and multinational corporations. Analyzes international exchange, marketing, and personnel policies. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each fall.

333 International Business (4)
- Students develop a conceptual framework for the development, implementation, and evaluation of an accounting information system. Primary topics include system understanding and documentation, risk analysis, and typical accounting transaction cycles. The lab experience provides application of system concepts to popular software applications. Prerequisite: MBE 203. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

340 Forensic Accounting (4)
- Identical to CJ 340.
345 Managerial Cost Accounting (4)
A study of cost accounting, budget analysis, and other advanced concepts used by manufacturers and other large businesses or non-profit organizations. Prerequisite: MBE 303 and 204. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

348 Marketing Management: Integrated Marketing Communications (4)
An advanced marketing course in which students apply principles learned in earlier marketing and communication courses through the development of a marketing plan. Prerequisite: MBE 316 or consent. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

350 Supply Chain Management and Logistics (4)
Provides an understanding of supply chain management and logistics processes as they apply to both service and manufacturing organizations. Special consideration is given to identifying ways in which the strategic use of supply chain management can create competitive advantages for firms. Prerequisite: MBE 301 or 316. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

373 Conflict Management (4) S,W
Examines conflict processes within and between organizations and alternative approaches to conflict management, drawing on the contributions of several disciplines and experience in organization, community, and labor dispute management. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Identical to POLS 373. Offered each fall.

414 Internship Exploration and Design (4)
Students find, design, and maximize the independent learning experience to be undertaken in the spring internship courses, MBE 416 and 417. A major outcome is the negotiation of a learning plan agreement with a sponsoring organization. Prerequisites: a major in business with a 3.0 or higher GPA, all required major and general studies requirements completed at least concurrently, and admission to the internship program. Offered each fall.

416 Management Internship (12)
Students implement their work-and-learning agreement devised in MBE 414 for full-time placement (16 weeks or a minimum of 600 total hours) as a pre-professional in their sponsoring organization. They gain practical experience in applying previously acquired knowledge and managerial skills. Students self-evaluate and are evaluated by their organizational supervisor. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisite: MBE 414; must co-register for MBE 417. Offered each spring.

417 Internship Seminar (1) W
Integrates management theory, especially ethical analysis and action, with general studies knowledge while enhancing business skills during a full-time internship. Weekly written and oral reports, two major reflection papers, and a strategic management simulation enhance learning. Prerequisite: MBE 414; must co-register for MBE 416. Offered each spring.

400 Seminar in Managerial Ethics (4) W
A course in which students construct for themselves a conceptual framework for examining and making decisions about ethical practices in managerial organizations. Learning activities include self-evaluation exercises, class discussions, readings on ethical frameworks and applying them to cases, analytical issue papers, and oral reports. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, MBE 301, 316, 322, and senior status, or consent. Offered each semester.

406 Senior Seminar: Management Strategy (4) S,W
A case-oriented course that explains how and why a well-conceived, well-executed strategy nearly always enhances a company's long-term performance. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, senior status, MBE 301, 316, 322, 400, and all other general studies requirements completed at least concurrently. Offered each semester.

411 Global Commerce (4)
Introduces the opportunities and constraints posed by the ever-expanding global trade environment. It provides an overview of the concerns that may impact the modern manager in many organizations. Concepts such as multinational trade, trading blocs such as NAFTA, legal issues involved in international commerce, as well as the importance of cultural/regional characteristics are presented. Through active involvement and outside-the-classroom research, observation, and study, the student is encouraged to examine a wide range of issues as they relate to global commerce, including transnational transactions, communications, and transportation. Travel course repeatable for additional credit. Prerequisite: valid passport.

246 Personal Financial Planning (4)
Introduces the principles of individual financial planning. Topics covered include goal setting and decision making, career planning, saving and investing, credit, and insurance.

305 International Accounting Theory (4)
Concentrates on accounting for firms engaged in international commerce. Translation of foreign currency financial statements, and for branches, subsidiaries, mergers, acquisitions, and divestitures of multinational corporations. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

330 History of Economic Thought (4)
An introductory course focusing on the development of economic thought from Adam Smith up to the present. Emphasis is on the correlation between successive stages of growth in economic theory. Writers covered include Smith, Ricardo, Malthus, Marx, Marshall, Keynes, Galbraith, and Friedman. Offered intermittently.

331 Managerial Economics (4)
Emphasizes business applications of microeconomic tools and concepts. Includes analysis of demand, cost, production functions, and alternative pricing theories. Offered intermittently.

334 Economic Modeling and Forecasting (4)
An applications-oriented course which gives the quantitatively competent student experience in data collection and analysis with the use of computer statistical programs. A review of basic statistics precedes development of the bivariate regression model. Additional topics may include multiple regression, serial correlation, multicollinearity, and dummy variables. Offered intermittently.

343 Government & Not-for-Profit Accounting (4)
A study of appropriate accounting for such entities as governments, colleges, churches, hospitals, charities, and clubs. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

355 Auditing (4)
A study of the theory and procedure of public auditing and internal auditing from the standpoint of professional ethics, auditors' legal responsibilities, detection and control of fraud, client relationships, and the nature of auditing and advisory services. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

407 Senior Seminar: Small Business Planning (4)
By preparing a comprehensive business plan, students sharpen their understanding of management, integrate strategic thinking with operational concerns, and explore the role of small business in the American economy. Emphasis is on synthesizing knowledge and skills gained in previous courses. Offered intermittently.

408 Senior Seminar: Comparative Economic Systems (4)
Students engage in an in-depth, integrated study of the development and functioning of the American economic system compared with that of other countries. Offered intermittently.

490 Independent Study in Management (1-8)
Designed to allow students to undertake an experience-based project and/or to do specific reading, research, and report writing. A topic in management not covered through the regular curriculum. To be taken only upon approval of a supervising professor within the department. Applications must be made no later than the end of the preceding semester. Offered on demand, but preferably during the summer.

491 Independent Integrated Study in Management (4)
Has the same design purpose and application procedure as MBE 490, but with the further requirements that (1) it must be taken for three semester hours, and (2) the enrolled student must bring synthesis to the particular area of study (and the process of learning) chosen. This synthesis is a paper putting the particular study into the context of historical perspective, world-view or paradigm perspective, the technological (empirical) perspective (including communications) and its consequences for the cultural or institutional system.
INFORMATION SYSTEMS COURSES (ISP)

101 Fundamentals of Information Systems (4)
Introduces students to the fundamental principles and practices of utilizing information systems to help organizations achieve their goals and carry out their missions. While the course serves as the introductory course in the Information Systems Program curriculum, it is a suitable elective for any student interested in the subject. Students should have a working knowledge of internet use and computer applications such as word processing, spreadsheets, presentation graphics, and e-mail. Offered each semester.

105 Information Systems and Computer Applications (4)
Students explore current topics in the field of computer science/information systems beyond the introductory level covered in CS 100, including computer networks, effective use of the Internet, and ethical and legal issues related to the use of information technology. Students learn to use the more advanced features of software applications such as word processing, spreadsheets, database, and presentation programs. Offered intermittently.

CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

(Also see page 50)

Dr. Paul B. Rason, Director

The study of religious freedom is inherently interdisciplinary. It is concerned with the critical First Amendment issues of free exercise of religion and church-state separation, as well as the larger political, social and religious contexts within which these issues arise. This means that it draws on a wide range of disciplines, including history, law, philosophy, political science, sociology, and religious studies. The study of religious freedom at Virginia Wesleyan College may be engaged through the many educational programs offered by the Center for the Study of Religious Freedom as well as through CSRIF courses.

CSRF COURSES (CSRF)

232 Religion and American Politics (4) V
Investigates the relationship between religion and politics in the United States, especially the role of traditional religious identities and issues, while acknowledging non-traditional religious movements, ideas, and issues. Emphasizes upcoming elections. Students are expected to be informed on the current debates in the various national elections which form basis of class discussions and student presentations. Identical to RELST 232. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

233 Religious Battles in Court (4)
Introduces students to the relationship between religion and American law. Students explore the origins, history, and current legal foundations guiding disputes over religious freedom, providing the backdrop for discussions of current issues such as abortion, gay marriage, and euthanasia. Identical to RELST 233. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

100 Religious Freedom Symposium (1)
A non-traditional course that explores in greater depth the themes addressed in the Center’s Symposium series. Students attend the symposium programs, read background materials and participate in discussions primarily on line. Pass/fail grading. Offered intermittently.

275 Religious Freedom in America (4)
Examines the historical development and present state of religious freedom in the United States. Topics include Jefferson’s Virginia Statute for Religious Freedom, the concepts of Establishment and Free Exercise of religion in the U.S. Constitution, and current controversies over the role of religion in American public life. Offered intermittently.

CHEMISTRY COURSES (CHEM)

120 Introductory Chemistry (4) L
An introduction to chemical principles, including atomic and molecular structure, states of matter, chemical reactions, stoichiometry, thermodynamics, and chemical equilibria. Most of the work is quantitative in nature. Emphasizes development of problem solving skills. Lecture four hours, laboratory three hours each week. Prerequisites: high school chemistry, CHEM 105 or equivalent or PHSC 100 or equivalent and math placement H, A or B, or MATH 104 or 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each fall.

200 Inorganic Chemistry (4) L
An integrated lecture and laboratory experience introducing the concepts of inorganic chemistry in light of modern theory. Topics include chemical periodicity, bonding, kinetics, descriptive chemistry, coordination chemistry, oxidation-reduction, electrochemistry, and solid-state structure, as well as techniques for synthesis and characterization of inorganic compounds. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 117 with consent or CHEM 120. Offered each spring.
210 Analytical Chemistry (4) L
Applies analytical techniques to inorganic, organic, and biochemical systems. The experimental methods include volumetric and gravimetric analysis, chromatographic, and spectrophotometric techniques. Prerequisite: CHEM 118 or 120. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

221 Organic Chemistry I (4) L
A comprehensive survey of the chemistry of carbon compounds, including their structure, properties, reactions, reaction mechanisms, spectroscopy, and stereochemistry, with a focus on hydrocarbons, halocarbons, and alcohols. Introduces modern organic laboratory techniques, including purification methods, organic synthesis, and product analysis. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 118 or 120. Offered each fall.

222 Organic Chemistry II (4) L
A comprehensive survey of the chemistry of carbon compounds, including their structure, properties, reactions, reaction mechanisms, spectroscopy, and stereochemistry, with a focus on aromatic, amine, and carbonyl compounds. Development of organic laboratory skills, including microscale techniques, organic synthesis, product analysis, and spectroscopy. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 221 or 311. Offered each spring.

270 Environmental Chemistry (4) L
An exploration of the earth system and human perturbations to that system from a chemical perspective. Topics covered include ozone depletion, persistent organic pollutants, wastewater treatment, and toxicity of environmental contaminants. Laboratory exercises give students experience in environmental sampling and analysis. Prerequisites: CHEM 117 and 118. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Identical to EES 270. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

305 Teaching Experience (1)
Qualified students assist chemistry faculty in teaching chemistry courses and laboratories. May be repeated for credit, but students may apply no more than 4 semester hours toward graduation. Prerequisite: consent. Offered each semester.

330 Biochemistry (4) L,W
A survey of the chemistry within biological systems, including the structure and function of biomolecules, molecular components of cells, enzymes, and cellular metabolism. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Prerequisite: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and CHEM 222 or 312. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

345 Forensic Science Methods (4) L
A comprehensive evaluation of current developments in the research, instrumentation, and laboratory technology used to detect, identify, analyze, and compare evidence generated by criminal activity. Prerequisites: CHEM 118 or 120. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

347 Physical Chemistry I (4) L
A comprehensive survey of the physical-chemical behavior of matter, including thermodynamics, equilibrium, and electrochemistry. Introduces electrochemistry, modern laboratory techniques, including instrumental-based studies of equilibrium, electrochemical properties, and mixture analyses. Prerequisites: CHEM 210, MATH 172, and PHYS 222. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

348 Physical Chemistry II (4) L
A mathematical treatment of physical-chemical properties and chemical reactions, with emphasis on quantum mechanics, spectroscopy, and kinetics. Prerequisite: CHEM 347. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

418 Advanced Biochemistry (4)
A comprehensive study of complex biochemical processes, with an emphasis on cellular metabolism and its regulation, cellular signaling, and cellular information transfer. Prerequisites: CHEM 330. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

450 Global Environmental Cycles (4) L
Explores the connections among the atmosphere, hydrosphere, lithosphere, and biosphere through exploration of global cycling of nutrients and pollutants. Students investigate these biogeochemical cycles through analysis of primary research articles, field measurements, chemical analysis, and a self-designed research project. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and a major in the natural sciences. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Identical to EES 450. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

489 Research in the Natural Sciences (2)
Offers students the opportunity to conduct original scientific research in an area of interest. Students work closely with one or more members of the natural science faculty to develop and conduct a research project, then present their findings orally during the semester's undergraduate research symposium and as a formal research paper. Students are encouraged to present their findings at a conference. Prerequisite: junior/senior status and a major in the natural sciences, prior approval by the project advisor, and consent of the instructor. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. May be repeated for a maximum total of 8 semester hours. Identical to BIO 489, CS 489, EES 489, and MATH 489. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

470 Internship in the Natural Sciences (2)
An intensive study of a specific field of science through an on-site field experience with hands-on learning opportunities that are relevant to the chosen site. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. A minimum of 80 hours devoted to the internship is expected for 2 semester hours, and a minimum of 160 hours is expected for 4 semester hours, but some placements may require more time. Students must coordinate their internship placement with the supervising faculty member at least two months prior to placement. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and consent. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

480 Instrumental Methods of Analysis (4) L
A study of the instrumental methods used in characterizing chemical systems. Topics include optical methods, electroanalytical methods, atomic and molecular spectroscopy, and chromatography methods. Examines analytical techniques from an instrumental and chemical point of view. Prerequisites: CHEM 210 and 8 additional semester hours in chemistry. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours each week. Offered each spring.

CLASSICS COURSES (CLAS)

105 Classical Mythology (4)

Explores myths and myth-making, with particular emphasis on texts offered in the Classics Program, and the limitations they historically faced and the changes that occurred in women's status according to place and time.

370 The Ancient World in the Cinema (4) A

Studies how ancient Greece and Rome continue to interest and influence us through the modern medium of cinema. Includes readings of selected ancient texts and emphasis on historical accuracy in depictions of the ancient world.

450 Senior Seminar in Classics (4) LW

Offers students the opportunity to examine a chosen topic and to present the results in a public oral defense. Prerequisites: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and senior status, with a major in Classical Studies or Latin. Offered annually as needed.

The following course(s) are undergoing revision to fit the new enhanced, 4 x 4 curriculum. Thus, course numbers, titles, prerequisites, and offering information are subject to change.

120 Introduction to Classical Archaeology (4)

Introduces students to the methods common to both old and new world archaeology. This is followed by an introduction to the material remains of the ancient Greek world, with particular emphasis on the Athenian Agora. Offered on demand.

263 World Literature I (4)

A survey of major literary works ranging chronologically from Ancient Near Eastern Epic to the European Middle Ages. Part 1 of the class will emphasize the close reading of ancient literature within its immediate cultural context and the analysis of this literature in well-argued papers. Offered when circumstances permit.

264 World Literature II (4)

A survey of major works in world literature from the Renaissance to the present day, with an emphasis on texts outside the British and American traditions. Particular attention is given to texts that put themselves in dialogue with Ancient Near Eastern and Classical Greek and Roman literature traditions. Offered when circumstances permit.
GREEK COURSES (GREK)

121 Beginning Ancient Greek I (4)
An introduction to the grammar, syntax, and vocabulary of ancient Greek. Completion of the year-long sequence prepares students to read connected passages in ancient texts such as the dialogues of Plato or the New Testament; emphasis on Attic Greek or Koine dialects varies according to the instructor and interest of the class. Does not count toward the foreign language requirement. Offered on demand.

122 Beginning Ancient Greek II (4)
An introduction to the grammar, syntax, and vocabulary of ancient Greek. Completion of the year-long sequence prepares students to read connected passages in ancient texts such as the dialogues of Plato or the New Testament; emphasis on Attic Greek or Koine dialects varies according to the instructor and interest of the class. Does not count toward the foreign language requirement. Offered on demand.

213 Intermediate Latin (4)
Introduces students to advanced grammar as they read a real Latin text such as the poems of Catullus or the speeches of Cicero. The primary goal is to gain facility in reading Latin, but the course also introduces students to ancient Roman literary aesthetics and culture. Focuses on translation and reading skills rather than speaking/listening skills. May be used toward fulfillment of the language requirement. Prerequisite: LATN 112 or equivalent. Offered each year.

305 Topics in Latin Prose (4)
Reading and translation from one or more Latin prose authors arranged by author (e.g., Apuleius) or by topic or genre (e.g., the Roman novel, Arthurian legends, etc.). May be repeated for credit as the topic varies. Prerequisite: LATN 213 or placement. Offered on demand.

306 Topics in Latin Poetry (4)
Reading and translation from one or more Latin poets, arranged by author (e.g., Virgil) or by topic or genre (e.g., lyric, epic). May be repeated for credit as the topic varies. Prerequisite: LATN 212 or placement. LATN 305 is not a prerequisite. Offered on demand.

The following course(s) are undergoing revision to fit the new enhanced, 4 x 4 curriculum. Thus, course numbers, titles, prerequisites, and offering information are subject to change.

471 Practicum in the Teaching of Latin (4)
A workshop setting introducing advanced students of Latin to current teaching methods in Latin language. Students serve as assistants in Elementary Latin while meeting regularly with the instructor to gain hands-on experience in the practical aspects of teaching Latin. Offered on demand.

LATIN COURSES (LATN)

111 Beginning Latin I (4)
Introduces the elements of the language of the Ancient Romans: vocabulary, syntax, and grammar. Students learn how to translate sentences and short stories. Focuses on translation and reading skills. Offered each year.

112 Beginning Latin II (4)
Introduces the elements of the language of the Ancient Romans: vocabulary, syntax, and grammar. Students learn how to translate sentences and short stories. Focuses on translation and reading skills. Prerequisite: LATN 111. May be used toward fulfillment of the language requirement. Offered each year.

213 Intermediate Latin (4)
Introduces students to advanced grammar as they read a real Latin text such as the poems of Catullus or the speeches of Cicero. The primary goal is to gain facility in reading Latin, but the course also introduces students to ancient Roman literary aesthetics and culture. Focuses on translation and reading skills rather than speaking/listening skills. May be used toward fulfillment of the language requirement. Prerequisite: LATN 112 or equivalent. Offered each year.

COMMUNICATION

COMMUNICATION COURSES (COMM)

101 Introduction to Media Studies (4)
Introduces students to the role played by mass media in culture. Media institutions and technologies are examined in terms of their histories, economic and legal characteristics, and contemporary social influence. Offered each semester.

210 Audio Production Workshop (1)
Introduces students to fundamental aspects of a variety of audio applications, including field recording, studio recording, and multitrack production. Offered each spring.

211 Understanding Film (4)
A survey of film as an artistic and cultural medium. The course explores film historically and aesthetically, considering aspects of film technology, style, narrative, genre, and ideology. Emphasis is placed on historically important films, filmmakers, and film movements, but contemporary trends are also addressed. Offered each spring.

222 Public Speaking (4)
An individualized introduction to the theory and practice of informative and persuasive speech communication. Extensive class discussions are explored in depth while impromptu and group communication are also examined. The communication model is stressed, including sender, receiver, message (verbal and non-verbal) channel, noise, and feedback. Offered each semester.

250 Digital Filmmaking I (4)
Introduces students to the techniques and traditions of fictional narrative film making. Emphasis is placed on principles of visual storytelling and conventions of continuity and composition, videography, editing, and sound design. Students also learn the fundamentals of screenwriting. Offered each semester.

300 Media Law and Ethics (4)
Examines the legal principles and regulatory structures, primarily in the areas of First Amendment law and copyright, governing print and electronic media. Additional discussion concerns ethical standards and potential ethical dilemmas faced by working media professionals. Prerequisite: COMM 101 or 211 and junior/senior status. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

312 The Art of Animation (4)
An in-depth look at the history of animation as a developing art form. The course also looks at animation as a reflection of culture and as a business. Prerequisite: COMM 101 (formerly 211) or consent. Offered intermittently.

320 Experimental Film and Video (4)
Explores the history and theory of experimental film and video through lecture, discussion, reading, and screenings and through creative action. Students produce their own avant-garde video as they learn the form’s aesthetic heritage and contemporary developments. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.
321 Theories and Methods in Mass Communication (4)
An overview of the theories and research methods that characterize the study of mass communication. Students use theory as a lens for conducting their own studies using surveys, experiments, field research, content analysis, and qualitative techniques. Prerequisite: COMM 101 and junior/senior status. Offered each semester.

325 Organizational Communication (4)
Examines all forms of communication in any profit or non-profit organization. Combines theory and practice to understand intended and unintended messages. Topics include culture, networking, impact of technology, medium and channel, and rhetorical purpose. Offered each spring.

326 Persuasion and the Media (4)
An examination of the methods and techniques that advertisers use to persuade audiences. Prerequisite: COMM 101 (formerly 211). Offered each fall.

328 Public Relations (4)
An introduction to the public relations and advertising profession with an emphasis on writing. Students examine the role of public relations and advertising in a free society and the demands and constraints, including ethical ones, placed upon them. They write background or briefing papers, press releases, informational and persuasive copy, and find promotable elements in products and services. Identical to COMM 328. Offered each semester.

330 Historical Methods for Journalists (4)
A course in personal journalism, encouraging students to participate in the lives of their subjects and assist, and evaluate staff; and produce a responsible, quality publication. Offered each semester.

331 Children and the Media (4)
A study of children as a media audience with a particular focus on contemporary digital media. Attention is given to both prosocial and antisocial effects of the media. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

333 Special Topics in Media Studies (4)
An investigation of selected themes, genres, directors, periods, or topics in mass media and cultural studies. Sample topics include “American Silent Film,” “The Movies of 1939,” “The Films of the Coen Brothers,” “Women and Film,” “The Documentary Tradition,” and “The Western.” Prerequisite: COMM 101 or consent. May be repeated if the topic is different.

335 Christian Theology and Film (4)
Explores how the fields of theology and film studies cross-fertilize each other, with special attention given to the ways in which film functions as religious discourse. Students investigate the historical evolution of film as a means of communicating theological doctrines or themes through its narrative patterns and analyze how religious and secular films can be constructed as cultural texts that advise not only how one should live, but what one should believe. Emphasizes the semiotic nature of film, various hermeneutics of film, and how audiences receive and appropriate both manifest and latent religious meanings. Prerequisite: 3 semester hours in communication, English, history, philosophy, or religious studies. Identical to RELST 335. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

411 Senior Seminar in Communication Studies (4) I,W
In-depth investigation into the art, history, culture, and ethics of various media through the lens of a particular topic. For example, students may explore the construct of celebrity or friendship as formulated, manufactured, and disseminated through mediated channels. Prerequisite: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, COMM 101 (formerly 211), and COMM 321 (formerly 323/324). Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

481 Internship in Communication (4)
A significant, practical learning experience for the student of communication and, as such, a required component of the program of studies. Students may complete one or two internships as part of the major. All internships must be approved by the program coordinator. Offered each semester.

The following course(s) are undergoing revision to the new enhanced, 4 x 4 curriculum.

318 Investigative Reporting (4)
An introduction to the methods and techniques that are used to conduct investigative journalism. Topics include history and development of investigative journalism. Prerequisite: 3 semester hours in communication, preferably a number of years.

330 Historical Methods for Journalists (4)
A course in personal journalism, encouraging students to participate in the lives of their subjects and assist, and evaluate staff; and produce a responsible, quality publication. Offered each semester.

JOURNALISM COURSES (JOUR)

201 Introduction to Journalism (4)
An introduction to the study of newsgathering, reporting, and writing across multiple media platforms, including ethical, legal, and stylistic considerations. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each semester.

210 Journalism Workshop (4)
A practical workshop in which students contribute to The Marlin Chronicle, Virginia Wesleyan’s student newspaper, as writers, designers, and photographers. Students are encouraged to discover and develop a specialty. Prerequisite: JOUR 201 or consent. Offered each semester.

285 Editors in the Workshop (1)
An opportunity for editors of The Marlin Chronicle to superintend the professional performance of their sections. Editors run weekly budget meetings, make assignments; encourage, assist, and evaluate staff; and produce a responsible, quality publication. Offered each semester.

397 Feature Writing (4)
Students pursue the principles of researching, interviewing, and writing several different kinds of feature stories, including editorials, columns, and lifestyle pieces. Special topics include sports, travel, food and humor. Prerequisite: JOUR 201 or consent.

435 Advanced Newswriting (4)
An advanced course in the collection and reporting of news in which students are expected to demonstrate independence and initiative in their travel course in southern California. Prerequisite: three semester hours of communication, preferably a film history course.

345 Intercultural Communication (4)
Students develop a number of intercultural competencies that are useful both in professional and private settings, and are essential for global understanding and tolerance. Offered intermittently.

350 Advanced Video Production (4)
Students expand their knowledge of video production techniques into a more sophisticated and technical realm. The four main disciplines (videography, lighting, editing, and studio) are covered in significant depth using professional-grade equipment. Students demonstrate their mastery through a group of exercises and a main production assignment. Offered each fall.

JOURNALISM COURSES (JOUR)

201 Introduction to Journalism (4)
An introduction to the study of newsgathering, reporting, and writing across multiple media platforms, including ethical, legal, and stylistic considerations. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each semester.

210 Journalism Workshop (4)
A practical workshop in which students contribute to The Marlin Chronicle, Virginia Wesleyan’s student newspaper, as writers, designers, and photographers. Students are encouraged to discover and develop a specialty. Prerequisite: JOUR 201 or consent. Offered each semester.

285 Editors in the Workshop (1)
An opportunity for editors of The Marlin Chronicle to superintend the professional performance of their sections. Editors run weekly budget meetings, make assignments; encourage, assist, and evaluate staff; and produce a responsible, quality publication. Offered each semester.

397 Feature Writing (4)
Students pursue the principles of researching, interviewing, and writing several different kinds of feature stories, including editorials, columns, and lifestyle pieces. Special topics include sports, travel, food and humor. Prerequisite: JOUR 201 or consent.

435 Advanced Newswriting (4)
An advanced course in the collection and reporting of news in which students are expected to demonstrate independence and initiative in their work. Each student learns to develop a beat and make use of sources. Emphasis is placed on skepticism. Prerequisite: JOUR 201. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

328 Public Relations (4)
Identical to COMM 328.

The following course(s) are undergoing revision to the new enhanced, 4 x 4 curriculum. Thus, course numbers, titles, prerequisites, and offering information are subject to change.

200 News and Documentary Video (4)
Introduces students to the techniques, traditions, and legal aspects of nonfiction video production. Emphasis is on completion of two short projects (a news feature and a short documentary) and mastery of a technical principles of photography, location lighting, and nonlinear editing. Offered each spring.

303 Design and Editing (4)
An exploration of design and editing concepts in contemporary journalistic, with attention to communicating clearly through visuals and words. Through numerous exercises and class discussions, students learn about content, typographical details, headline writing, and photojournalism. Course fee. Offered each fall.

310 Critical Writing in Journalism (4)
Introduces students to evaluative writing in the arts, with emphasis on fiction and film. Students study and review a number of exemplary works as well as some of their own selection. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

330 Historical Methods for Journalists (4)
Offers students an introduction to historical research methods. Provides journalists with basic historical research skills. Students learn how to conduct primary research in archives and libraries, evaluate secondary sources, engage changing historical interpretations, interview historical subjects, and write authoritative historical articles aimed at popular and scholarly audiences. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

335 Creative NonFiction (4)
A course in personal journalism, encouraging students to participate in the lives of their subjects and the events they cover. Each student writes several stories requiring a fly-on-the-wall or a participatory approach. Included are readings from top practitioners of the form. Offered spring of even-numbered years.
337 Great Works in Journalism (4)
A reading course of major works demonstrating that effective journalistic writing can also be art. Students analyze substance, style and structure in book-length nonfiction by Twain, London, Capote, and others. Offered intermitently.

343 Online Journalism (4)
Offers a critical survey of new media, particularly in the context of journalism. Special attention is paid to the search for a news style of narrative - one that could take advantage of the use of text, hypertext, photos, images in motion, audio and databases. The course enables students to understand the complex interactions between the Internet and society and think critically about the ways which new media inform our everyday lives. Offered each spring.

COMPREHENSIVE LIBERAL STUDIES

DR. CLAY DREES, Program Coordinator

The Comprehensive Liberal Studies major (CLS) offers students with unusual and varied interests the opportunity to design an individual program of study that closely reflects the interdisciplinary nature of the liberal arts. It is a unique major that, unlike more traditional departmental approaches, allows students to pursue the study of disparate subject areas in the humanities, social sciences and mathematics divisions. At the same time, students declaring the CLS also identify and explain a clear intellectual focus that serves to define and unify the major they create.

The CLS major consists of 44 semester hours drawn from courses in the three academic divisions. Over half of these 44 semester hours must be taken at the 300/400 level, and must be spread across at least two of the academic divisions. In addition, a CLS major must adhere to the following guidelines:

- Sixteen semester hours must be taken in each of two academic divisions, while twelve semester hours must be taken in a third academic division.
- At least 24 of the 44 total semester hours in the major must be taken at the 300/400 level. These 24 upper-level hours must be distributed across at least two academic divisions.
- No more than half the semester hours earned in any one division may be drawn from the same discipline or department.
- Only one, interdisciplinary course designated INST may be counted in either the Humanities or Social Science groupings, but not in the N&S&M group.

- At least one lab science course must be included as part of the major.
- English and foreign language courses serving to satisfy VWC's core general studies requirements are excluded, but courses satisfying general studies Frames of Reference, Writing (other than core English courses), Quantitative, Textual Analysis, Lab Science and SIE requirements may be included.
- A 2.5 grade point average in the courses comprising the CLS is required for graduation. When formally declaring this major, the student must file a Declaration of Major form with the Office of the Registrar at least two semesters before graduation, summer not counting as a semester. In addition, a contract outlining the plan of study must be worked out in close consultation with an academic advisor, who can be a full-time faculty member from any one of the three academic divisions. This contract consists of a tentative list of courses the student plans to take to complete the proposed program of study. It also includes a student essay declaring the goals and rationale for choosing this type of liberal studies major, and demonstrating an intellectual coherence and unifying theme that will serve to define and give clear direction to the major. Examples of this might include a study of forensic techniques used in criminal investigations as featured in American mystery novels, or the impact of the bacteria-borne Black Death pandemic on European religion and art in the late medieval and early modern periods. Complete contracts must also indicate which courses (whether or not they count toward the CLS) have been or will be taken to fulfill the college's requirements for "Oral Communication Competence" and "Computer Proficiency," and must explain in writing (if not readily apparent) specifically how the indicated courses fulfill these requirements. Contracts will be subject to initial approval by the student's faculty advisor and the director of the Comprehensive Liberal Studies major, both of whom (along with the student) will sign the completed contract. This contract is to be kept on file by the faculty advisor; it is renegotiable if courses listed on the contract become unavailable, but such modifications must be approved by the student, the faculty advisor and the CLS director.

See the next section, Comprehensive Liberal Studies—Curricular Emphasis, for teacher licensure information.

COMPREHENSIVE LIBERAL STUDIES—CURRICULAR EMPHASIS

DR. CLAY DREES, Program Coordinator

Students seeking teacher licensure with endorsement in Elementary Education (preK-6) or Special Education: General Curriculum (K-12) complete a major that reflects the interdisciplinary and interdependent nature of the liberal arts. The Comprehensive Liberal Studies major allows licensure candidates in the above areas to pursue studies in the college's three academic divisions while meeting the competencies of teachers recommended in the Virginia Board of Education's Regulations Governing the Review and Approval of Education Programs in Virginia. The courses listed below are pending approval by the Virginia Board of Education. A 2.5 GPA in the major is required for graduation and recommendation for licensure. Students seeking licensure with an endorsement in elementary or special education must also complete the 48 to 51 hours of professional education coursework outlined in the Education section of the VWC Catalog.

EARTH AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES

DR. J. CHRISTOPHER HALEY, Division Chairperson
DR. ELIZABETH G. MALCOLM, Program Coordinator
DR. GARY E. NOE
DR. MATTHEW H. SCHAEF

Earth and environmental sciences is a multi-disciplinary field that addresses the interactions between humans and the environment. Study in this field includes an understanding of the basic principles that govern geological, biological, and chemical interactions, as well as the applied context of developing solutions to current environmental... problems. The earth and environmental sciences curriculum is designed to provide a solid foundation in both earth science and environmental science and to support coursework in chemistry and biology. The B.A. program is designed to provide a broad background in the fundamentals of earth science for students who plan careers in secondary education, business, law, and other areas, or wish to pursue a double major. The B.S. program is intended for students who plan graduate work in earth or environmental sciences and thus require additional upper-level EES courses and additional preparation in mathematics.

Earth and Environmental Sciences Courses (EES)

130 Physical Geology without Laboratory (4)
Identical to EES 131 but with web-based assignments in lieu of a formal laboratory. Intended for those interested in learning about geology but who do not wish to take a lab, especially those pursuing teaching certification. Students intending to major in EES should take EES 131. Offered each fall.

131 Physical Geology with Laboratory (4)
Investigates the materials and processes that characterize the interior of our dynamic and ever-changing planet. Topics include rocks and minerals, volcanism, earthquakes, the origin of mountains, the vastness of geologic time, and the unifying theory of plate tectonics. Intended for those seeking laboratory general studies credit and/or those interested in pursuing a major in EES. Offered each fall semester and occasional spring semesters.

132 Environmental Geology without Laboratory (4)
Identical to EES 133 but with web-based assignments in lieu of a formal laboratory. Intended for those interested in learning about environmental geology but who do not wish to take a lab, especially those pursuing teaching certification. Students intending to major in EES should take EES 133. Offered each spring.
183 Environmental Geology with Laboratory (4) L
Investigates the interaction between people and the earth. Acquaints students with issues surrounding the origin, distribution, and exploitation of water, mineral, and energy resources. Natural hazards and their mitigation and issues surrounding Earth's climate are investigated. Intended for those seeking laboratory general studies credit and/or those interested in pursuing a major in EES. Offered each spring.

200 Oceanography (4) L
Explores the geology of the ocean basins and the physical and chemical nature of seawater. Topics studied include ocean waves, tides, and currents. Links between the oceans and the atmosphere are explored with special emphasis on the effect of oceans on climate, El Nino, and climate change. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Designed for science and non-science majors. Prerequisite or corequisite: math placement level H, A, or B, or MATH 104 or 105. Offered each fall, spring of even-numbered years.

210 Meteorology (4) L
An introduction to the atmosphere and the science behind weather phenomena such as clouds, hurricanes, and tornadoes. Students practice weather forecasting, use meteorological instrumentation, and analyze real and hypothetical meteorological datasets. Designed for science and non-science majors. Prerequisite or corequisite: math placement level H, A, or B, or MATH 104 or 105. Offered each fall, spring of odd-numbered years.

230 Energy and the Environment (4)
An introduction to the fundamental physical concepts underlying energy, its conversion, and its impact on the environment. Topics include fossil fuels, nuclear-fueled power plants, renewable forms of energy, pollution, and energy conversion. Prerequisite: math placement level H or A, or MATH 135. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

240 Geology of Mountain Belts (4) L
An introduction to the disciplines of stratigraphy and structural geology, focusing on mountain belts as case studies. Topics include the observation, description and interpretation of sedimentary rock record; the measurement and analysis of folds, faults and other features associated with tectonic uplift; and the tectonic history of the Appalachians. Prerequisites: EES 124/125 or EES 130/131 or consent. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Includes at least two required field trips to key locations in the central Appalachians. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

250 Field Experiences in Earth and Environmental Sciences (2)
Provides students with an intensive field experience in selected habitats as they conduct studies to examine various geological and biological topics. May be repeated for credit as topics change. Does not fulfill the Natural Science requirement for Latin honors. Lab fee. Offered in selected Winter Sessions or summers on demand.

270 Environmental Chemistry (4) L
An exploration of the earth system and human perturbations to that system from a chemical perspective. Topics covered include ozone depletion, persistent organic pollutants, wastewater treatment, and toxicity of environmental contaminants. Laboratory exercises give students experience in environmental sampling and analysis. Prerequisites: CHEM 117 and 118. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Identical to CHEM 270. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

300 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems (4) L
Introduces the computer-literate student to the underlying theory and practical applications of Geographic Information System technology. Lectures are interwoven with hands-on computer exercises that illustrate the principles, develop technical competence, and demonstrate the versatility of GIS. Individualized projects reinforce concepts and help students acquire the knowledge and confidence required to use GIS outside the classroom. Does not fulfill any requirements for Latin honors. Prerequisites: math placement level H, A, or B, and junior/senior status, or MATH 104 or 105, or consent. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

320 Environmental Geology
An introduction to the geological sites and sample areas relevant to the chosen site. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 semester hours in a given semester. A minimum of 40 hours devoted to the internship is expected for 2 semester hours, and a minimum of 60 hours is expected for 4 semester hours, but some placements may require more time. Students must coordinate their internship placement with the supervising faculty member at least two months prior to placement. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and consent. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

489 Research in the Natural Sciences (2)
Offers students the opportunity to conduct original senior research in an area of interest. Students work closely with one or more members of the natural science faculty to develop and conduct a research project, then present their findings orally during the semester's undergraduate research symposium and as a formal research paper. Students are encouraged to present their findings at a conference. Prerequisite: junior/senior status and a major in the natural sciences, prior approval by the project advisor, and consent of the instructor. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. May be repeated for a maximum total of 8 semester hours. Identical to BIO 489, CHEM 489, CS 489, and MATH 489. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

410 Watershed Hydrology (4)
An introduction to the underlying theory and practical applications of water science at the watershed scale. Lectures include brief in-class exercises and problems that illustrate hydrologic principles. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

485 Earth and Environmental Science for Secondary School Teachers (1-4)
Provides in-service middle and high school earth science teachers with an intensive survey of an advanced topic in the earth or environmental sciences. Topics covered are tailored to the needs of the school district requesting the course and may include such topics as historical or structural geology, oceanography or geographic information systems (GIS). The requirements for SOLs will strongly influence the selection of course material. Discussions include how to effectively convey the scientific information to students. Identical to GEOG 485. Prerequisite: consent. Offered on demand.

Alternative Certification for Teachers (ACT)

Virginia Wesleyan College is known for excellence in preparing classroom teachers. The Professional Education Program provides the highest quality of teaching methodology and disciplinary preparation in the content areas. Unique features of the program include a comprehensive liberal arts education, early field experiences, strong mentoring by faculty and staff, and the development of area school partnerships through advisory committees and school division contacts. The program is reviewed periodically by the Virginia Department of Education and approved by... the Virginia Board of Education. All programs fulfill the curricular requirements detailed in the Regulations Governing the Review and Approval of Education Programs in Virginia. Career assistance is provided to all candidates who successfully complete one of the approved programs.

Admission to the Professional Education Program

Students seeking teacher licensure must formally apply for admission to the Professional Education Program. Application packets are available in the Teacher Education office. Students are admitted to the program when they have met the following requirements:

1. Earn and maintain a GPA of at least 2.5 overall.
2. Earn passing scores (as established by the Virginia Department of Education) on Praxis I. Certain SAT/ACT scores may be accepted in lieu of Praxis I. Contact the Education Department for details.
3. Submit to the Education Department an application, an essay, and two faculty recommendations.
4. Achieve a grade of C or better in all professional education courses, including INST 202 and INST 203.

Students may not enroll in education courses beyond EDUC 225 or PSY 2xx, INST 202, and INST 203 until they have met these requirements. Transfer students may not enroll in education courses beyond their first semester at Virginia Wesleyan until they have met these requirements.

Students may not register for or participate in student teaching until they have been admitted to the Professional Education Program, completed all required coursework, passed all required professional exams, and passed Praxis II in the endorsement area.

Elementary Education Program

The student seeking elementary teacher certification completes the Liberal Studies major, along with the required general studies courses and the sequence of professional education courses. Careful coordination of these three sets of requirements is essential if the course of study is to be completed in four years. This program prepares the successful candidate for licensure with an endorsement in elementary education preK-6.

Special Education: General Curriculum (K-12)

The student seeking teacher certification in special education completes the Liberal Studies major, along with the required general studies courses and the sequence of professional education courses. Careful coordination of these three sets of requirements is essential if the course of study is to be completed in four years. This program prepares the successful candidate for licensure with an endorsement in Special Education: General Curriculum K-12.

Alternative Certification Program for Teachers (ACT)

The Alternative Certification for Teachers (ACT) program is designed to prepare career changers to become effective classroom teachers. Students in this program may choose to pursue elementary teacher certification (preK-6); secondary teacher certification (6-12) in English, math, science, history and social sciences; or teacher certification for preK-12 in visual arts, French, German, or Spanish. Students are admitted to the program when they have met the following requirements:

1. Hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university.
2. Have had at least one year of full-time work experience.
3. Submit passing scores (as established by the Virginia Department of Education) on Praxis I and VCLA. Certain SAT/ACT scores may be accepted in lieu of Praxis I. Contact the ACT Program for details.
EDUCATION COURSES (EDUC)

225 Characteristics of the Learner (4)
A course in human growth and development from birth through adolescence. Students learn about the physical, social, and intellectual development of children and how to use this knowledge to guide learning experiences and relate meaningfully to students. Includes discussion of social and individual differences that affect interaction including developmental disabilities, attention deficit disorders, gifted education, substance abuse, child abuse, and family disruptions.

319 Content Area Reading and Writing (4)
Provides prospective middle and secondary teachers with skills and strategies to lead students to become independent learners in all content areas. Emphasizes effective teaching of content using a repertoire of strategies for literal, inferential, critical, and evaluative comprehension; fostering appreciation of a variety of literature and the importance of independent reading; and using writing to evaluate and accelerate learning. Offered each semester.

320 Teaching Reading and the Language Arts (4)
Provides prospective elementary teachers with content skills that include oral language, reading, writing, and literature. Provides observation and instruction in an elementary school. All lesson plans made by students focus on Virginia Standards of Learning and assessment strategies. Prerequisites: EDUC 225 and INST 202. Offered each semester.

321 Literacy Development and Assessment (4)
Provides prospective teachers with strategies for organizing classroom assessment, diagnosis, and remediation of reading skills using both informal and standardized assessment tools. Focuses on developing proficiency in a wide variety of comprehension strategies, including fluency and vocabulary development, appreciation for a variety of literature, and independent reading, as well as the ability to promote progress with Virginia Standards of Learning end-of-course assessments. Includes instructional techniques to assist students with disabilities to achieve reading and comprehension skills. Prerequisites: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and EDUC 320. Offered each semester.

329 Curriculum and Instruction PreK-6 (4)
Provides teacher candidates with an understanding of the principles of learning; the application of skills in discipline-specific methodology; communication process; selection and use of materials, including media and computers; and evaluation of pupil performance including interpreting and analyzing valid assessments to make teaching decisions. Includes teaching methods for English language learners, gifted and talented students, and students with disabilities (PreK-6), and promotes student progress and preparation for the Virginia Standards of Learning assessments. Students learn methods of improving communication and involvement between schools and families, including the Foundation Blocks for Early Learning. Prerequisite: INST 202, EDUC 225, or consent. Offered each semester.

330 Elementary Practicum (1)
A teaching practicum that provides an opportunity to apply teaching methods, practice skills in teaching specific subjects, and learn how to implement classroom management strategies. A supervised field experience in a primary classroom is provided. The student must request a placement from the Director of Field Experiences early in the registration process. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisites: INST 202, EDUC 225 and 320. Prerequisite/concurrency: EDUC 329. Offered each semester.

340 Secondary Practicum: 6-12: English, Math, Science, or Social Studies, Art, Foreign Language PreK-12 (1)
A teaching practicum that provides an opportunity to apply teaching methods, practice skills in teaching specific subjects, and learn how to implement classroom management strategies. The student must request a placement from the Director of Field Experiences early in the registration process. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisite/concurrency: EDUC 375. Offered each fall.

366 Classroom Management and Teaching Strategies (2)
Provides teacher candidates with classroom management content and skills that create positive classroom behavioral support through strategies, effective teacher behaviors, and student assessments and interventions. Students develop a classroom management plan. A required 10-hour field experience supports the application of the management skills. Prerequisite: EDUC 225. Four semester-hour sections offered each semester. Candidates seeking licensure with endorsement in Special Education/General Curriculum K-12 should register for the 2 semester-hour section offered each spring.

375 Middle and Secondary Teaching Methods (4)
A course in middle and secondary curriculum and instructional course. Emphasizes principles of learning; construction and interpretation of valid assessment instruments; analysis of data to improve student performance; the relationship among assessment, instruction, and student achievement; integration of technology; communication between schools, families, and students. Prerequisites: EDUC 340 for secondary “DAY” education students. A 12-hour field experience is required for ACT students. Offered each semester.

434 Elementary Preservice Teaching I (6)
A preservice teaching experience in grades 1-3. The student teaching I and II provide over 300 clock hours and 150 hours of direct instruction. The student must request a placement from the Director of Field Experiences the semester before student teaching. Includes an on-campus seminar. Prerequisite: admission to the Education Department. Offered each semester.

435 Elementary Preservice Teaching II (6)
A preservice teaching experience in grades 1-3. The student teaching I and II provide over 300 clock hours and 150 hours of direct instruction. The student must request a placement from the Director of Field Experiences the semester before student teaching. Includes an on-campus seminar. Prerequisite: admission to the Education Department. Offered each semester.

445 Secondary Preservice Teaching I (6)
A preservice teaching experience in grades 6-8. A preservice teaching experience for ACT students in grades 6-8. The student teaching I and II provide over 300 clock hours and 150 hours of direct instruction. The student must request a placement from the Director of Field Experiences the semester before student teaching. Includes an on-campus seminar. Prerequisite: admission to the Education Department. Students majoring in art and foreign language for K-12 teacher certification also enroll in EDUC 463 and 464. Offered each semester.

446 Secondary Preservice Teaching II (6)
A preservice teaching experience in grades 9-12. The student teaching I and II provide over 300 clock hours and 150 hours of direct instruction. The student must request a placement from the Director of Field Experiences the semester before student teaching. Includes an on-campus seminar. Prerequisite: admission to the Education Department. Offered each semester.

461 ACT Elementary Preservice Teaching I (4)
A preservice teaching experience for ACT students in grades 1-3. The student teaching I and II provide over 300 clock hours and 150 hours of direct instruction. Students must request a placement from the Director of Field Experiences the semester before student teaching. Includes an on-campus seminar. Prerequisite: admission to the Education Department. Offered each semester.

462 ACT Elementary Preservice Teaching II (4)
A preservice teaching experience for ACT students in grades 4-6. The student teaching I and II provide over 300 clock hours and 150 hours of direct instruction. The student must request a placement from the Director of Field Experiences the semester before student teaching. Includes an on-campus seminar. Prerequisite: admission to the Education Department. Offered each semester.

463 ACT Secondary Preservice Teaching I (4)
A preservice teaching experience for ACT students in grades 6-8. The student teaching I and II provide over 300 clock hours and 150 hours of direct instruction. The student must request a placement from the Director of Field Experiences the semester before student teaching. Includes an on-campus seminar. Prerequisite: admission to the Education Department. In today's information-based society, the ability to use and analyze the spoken and written word has become critically important. In recognition of this fact, the English Department offers students a range of courses in English language, writing, and literature, focusing on the development of skills in independent inquiry and analysis, training in literary and rhetorical traditions that deepen students' appreciation of language and literature, and preparation to become acute analysts of culture and sophisticated writers.

ENGLISH Majors

Students interested in majoring in English should consult with a member of the English Department early on in their time at Virginia Wesleyan. They have several options to choose from, including focusing on literary study, concentrations in secondary education, creative writing, or professional writing, and the major in theatre and English, as outlined below.

English majors are expected to take ENG 289, Approaches to Literary Study, either in the spring of the freshman year or in the fall of the sophomore year, and before upper-level courses in the major. Majors are likewise expected to take ENG 311, Theory and Research, in the fall of the junior year. ENG 489, the senior capstone experience, includes an extensive independent research or creative writing project and a formal oral presentation before the department and invited Virginia Wesleyan community. It must be taken in the fall of the senior year, with required preliminary work in the spring of the junior year.

Internships for English Majors

Writing internships may be taken by English majors who have completed three English courses at Virginia Wesleyan. The internship must be approved by the student's advisor and the program coordinator and must be with an organization approved by the department. In the past few years, internships have been approved for such organizations as the Space and Naval Warfare Command, the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce, and the Virginia Aquarium and Marine Science Center.

ENGLISH COURSES (ENG)

001 Writing Review (2)
A workshop for students who would benefit from brushing up on their writing skills before taking ENG 105. Includes meetings with a supportive small group and weekly conferences with the instructor. Prerequisite: placement or consent. No academic credit is awarded for this course, but the course grade does count toward the course load and overall GPA if it were a 2-semester hour course. Offered each semester.

105 College Writing (4)
An introductory intensive to several forms of college writing and to the critical thinking and research skills essential to producing them. Requires the submission of a portfolio that meets standardized requirements and is judged proficient by an outside reader. Three hours per week, plus regular conferences with the instructor. A grade of C or higher satisfies the first-semester English requirement. Prerequisite: placement. Prerequisite for enrollment during Winter Session or Summer Session 1: consent. Offered each semester.

216 The Short Story (4)
An introduction to the short story, focusing primarily on contemporary and innovative fiction by authors from diverse backgrounds. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and either sophomore status or consent. Offered in selected semesters.

ENG 222 Teaching Grammar and Writing (4)
A survey of theoretical and practical approaches to teaching grammar, usage, and writing. Students observe and/or interview experienced elementary, secondary, or college-level teachers of writing and tutorage one or more student writers on or off campus. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Does not fulfill General Studies "T" requirement. Offered each fall.

232 Literature Into Film (4)
An examination of the differences between literary and film narrative. Both popular fiction and classics are used in examining how plot, characterization, setting, spectacle, and other aspects of storytelling change depending on whether the medium is the written word, the stage, or the screen. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with grade of C or higher and either sophomore status or consent. Does not fulfill General Studies "T" requirement. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

250 Studies in Literature (4)
Selected topics that approach literature from various generic, historical, or methodological perspectives. Versions of the course may include several different media, but the focus is always on literature. At least 20 pages of writing are required, including at least one documented essay. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and either sophomore status or consent.

258 Topics in African American Literature (4)
A study of the fiction, non-fiction, and poetry of African-American authors from the 18th century to the present. Authors may include Phillis Wheatley, Frederick Douglass, Charles Chesnutt, Langston Hughes, James Baldwin, Toni Morrison, and Octavia Butler, as well as new, young writers. Some attention is given to forms of expression other than literature. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each semester.

259 Literature of Mystery, Crime, and Noir (4)
A study of the mystery genre and its offshoots, crime and noir. Focuses on seminal texts in the genre and contemporary reinterpretations of its formulas. Authors may include Raymond Chandler, Jim Thompson, Patricia Highsmith, Paul Auster, Sara Gran, James Ellroy, and Richard Price, among others. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and either sophomore status or consent. Offered in selected semesters.

265 Love, Sex, and Marriage in Western Literature (4)
A study of the history of the various ways through which we understand romantic love and to a lesser extent, sexuality, masculinity, femininity, and marriage, as they are represented in literature from the ancient Sumerians to the present; considerable attention is also given to art forms other than literature. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and either sophomore status or consent. Offered each semester.

286 Banned Books (4)
An interdisciplinary exploration of banned books; the legal battles in U.S. history that created, supported, and ended censorship; and the literary, legal, aesthetic, and socio-political contexts that influenced both the artists and the changing conceptions of obscenity that marked their works as controversial. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered for Winter Session: ENG 105 with grade of C or higher and consent. Note: Students who receive credit for ENG 286 may not also receive credit for HIST 286. Offered in selected spring semesters and Winter Sessions.

289 Approaches to Literary Study (4)
Introduces close reading, selected critical approaches, literary genres, periods of literary history, discipline-specific information literacy such as scholarly databases and online research, and conventions for citing literary works and criticism. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each semester.

298 Introductory Poetry Writing (4)
A poetry writing workshop, with class discussions of student work and established authors. Emphasizes experimentation and creative exercises as well as engagement with issues of craft and intensive reading of a broad range of poetry. Non-majors welcome. Pass/Fail grading. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each fall.

299 Introductory Creative Writing: Fiction (4)
An introductory-level workshop with class discussions of student work and established authors. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and any literature course designated "T." Offered in selected semesters.

301 Topics in Earlier British Literature (4)
An in-depth study of some aspect of British literature before the 19th century. May be repeated for credit as the topic varies. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and any literature course designated "T." Offered in selected semesters.

302 Topics in Later British Literature (4)
An in-depth study of some aspect of British literature since the beginning of the 19th century. May be repeated for credit as the topic varies. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and any literature course designated "T." Offered in selected semesters.

303 Topics in American Literature (4)
An in-depth study of some aspect of American literature. May be repeated for credit as the topic varies. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and any "T" course. Offered in selected semesters.

306 Ecopoetry (4)
An in-depth exploration of the various ways in which contemporary poets and critics seek to understand past and present poetics as negotiating the often porous boundaries between the human and nonhuman in our experiences of the world. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and any "T" course or consent. Identical to ENVS 306. Offered when circumstances permit.

310 Distinctive Voices in Contemporary American Poetry (4)
A study of the many and varied voices in contemporary American poetry, especially selected works of poetry published since 1960. Authors studied may include Jerrie Graham, Harryette Mullen, Yusef Komunyakaa, and Adrienne Rich. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, one 200-level literature course, and junior status or consent. Offered spring even-numbered years.
311 Theory and Criticism (4) W
A survey of key debates in the history of literary theory and criticism from Plato to the present, with an emphasis on contemporary approaches to interpretation. May be repeated as the topic varies. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior/senior status or consent. Offered each fall.

314 The English Language (4) W
A study of the English language from its origins to the present. Includes discussion of recent trends, dialect variation, and social and political issues relating to English today. Students write several papers, including an original research study on a topic of interest. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior/senior status or consent. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

315 The Experience of Poetry (4)
An intensive introduction to poetry through examining the poem's relationship to universal human experiences. Students gain a thorough understanding of the elements of poetry and engage with literary criticism of poetry. They may also experiment with writing original poetry. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and a “T” course or junior status or consent. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

327 The British Novel (4)
A study of the British novel from the 18th century to the present, with emphasis on its 18th and 19th century developments. Considers theories of the novel in relation to representative texts in their literary, historical, social, national, and international contexts. Prerequisites: Any “T” course and junior status or consent. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

333 Hybrid Prose (4)
A study of hybrid forms in fiction. Students examine texts in which formal concerns dominate and in which typical distinctions between fiction and other mediums such as poetry, essay, memoir, and the fine arts, break down. Students write both critical and creative work that engages hybrid prose. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and a “T” second-semester sophomore status or above recommended. Offered each semester.

336 Spenser and Milton (4) W
A study of England's two greatest epics, The Faerie Queene and Paradise Lost. Includes discussion of the epic tradition, Christian theology, Renaissance humanism, the nature of masculinity and femininity, armed combat with dragons, forbidden picnics, and many others in two of the Western tradition's most varied, inclusive, and interesting works of art. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior status or consent. Identical to TH 366. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

344 Practicum in Teaching English (2)
Selected students work closely with faculty members in the teaching of ENG 105 and other courses. Students gain experience in the various aspects of teaching grammar, composition, and literature. Prerequisite: consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

346 Shakespeare I (4) W
A study of the principal works of Shakespeare, concentrating on plays in which love, femininity, and the family are particularly important. Includes either a required trip to see live plays or a required film series. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and sophomore status or consent. Offered each fall.

347 Shakespeare II (4) W
A study of the principal works of Shakespeare, concentrating on histories and tragedies, especially ones focusing on issues of masculinity and the state. Includes either a required trip to see live plays or a required film series. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and sophomore status or consent. Offered each spring.

357 British Romantic Poetry: 1785-1850 (4) W
Explores British Romantic poetry and its historical, political, literary, and philosophical contexts, including the contributions of women writers. While some attention is given to important prose works of the period, the main focus of the course is on reading, interpreting, and writing about Romantic verse. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and a literature course or consent. Offered selected semesters.

365 Modemism and the Modern World (4)
A study of how writers on both sides of the Atlantic between 1890 and 1939 used radical literary style to respond to the unsettling ways in which science, psychology, colonial unrest, sexual revolution, and world war challenged traditional ideas about human identity and progress. Authors may include Oscar Wilde, Ezra Pound, James Joyce, Virginia Woolf, Gertrude Stein, T. S. Eliot, Nella Larson, and Djuna Barnes. Prerequisite: a “T” course or consent. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

398 Advanced Poetry Writing Workshop (4)
Advanced workshop with discussion of student poems and the poetry and poetics of established authors; emphasizes craft, the creative process, and aesthetic evaluation of discussed works. Students complete a sequence of thematically related poems in addition to other assignments. Non-majors welcome. May be repeated twice for credit. Offered each spring.

410 Environmental Writings (4) LW
A study of the important environmental writings and how they have shaped our understanding of the relationship between humans and nature. Prerequisites: ENG 105 and either senior or graduate status or consent. Offered selected semesters. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

421 Writing for Business and Organizations (4)
Covers the skills needed to write different types of business and organizational communications, including letters, e-mail, reports, and proposals. Emphasis is on planning, drafting, and editing as well as developing a professional writing style to achieve results. Prerequisite: ENG 105 and either sophomore status or consent. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

425 Diversity in American Literature (4)
An opportunity to study—and to listen to—voices in American culture that have often been silenced or ignored. The focus is on ethnic groups such as Native American, African-American, Asian-American and...
The Elizabeth (4)

Women in North America are writing many of the best works of our time. This course focuses on how their voices, new and some of their predecessors, illuminate the depth and diversity of human experience. Authors from several ethnic groups might include: Wharton, Hurston, Walker, Oates, Munro, Atwood, Tan, Silko, Kincaid, Hempel, and new young writers. Offered in selected semesters.

263 World Literature I (4)

Identical to CLAS 263

264 World Literature II (4)

Identical to CLAS 264

266 Transatlantic Romanticism (4)

An intensive exploration of the fertile cross-pollination between British Romantic writers, such as William Wordsworth and Samuel Taylor Coleridge, and American writers of the 19th century in particular, such as Henry David Thoreau, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Emily Dickinson, and Walt Whitman. Fulfills 200-level sophomore literature requirement. Offered intermittently.

271/271I Southern Literature (4)

A study of the fiction, nonfiction, and poetry of the American South in which both the social and historical development are stressed. Chopin, Faulkner, Harston, Welty, Porter, McCullers, Ellison, Wright, and contemporary writers are featured. Offered in selected semesters.

280 Early British Literature (4)

A survey of major authors, works, and literary traditions from Beowulf to 1785. Offered each fall.

281 Later British Literature (4)

A survey of major authors, works, and literary traditions from 1785 to the early 20th century. Offered each spring.

284 American Literature (4)

A survey of American authors, works, and literary trends from the beginning up to the contemporary period. Offered each fall.

285 Contemporary American Literature (4)

A survey of authors, works, and literary trends from the Beats of the 1950s to the latest published works. Offered in selected semesters.

287 Modern and Contemporary Literature (4)

A survey of major authors, works, and literary traditions from the beginning of the 20th century. The emphasis is on British and American literature, with attention to European literature and world literature in English. Offered in selected semesters.

321 Introduction to Linguistics (4)

An examination of several main areas of linguistics, including phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, language acquisition, language variation, and language change. Does not fulfill General Studies sophomore literature requirement. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

342 Peer Tutoring—Writing Center (1)

Peer writing tutors help other students understand their writing problems and improve their skills. They work three hours per week on an arranged schedule and are trained, supervised, and evaluated by the Director of the Writing Center. Offered each semester.

350 Renaissance Drama

Exclusive of Shakespeare (4)

A study of the major plays from what would be England's finest period of drama, even without the inclusion of Shakespeare. Among the kinds of plays are heroic, history, comedies, domestic melodrama, and revenge tragedy; the authors include such major figures as Marlowe, Jonson, and Webster. Offered in selected semesters.

355 Restoration to Revolution: British Literature, 1660-1789 (4)

A chronological and thematic survey of British Restoration and 18th century writing. Major figures, such as Dryden, Swift, Pope, Defoe, Richardson, Fielding, and Johnson, are studied alongside important women writers, including Behn, Cavendish, Astell, Haywood, Lemon, Fielding, and Burney. Setting literary texts into their historical contexts, focus is given in genre, print culture, natural philosophy, empire, nationalism, and the emergence of a polite, commercial society. Offered in selected semesters.

367 Ulysses on the Elizabeth (4)

An in-depth study of Irish writer James Joyce's celebrated, challenging 1922 novel Ulysses. We examine how this modern epic of one day in the life of Dublin stretches from such quotidian moments as protagonist Leopold Bloom's appreciation of fried kidneys to the much grander subject of Ireland under the yoke of British rule and the human condition under modernity. As we work to make sense of the novel's complex and tempestuous styline, we also use this portrait of the city on the river Liffey to consider how the settings and habits of our own everyday lives expose the character of Norfolk, the city on the river Elizabeth. We ask our understanding by visiting local sites and attempting to capture the character of our place and time in our experimental prose.

378 The American Novel (4)

A study of the development of the American novel from the mid-19th century to the present day. Along with attention to historical context and theories of the novel, the course focuses on a range of novels which include American classics as well as lesser-known works. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

385 American Protest Literature (4)

The U.S. was founded on political protest and has traditionally used literature as a vehicle for conveying social beliefs. Defined must simply as visual and/or written responses to social oppression, protest literature is produced not for art's sake, but to improve the lives of a particular community's members. The diverse tradition of American protest literature, focusing in particular on texts responding to racial, gender-based, and class-based oppressions, is covered. Discussions focus on the aesthetic and literary traditions of each text as well as its historical and cultural contexts. Offered in selected semesters.

399 Advanced Writing Workshop: Fiction (4)

An advanced-level workshop in the writing of fiction, with class discussions of student work as well as the work of established writers. Students work on a longer story or a section of a novel. Work produced during the course is considered for publication in VWC's literary magazine, Parnassus. Grading: Pass/Fail. Does not fulfill General Studies sophomore literature requirement. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

443 Topics in World Literature (4)

An in-depth study of some aspect of literature, with an emphasis on texts outside the British and American traditions. May be repeated for credit as the topic varies. Offered intermittently.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Dr. Steven M. Emmanuel (Philosophy)
Dr. William A. Giron (Political Science)
Dr. J. Christopher Haley (Earth and Environmental Sciences), Program Coordinator
Dr. Lawrence D. Huesteen (Philosophy)
Dr. Maynard H. Schafl (Biology).
Program Coordinator
Dr. Josh A. Weinstein (English)

The environmental studies major is designed to teach students how to understand their physical and social environments as the intersection of a variety of overlapping forces, including concerns of biology and climate, as well as the influence of law and public policy, literature and philosophy. The major prepares students for a variety of careers in such diverse fields as law, public policy, scientific research, environmental literature, and teaching. As the major draws upon courses from across all three academic divisions of the college, the skills and knowledge imparted to students are correspondingly broad, yet centered around an abiding concern with the environment.

In addition to practicing scientific, social science, and humanities approaches to the study of the environment, students will learn to understand the interrelationships among science, society, technology, culture, and nature. Through an interdisciplinary approach, the major prepares students to recognize and address such challenges as resource depletion, habitat loss, environmental degradation, pollution, and loss of biodiversity, with the ultimate goal of fostering a sustainable human society.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES COURSES (ENVS)

106 Humans and the Environment (4) S
Examines environmental issues and their interactions with our society. Topics include cultural ties to the environment, food production, urban planning, biodiversity, and society’s energy and water requirements. Although the course emphasizes a social systems perspective, environmental issues necessitate an interdisciplinary approach. Offered on demand.

304 Environmental Ethics (4) V
From ancient Sumer to the present, ecological realities have required human beings to reflect on their values and their responsibilities to nature. Students examine the relevance of philosophy to environmental questions and, in particular, explore the connection between the environment and ethics. Identical to PHIL 304.

306 Ecopoetry (4) W
Identical to ENG 306.

410 Environmental Writings (4) 1,W
Identical to ENG 410.

470 Internship in Environmental Studies (2, 4)
An intensive study of the environment through on-site field experience. Placements involve hands-on experiences such as education, grassroots activism, public policy, and habitat management. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 semester hours in a given semester. A minimum of 80 hours devoted to the internship is expected for 2 semester hours, and a minimum of 160 hours is expected for 4 semester hours, but some placements may require more time. Students must coordinate their internship placement with the supervising faculty member at least two months prior to placement. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and consent. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

326 Environmental Policy Analysis (4) Identical to POLS 326.

480 Seminar in Environmental Studies (1)
Identical to POLS 326.

FIRST-YEAR EXPERIENCE COURSES (FYE)

101 First-Year Experience (1)
Designed to help students engage and succeed both academically and socially in the Virginia Wesleyan community. Led by a faculty mentor, a small, close-knit group of new students engage in an array of activities and exercises that invite them to explore the nature of liberal education, connect to the campus community, and develop the personal resourcefulness that leads to college success. Available to students entering the college with fewer than 24 semester hours; required of students entering with fewer than 12 semester hours. Offered each fall.

401 Peer Advising (1)
A leadership experience allowing experienced students to serve as mentors and teaching support for FYE 101. Does not fulfill any requirements for Latin honors. Prerequisites: sophomore status and consent. Offered each fall.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES

Dr. Alain Gabon
Dr. Diana E. Riek
Dr. Mavel Z. Velasco, Program Coordinator
Dr. Susan M. Wansink

Virginia Wesleyan’s programs in French Studies, German Studies, and Hispanic Studies are designed to prepare students for meaningful international and intercultural exchange in a competitive, globalized world. In keeping with the college’s commitment to a liberal arts education, students pursuing one of these majors will acquire a multidisciplinary and comprehensive understanding of the target culture, its language, and its impact on the world at large. Each major provides communication skills in a foreign language and a strong knowledge base that will support a career in business, communications, political science, journalism, criminal justice, education, law, and many others.

FRENCH STUDIES

The French Studies major aims to develop in its students the skills, knowledge, attitudes, and values necessary for living and working in a French-speaking society with little or no dependence on English. Students attain language skills at the high-advanced level, as well as knowledge of French history, literature, and the arts, including cinema. Courses are designed to help students understand contemporary French culture as compared to their own and deepen their appreciation of these differences. The major also prepares students for meaningful exchange in an increasingly complex, globalized, transnational, and multicultural world where interaction with non-English speaking people has become not just desirable, but unavoidable and where liberal arts graduates should have a sense of enlightened understanding of, appreciation for, and solidarity with other countries, nations, and peoples. The major prepares students for careers in education, diplomacy, business, communications, political science, and journalism, and for graduate study.

Health and Human Services/Social Work

Dr. Benjamin D. Dobrin, MSW, Program Coordinator
Ms. Sharon L. Payne, LCSW, CSAC

The Health and Human Services/Social Work Program, which is based on a strong foundation in the liberal arts, prepares students for generalist social work practice and graduate study. The program focuses on ethical behavior and competent practice, focusing on Virginia Wesleyan’s honor code and the National Association of Social Worker’s (NASW) Code of Ethics. Through community service, an integral component of life at the College, students encounter the relationships and social contexts in which they will learn and eventually practice. Students are immersed in the topics of mental and physical health, human rights, diversity, oppression, and economic and social justice, through a data-driven, outcomes-based curriculum in which critical thinking skills are applied.

Departmental Policies
1. Students must apply to the program prior to declaring the major.
2. Students must maintain a 2.5 GPA both overall and in the major.
3. Students must maintain a 2.9 GPA both overall and in the major.

4. A grade of 80% or better is required for each course.
5. Students must report ANY violation of the honor code to the Health and Human Services faculty immediately. Any Level I violation will necessitate a meeting with the professor and student, level of violation, and potential remediation in each class at their own discretion.
6. Students must report ANY violation of the Virginia Wesleyan Honor Code to full-time Social Work faculty immediately. Any Level I honor code violation will necessitate a meeting of the student and full-time Social Work faculty in which remedial action will be developed and planned. Any Level II honor code violation will result in immediate removal from the program.
7. This list is not exhaustive. Specific internship and agency policies. Prerequisite: sophomore/junior or consent.

exposes students to a broad range of modern historical methodologies, making connections between history and many other academic disciplines. The study of history is aimed at students who are motivated by diverse goals. It offers excellent preparation for careers in law, civil service, journalism, business, foreign service, museum work, and archives, and for graduate study, including law school.

The History Department offers a major in history and one in history and social science. The history major offers students a broad choice of courses that emphasize high-level analytical skills and historical inquiry. It introduces students to a wide range of methodologies, including oral history, intellectual history, social history, cultural history, and gender history. The major requirements, although flexible, are designed to ensure that all students will gain some knowledge of both U.S. and non-U.S. history beyond the introductory level. They also ensure that every student majoring in history will confront a diversity of historical interpretations and practice designing and conducting historical research.

The history and social science major is designed for students who plan to teach history and/or social studies at the secondary level. It meets all content requirements for teacher certification in social studies in Virginia. In addition to history, areas of study include government, civics, international studies, economics, and geography. This major also emphasizes historical interpretation and offers students opportunities to pursue independent historical research.

303 17th- and 18th-Century America (4)
A study of the social, cultural, religious, and demographic changes that took place over two different centuries in early American history. Topics studied include Native American life; encounters between whites and Indians; the political, economic, and social formation of the colonies; free and enslaved black life; African, European, and American cultural development; and religion, among others. Prerequisite: sophomore/junior/senior status. Offered in fall of even-numbered years.

322 Religion and Social Issues in American History (4)
Examines, from an interdisciplinary vantage point, crucial social issues in American history such as slavery and issues of racial equality, and the status of women. This course explores the religious influences, background and context of these social issues which have had a profound effect on American history and continue to reverberate in American society today. Prerequisites: completed at least six semester hours in history, religious studies, political science, English, interdisciplinary studies, philosophy or sociology; sophomore/junior/senior status. Offered on demand.

323 Tudor England (4)
A detailed introduction to the history of 15th- and 16th-century England that explores the political, social, economic, religious, and intellectual trends responsible for the "renaissance" of culture that characterized the Elizabethan Age. Prerequisite: sophomore/junior/senior status. Offered each fall.

381 The South of Erskine Caldwell (4)
An intensive reading and discussion seminar which explores the tenor of early 20th century Southern life and culture through the fiction and documentary works of Erskine Caldwell, the noted and often-overlooked genius of American letters. Caldwell stands alongside William Faulkner as one of the two most important interpreters of life, culture, and politics in the South during the early 20th century. In his highly readable works, Caldwell straddled the lines between sharp social commentary and popular fiction, high art and reportage. In his native state of South Carolina, Caldwell explored race, class, and gender in a South wracked by industrialization, social upheaval, racial violence, and the Great Depression. Rural Southern life, the race question in the South, radical Georgia politics, social change during the Great Depression, and the broader flux of events in American history between 1900 and 1945 are covered along with other important topics. Prerequisite: sophomore/junior/senior status.

385 Seminar in the History of Socialism, Communism, and Marxism in Europe (4)
Explores the development of socialism in Europe from the late eighteenth century through today. Examines the theoretical origins of socialism in the late eighteenth century and the beginning of the nineteenth century. Includes an analysis of Marxism and Communism as developed by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels in the mid-nineteenth century, as well as critical socialist thinkers after Marx, including August Bebel, Lenin, Rosa Luxemburg, and Georg Lukacs. Includes an analysis of socialistscommunist feminism, aesthetics, literary theory, and home furnishing. Investigates the historical application of socialist theory to the political world from the mid-nineteenth century, to the Russian Revolution, to the collapse of communist regimes in Eastern Europe in the 1990s. Prerequisite: sophomore/junior/senior status.

405 "Born to Shop?" The History of Modern Consumer Culture in the U.S. (4)
Is the American Dream for sale? The history of consumer culture in the United States during the 20th century is examined. It is often said that we live in a consumer society, but seldom do we stop to consider what this actually means or how it came to be. In tracing this history, scholars grapple with such questions as: How has consumerism helped to shape American culture in the 20th century? Has consumer culture primarily been oppressive or liberating? How does consumer culture shape and reflect personal and group identity, whether based on gender, class, ethnicity, race, or nationality? These and other questions are examined through readings, films, and primary sources. Prerequisite: senior status or consent.

451 History of the Holocaust (4)
Examines the Holocaust from a variety of perspectives based on the General Studies Frames of Reference. Topics include the history of anti-Semitism, the emergence of racial ideologies at the end of the 19th century, the conditions that contributed to the rise of the Nazi Party, and the memory of the Holocaust. Includes a class project that commemorates Kristallnacht on November 9, which develops students' historical knowledge, communication skills, and aesthetic sensibilities. Prerequisite: consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

460 Senior Thesis Seminar (4)
A workshop in which senior history majors apply previous learning. Each student selects a historical problem, develops appropriate research methodology, and carries out the project under faculty supervision and in close contact with other members of the seminar. Students are encouraged to consider a variety of approaches to historical investigation, including oral history, quantification, and archival research. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, sophomore/junior/senior status, and HIST 360 or consent. Offered each fall.

205/305 Survey of Modern Europe (4)
Survey in European history since the 18th century. Over the past 200 years, European society has undergone radical changes and discoveries, to the spread of democracy, to the rise of secularism, Europe has undergone revolutionary transformations. Many people consider most of these developments to be critical markers of progress, and they point to democracy, industrialization, scientific advances, and technological innovations as evidence of this progress. Such developments also came with negative repercussions, such as colonialism, mass destruction and genocide. Students are exposed to various historical interpretations, including political, social, gender, and cultural narratives. Prerequisite for 305: sophomore/junior/senior status. Offered each fall.

248 Medieval Islamic World (4)
An honors course in the history, religion and culture of the Islamic Near East, Spain, African empire and Sub-Saharan coast, the Ottoman empire and Mogul India. Includes travel to the Holy Sites of Muslim Prophets to the 17th century. Offered on demand.

263 Seminar in the History of American Cities (4)
Explores the history of various American cities, including Boston, New York, Chicago, and Los Angeles. Focuses on the history of art, architecture, city planning, and public spaces. Through walking tours, visits to museums and key landmarks, and musical performances, students investigate the historical developments of the cities, focusing particularly on conflicts radiating from the construction and destruction of the urban landscape. Begins at VWC with an on-campus component in which students prepare for an on-site study of the city. The on-campus study is followed by travel to the destination.

282 Religion and Social Issues in American History (4)
Examines, from an interdisciplinary vantage point, crucial social issues in American history such as slavery and issues of racial equality, and the status of women. This course explores the religious influences, background and context of these social issues which have had a profound effect on American history and continue to reverberate in American society today. Prerequisites: completed at least six semester hours in history, religious studies, political science, English, interdisciplinary studies, philosophy or sociology; sophomore/junior/senior status. Offered on demand.

352 U.S. Women's History (4)
Examines the history of women in the United States to the present. The course focuses particularly on how women's roles and ideas about femininity changed over time in the context of the social, economic, political, and cultural developments of the United States. The course also takes account of what American women have shared, as well as how they have differed across lines of class, race, ethnicity and region. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

385 Seminar in the History of Socialism, Communism, and Marxism in Europe (4)
Explores the development of socialism in Europe from the late eighteenth century through today. Examines the theoretical origins of socialism in the late eighteenth century and the beginning of the nineteenth century. Includes an analysis of Marxism and Communism as developed by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels in the mid-nineteenth century, as well as critical socialist thinkers after Marx, including August Bebel, Lenin, Rosa Luxemburg, and Georg Lukacs. Includes an analysis of socialistscommunist feminism, aesthetics, literary theory, and home furnishing. Investigates the historical application of socialist theory to the political world from the mid-nineteenth century, to the Russian Revolution, to the collapse of communist regimes in Eastern Europe in the 1990s. Prerequisite: sophomore/junior/senior status.

415 Diseases, Pirates, and Slaves in the Atlantic World (4)

Introduces students to the major topics and themes arising from the innumerable connections that existed between peoples who crucified the Atlantic Ocean between 1500 and 1800. Students examine topics such as encounter, environment, migration, piracy, slavery, and resolution in Africa, Europe, North America, and South America. Prerequisite: senior status or consent. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

426 European Heresy and the Witch-Hunt (4)

An intensive examination of the varying themes and viewpoints historians grapple with in their study of religious dissent in Medieval and Early Modern Europe. Includes a formal research paper in a student-led seminar format. Prerequisite: senior status or consent. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

428 Atlantic Slavery (4)

An intensive examination of the African and American slave trades. While the focus varies, the course considers the causes and consequences of the slave trade and key questions in the historiography of slavery from an interdisciplinary perspective. Prerequisite: senior status or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

450 Seminar in European History (4)

Intensive study of selected topics that vary from semester to semester. Prerequisite: senior status or consent. Offered on demand.

485 History for Secondary School Teachers (1)

Intended to be an intensive content and historiographical review course for secondary school teachers in social studies. These tasks are accomplished by focusing on primary documents and scholarly articles on various historical periods. Techniques for teaching aspects of this complicated material to students is discussed, shared and developed, focusing in part on the requirements of the state SOLs. This class deepens understanding of history, engages scholarly controversies, and enhances the teacher’s effectiveness in the classroom.

HUMANITIES COURSES (HUM)

231/431 A Tale of Two Cities (4) A,I*

An individualized travel and research course through which students experience and analyze the culture of two important cities, as represented in their museums, architecture, and historic sights, and in their living culture. The course is tailored to each student’s research interests and includes components before, during, and after the trip. Prerequisite for 431: 75 semester hours. Offered in selected Winter Sessions. *HUM 231: (A); HUM 431: (I).

The following course(s) are undergoing revision to fit the new enhanced, 4 x 4 curriculum. Thus, course numbers, titles, prerequisites, and offering information are subject to change.

150 Service-Learning in a Global Context (4)

Students engage in service projects in communities around the world, with a special focus on communities that have been damaged by the effects of violence, poverty, and social injustice. Students become educated about the target community, engage in a thoughtfully organized service project that addresses the particular needs of that community, and participate in structured reflection on the service experience. Prerequisite: students should be prepared to travel abroad (have valid passports, etc.)

301 Aesthetic Communication: Understanding and Experiencing the Arts

The arts as a universal and diverse mode of communication, a legitimate point of view from which to address the nature of human beings, are explored. Painting, photography, sculpture, music, opera, dance, and architecture are discussed not only as separate disciplines, but as sources for common elements (line, texture, harmony, rhythm, etc.). How are these elements used in each specific discipline to communicate the artist’s message? Students visit museums and attend live concert performances in addition to classroom lectures. Does not fulfill any requirements for Latin Honors.

INFORMATION SYSTEMS (See Business)

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES COURSES (INST)

105 Preparing for College Success (2)

An introductory course in critical thinking, study strategies, goal setting, time management, and study skills and their relationship to academic success.

Designed to help students develop strong academic skills. Offered each semester.

106 Analyzing and Understanding College Reading (2)

An introductory course in critical thinking as it relates to college reading success. Designed to help students develop their skills in these areas. Offered each semester.

108 WISE: Wesleyan Information Seeking Experience (2)

Introduces students to the research process and helps students develop the information literacy skills needed to succeed in college. Students learn how to define information need, use effective research strategies, and evaluate and communicate research results. Offered during selected Winter Sessions.

111 Orientation Seminar for Non-Traditional Students (1)

Designed to help non-traditional students develop the academic skills needed to excel in their coursework. Emphasizes critical thinking. Offered each semester as needed.

123 Service Learning in Hampton Roads (2)

Raises civic consciousness by fostering engaged citizenship where students perform a week of direct community service. Orientation and preparation before the direct service, as well as a reflection journal, document student learning, May be repeated for credit. Identical to PORT 123. Offered each Winter Session.

124 Service Learning and Issues of Civic Engagement in Hampton Roads (4)

Students are introduced to a community-based project and investigate the issue involved through research, reading, and lecture, followed by a week of direct community service. Includes reflection, assessment, and consideration of broader contexts. May be repeated for credit. Identical to PORT 124. Offered each Winter Session.

126 Music and Folk Culture of the Southern Appalachians (1)

Introduces students to the music and folk culture of the Southern Appalachians, including Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, and Alabama. Emphasizes the unique pre-World War II styles of rural dance music, social and religious music, and early commercially recorded music, including the old-time string band, jug bands, clawhammer style of banjo playing, unaccompanied fiddling, shape note singing, and balladry. Students examine the history, development, and structure of these regional music styles and try playing the music themselves in an old-time string band or jug band. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

202 The School and Society (4) S

A study of the historical, philosophical, and sociological foundations of public education in the United States. Topics include the foundations of instructional design based on assessment data, the legal status of teachers and students, including federal and state laws and regulations, the school as an organization/culture, and contemporary issues in education. Offered each semester.

203 Applied Technology for Innovative Instruction (2)

Offers students the opportunity to master introductory concepts and use technology aids to produce educational materials and instructional units and to increase the efficiency of instruction in the classroom. Enables educators to meet the Technology Standards for Instructional Personnel (TSIP) and to teach Computer/Technology Standards K-12 as outlined in the Virginia Standards of Learning. Online section requires consent. Offered each semester.

304 Blackfeet Immersion: Life and Education on a Montana Reservation (4)

A travel course in which students spend a week volunteering at the De La Salle Blackfeet School in Browning, Montana, as assistants to the teachers and as mentors to the children. Coursework before and after the trip enhances student learning and provides an intercultural experience that invites students to affirm a common bond. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered selected Winter Sessions.

315 Managing Diversity in Organizations (4)

Promotes awareness of cultural differences and positive attitudes toward these differences. Includes topics related to effective management of people who differ in race, gender, age, disability status, nationality, or sexual orientation. Does not fulfill any requirements for Latin Honors. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

470 Developments in Science and Technology (4) I,W

Explores the nature of scientific inquiry and the role of science and technology in our society by tracing the historical development and current state of several areas of science and technology. Considers the influence of culture, politics, religion, economics, and society on these developments and the impact of these developments on the society. Does not fulfill any requirements for Latin honors. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, junior/senior status, and one “L” course. Offered Winter Sessions of even-numbered years.

402 Issues in Education (4) I, W
Offers students the opportunity to develop a descriptive research study. The student chooses a topic, conducts research, analyzes data, and reports the results. Does not fulfill divisional requirements for Latin honors but may fulfill research requirement for summa cum laude. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior/senior status. Offered each semester.

405 Selected Topics (1 to 4)
Provides opportunities to explore current topics, trends, and issues related to curriculum, methodology, and evaluation. Primarily intended to meet in-service and re-certification needs of practicing educators. Does not fulfill any requirements for Latin honors. Prerequisite: consent. Offered each semester.

161 Bees and Beekeeping (1)
An introduction to the history, technique, biology, and practices of apiculture. It is an introduction to the fundamentals and pleasures of having bees as either a hobby or a business. The long history of beekeeping around the world, the various practical and cultural meanings assigned to bees and beekeeping over time, the development of the Langstroth hive, and the theories behind the modern hive management practices are studied. Essentials such as building of hives, supers, and frames, the capture of swarms, the installation of packaged bees, management of the hive throughout the seasons, queen rearing, and the harvesting of a honey crop are also studied. The biology of bee biology and hive organization, and the critically important methods of preventing disease and maintaining a healthy, productive colony are also covered.

230 Women of the Caribbean (4)
Students explore, assess, analyze, and apply feminist theories as they relate to themselves and to the women of the Caribbean. The course focuses on the social, political, and cultural similarities and differences among American and Caribbean women. Students take a trip to one of the Caribbean islands for further research and study.

310 Junior Liberal Studies Seminar (1)
Encourages students to recognize and explore relationships and connections among courses from the various General Studies Frames of Reference. Using a systems approach, students examine past educational experiences and plan for future learning activities. Does not fulfill any requirements for Latin Honors. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

313 Practical Policy and Debate (1)
An analysis of the structures and methods of public policy debates. This course is designed to teach students to analyze and debate contemporary issues in public policy pragmatically. Students read and debate issues while preparing public speaking, argumentation, and professional etiquette. Graded pass/fail. Offered each fall.

330 Methods of Social Research (4)
Surveys the various methods employed in social research. Topics covered include: foundations, research statistics, case study methodology, survey research methodology, interpreting research and participant observation. Does not require any prerequisites. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

The International Studies major emphasizes an interdisciplinary approach that teaches students to think critically about international political, economic, cultural, and business processes and problems. The program contains a core of required courses, but offers students the opportunity to develop an individualized program in one of three concentration areas: international politics, international business, and international cultural studies. Classroom study is supplemented by real-life international experiences with internships or study abroad opportunities. Virginia Wesleyan College is located in the international port of Hampton Roads. Intergovernmental organizations, including the United Nations, have offices here, as do national intelligence, security, and military branches of the government; thus the area can offer students international internships without leaving the region. Students prepare for careers in international work with governments, with non-government organizations, and in international business. The major consists of a minimum of ten courses and either an internship or study abroad. Students must become proficient in a foreign language.

International Cultural Studies Track Total 16
Mathematics is at its heart the search for pattern or structure. It is an essential component of the liberal arts. A mathematician finds a structure and develops a vocabulary or theory for describing, exploring, and extending it further. Each course in mathematics engages students in the search and in the articulation of the consequences. The study of mathematics requires both creativity and rigorous, logical thinking. Mathematics courses are designed to meet two goals: (1) to introduce some of the most influential ideas and techniques in mathematics; and (2) to develop problem-solving ability by teaching students to combine creative mathematical searching with rigorous reasoning.

Computer science is a discipline involving the analysis, design, implementation, and maintenance of computer systems; it is a key component of a modern education. The computer science program includes programming and software design, algorithms, system architectures, operating systems, language theory, databases, and online information systems design. Computer science courses are designed to prepare students for a lifetime of learning that will enable them to move beyond current technology to meet the challenges of the future.

The Mathematics and Computer Science Department offers majors in mathematics and in computer science leading either to the B.A. degree or the B.S. degree. Each program provides a broad education in fundamentals and problem-solving strategies. The B.A. options offer basic majors in mathematics and computer science. The B.S. options are designed for students with an additional strong interest in science or engineering. Both options are appropriate for students who plan to pursue graduate study in the same or related fields. Minors in mathematics and in computer science complement majors in many fields, including biology, business, chemistry, and earth and environmental science. The department also offers a secondary (6-12) teacher certification program in cooperation with the Education Department. The program meets all content requirements for effective high school teaching and for licensure in Virginia. Further, the department offers coursework for students seeking certification in elementary education.

The department supports the general studies curriculum by offering courses that meet the quantitative perspectives "Q" requirement. All "Q" courses carry a mathematics placement prerequisite. The math placement codes indicate levels of mathematics preparation for incoming students. A student's application file, transcripts, and SAT or ACT scores form the basis for placement. The levels are coded by letters: H, A, B, C, D. Students may challenge their placements by contacting the departmental coordinator.

Mathematics Courses (MATH)

005 Algebraic Preliminaries (4)
- Students develop basic computational and strengthen their understanding of fundamentals in preparation for courses that involve more difficult quantitative concepts. Students with placement level D must complete this course with a grade of C or higher before attempting MATH 104. Topics include operations on whole and signed numbers, fractions, decimals, exponents, variables, linear equations, and elementary problem solving. Traditional grading only. While students receive no credit for this course, the course grade does count toward their overall grade point average as if it were a 4-semester-hour course. Prerequisite: placement or consent. Offered each fall.

104 Algebra and its Applications (4) Q
- Presents topics in algebra through traditional and applications-based methods. Topics include proportion, percents, metric and American conversions, linear, exponential and quadratic functions and graphs, exponents, linear equations, system of equations, combinations, permutations, and probability. Prerequisite: placement level C, MATH 005 with a grade of C or higher, or consent. Students must have a TI-83 or TI-84 graphing calculator. Offered each semester.

135 Calculus with Precalculus, Part I (4) Q
- Students learn the basic tools of calculus, why they work, and how to apply them in various contexts. Symbolic, graphical, and numerical approaches are considered. Topics include limits, derivatives, and applications. Includes sufficient coverage of functions and trigonometry to support the study of calculus and of other sciences. The two-course sequence, MATH 135 and 136, is sufficient preparation for MATH 172 Calculus II. Prerequisite: placement level B, MATH 104 with a grade B or higher, or MATH 105 with a grade of C- or higher, or consent. Offered each fall.

136 Calculus with Precalculus, Part II (4) Q
- A continuation of MATH 135. Topics include applications of derivatives, the Riemann integral, and the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus. Includes sufficient instruction in advanced algebraic techniques to support the study of calculus. Prerequisite: MATH 135 with a grade of C- or higher or consent. Offered each spring.

171 Calculus I (4) Q
- Students learn the basic tools of calculus, why they work, and how to apply them in various contexts. Calculus I develops the differential calculus through symbolic, graphical, and numerical approaches. Topics include differentiation of algebraic and transcendental functions, applications in modeling and optimization, and the Fundamental Theorem of calculus and an introduction to differential equations. Prerequisite: placement level A or consent. Offered each fall.

172 Calculus II (4) Q
- A continuation of Calculus I. More advanced techniques are studied and used to solve quantitative problems in various contexts. Topics include integration techniques, applications of definite integration, and sequences and series. Prerequisite: MATH 136 or 171 with a grade of C or higher or consent. Offered each semester.

205 Discrete Mathematics (4)
- Identical to CS 205.
301 Combinatorics (4)

The study of the nature of mathematical knowledge, the history of mathematics, geometry, elementary number theory, and basic trigonometry. Does not count toward the major in mathematics. Prerequisites: placement level H, A, or B, or MATH 104 or MATH 105 with a grade of C- or higher. Freshmen by consent only. Offered each semester.

200 Computer Concepts and Applications (4)

An introductory programming course that uses Visual BASIC programming language. Topics include the program development process, structured programming, data types, assignment, selection, looping, subroutines, one-dimensional arrays, files, and random numbers. Prerequisite: placement level H, A, or B, or a grade of C- or higher in MATH 104, or consent. Offered on demand.

112 Computer Programming I (4)

Java and C++ languages are introduced. Topics include the program development process, structured programming, data types, variables and expressions, input/output, assignment, selection, looping, functions, and arrays. Prerequisite: placement level H, A, or B, or a grade of B or higher in MATH 104, or consent. Offered each fall.

205 Discrete Mathematics (4)

The analysis of finite step-by-step processes. Develops reasoning skills, enhances software-writing abilities, and introduces elementary computer circuitry. Topics include Boolean algebra, digital logic circuits, the nature of valid argument, mathematical induction, recursive sequences, and counting techniques, including combinatorics methods. Many class examples are drawn from computer science. Prerequisite: MATH 135 with a grade of C- or higher, or placement level H or A, or consent. Identical to MATH 205. Offered each spring. Recommended spring freshman year.

212 Computer Programming II (4)

A continuation of CS 112. Topics include advanced programming design in user-defined data types, arrays, structures, pointers, array-based lists, binary searching, recursion, and introduction to object-oriented programming techniques. Prerequisite: CS 112 or consent. Offered each spring.
310 Introduction to Computer Systems (4)
Introduces the basic concepts of computer organization and assembly language. Specific topics include CPU and memory organization, machine language, addressing techniques, macros, program segmentation and linkage, and assembler construction. Satisfies the oral competency requirement for computer science majors. Prerequisite: CS 212 or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

350 Numerical Methods (4)
Examines efficient methods used in solving numerical problems with the aid of a computer. Topics include floating point arithmetic, interpolation and approximation, integration, roots of nonlinear equations, ordinary differential equations, and systems of linear equations. Prerequisites: MATH 172 and CS 112. Identical to MATH 350. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

380 Programming Languages (4)
Introduces students to the historical development of programming languages and to the decisions involved in the design and implementation of such programming languages. Features as elementary, structured, and user-defined data types, subprograms, sequence control, data control, and storage management. Selected features of several existing languages are examined in the context of these issues. Prerequisite: CS 212 or consent. Offered on demand.

480 Advanced Topics in Computer Science (4)
An in-depth study of an area of advanced computer science. Specific content varies according to the interests of students and the instructor. May be repeated for credit as the topic varies. Prerequisites: CS 212 and consent. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

489 Research in Computer Science (2, 4)
Offers students the opportunity to conduct original scientific research in an area of interest. Students work closely with one or more members of the natural science faculty to develop and conduct a research project, then present their findings orally during the semester’s undergraduate research symposium and as a formal research paper. Students are encouraged to present their findings at a conference. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and a major in computer science, prior approval by the project advisor, and consent of the instructor. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. May be repeated for a maximum total of 8 semester hours. Identical to BIO 489, CHEM 489, EES 489, and MATH 489. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

The following course(s) are undergoing revision to fit the new enhanced, 4 x 4 curriculum. Thus, course numbers, titles, prerequisites, and offering information are subject to change.

311 Data Structures (4)
An introduction to commonly used computer data structuring techniques. Topics include abstract data types, classes, queues, stacks, linked lists, algorithms, sorting, searching, tree and graph. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

331 Systems Analysis and Design (4)
Introduces the concepts, principles, and stages of computer-based information systems analysis and design. Topics include the system development environment, project management, system requirements definition, interface and structure design, and system implementation and administration. Offered on demand.

332 Data Communications and Networks (4)
Introduces the fundamental concepts, technologies, and applications of computer networks. Topics include the basics of data communications, network topologies, protocols, routing and switching, naming and addressing, and network operations. Offered on demand.

411 Introduction to Algorithms (4)
Introduces the fundamental computer algorithms, their performance analysis and the basic technique to design algorithms. Topics include the standard algorithms and performance analysis for search and sorting, advanced data structures, graph theory, and algebraic computations. Students have the capability to design algorithms for solving various computational problems. Offered on demand.

430 Database Management Systems Design (4)
Emphasizes the concepts and structures necessary to design and implement database systems using a relational database management system. Various database management system architectures, illustrating hierarchical, network, and relational models are discussed. Physical data storage techniques, file security, data integrity, and data normalization are also explored. Offered on demand.

440 Operating Systems (4)
The principles of operating systems are introduced with an emphasis on intrasystem communication. The concepts and techniques necessary for understanding and designing these systems are examined. Topics include I/O and interrupt structure, concurrent processes, process scheduling, and memory management and protection. Offered on demand.

Ms. Blythe Brown Youmans, Applied Music, Voice (adjunct)

The Music Department offers students the opportunity to study music in a program that places the specific discipline of applied music study within the context of a liberal arts curriculum. All students have the opportunity to explore the creative process embodied in this art form and to investigate the manner in which music reflects historical trends and cultural patterns in society. The study of music provides individuals with personal fulfillment, enhances and complements everyday life, and creates an opportunity for students to discover and experience aesthetic beauty. Our program of study prepares all learners to appreciate as well as critically articulate their responses to this important part of our culture. Virginia Wesleyan offers majors in applied music and music in the liberal arts, as well as courses for the non-musician. Students may prepare for careers in private teaching, church music, music merchandising, arts management, music librarianship, or for graduate study in music or the humanities.

MUSIC COURSES (MUS)

100 Introduction to Listening (4) A

Offers a user-friendly introduction to the music of such great classical composers as Bach, Beethoven, and Mozart, while including limited encounters with the musical expressions of popular culture. An ideal survey for nonmusicians lacking musical knowledge and performance skills, the course should also serve as a helpful introduction to the realm of classical music for those who are contemplating a music major. Films, recordings, lectures, web pages, and live concerts on campus and in the community provide opportunities to develop a deeper understanding and enjoyment of our musical heritage.

101 Basic Musicianship (4) A

Fundamentals of music, including pitch and rhythmic notation. Students learn to interpret music notation using recorders and other simple folk instruments. Students may not receive credit for MUS 101 if they have already taken MUS 102. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

201 Music & Art in the Western World (4) A

Identical to ARTH 201.

213 Music History I (4)

A chronological study of music from its origins through the early 18th century. Prerequisites: MUS 100, 201, or consent. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

214 Music History II (4)

A continuation of MUS 213 from the 18th century to the present. Prerequisite: MUS 100, 201, 213/313, or consent. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

225 Intermediate Musicianship I (4)

A study of music theory, sight-singing, and ear training as part of a program to develop complete musicianship. Music theory is the logical and systematic study of the rationality of music that eventually justifies and broadens natural musical instincts and intuitions. Sight-singing and ear training enhance the musician's ability to envision the sound of a musical composition from an examination of the printed score. Includes elementary harmony and analysis, modes, triads and inversions, melodic construction, and simple harmonicization with primary and secondary triads. Prerequisite: ability to read music notation. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

226 Intermediate Musicianship II (4)

A study of music theory, sight-singing, and ear training as part of a program to develop complete musicianship. Music theory is the logical and systematic study of the rationality of music that eventually justifies and broadens natural musical instincts and intuitions. Sight-singing and ear training enhance the musician's ability to envision the sound of a musical composition from an examination of the printed score. Includes elementary harmony and analysis, modes, triads and inversions, melodic construction, and simple harmonicization with primary and secondary triads. Prerequisite: ability to read music notation. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

250/350 Music from the Baroque Era (1600-1750) (4)

A listening course exploring music from the Baroque. Students learn to work from this period in their entirety and discover how this music reflects the cultural history of the era. Works by Vivaldi, Couperin, Scarlatti, Handel, Bach, and others are included. Students have the opportunity to attend selected live performances as part of their coursework. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

251/351 Music in the Classic Era (1750 to 1825) (4)

A listening course exploring music from the Classic era. Students listen to works from this period in their entirety and discover how this music reflects the cultural history of the era. Works by Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, and others are included. Students have the opportunity to attend selected live performances as part of their coursework. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

252/352 19th-Century Music (4)

A listening course exploring music from the 19th century. Students listen to works from this period in their entirety and discover how this music reflects the cultural history of the era. Works by Beethoven, Schubert, the Schumanns (both Clara and Robert), Chopin, Liszt, Verdi, Berlioz, Brahms, and others are included. Students have the opportunity to attend selected live performances as part of their coursework. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

253/353 20th-Century Music (4)

A listening course exploring music from the 20th century. Students listen to works from this period in their entirety and discover how this music reflects the cultural history of the era. Works by Debussy, Ravel, Puccini, Bartok, Stravinsky, Schoenberg, Ives, Copland, Varèèse, Barber, Glass, Gorecki, Paart, Zwirich, and others are included. Students have the opportunity to attend selected live performances as part of their coursework. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

310 Topics in Sacred Music (4)

An in-depth study of some aspect of sacred music including, but not limited to, hymnology and sacred choral literature, sacred music history, and choral directing, all within the context of a variety of religious traditions. Offered each semester.

313 Music History I (4)

A chronological study of music from its origins through the early 18th century. A research project and some analysis are required. Prerequisite: MUS 100, 201, or consent. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

314 Music History II (4)

325 Advanced Musicianship I (4)

A continuation of MUS 225 and 226. Focuses on a wide range of musical styles from the Renaissance to the present. More complex chords and larger forms such as the fugue, rondo, theme and variations, and sonata are studied. Various strategies for analyzing musical compositions are investigated. Post-impressionist and serial composition techniques are included. Theoretical analysis and study are accompanied by parallel exercises in sight-singing and ear training. Prerequisite: MUS 226. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

326 Advanced Musicianship II (4)

A continuation of MUS 225 and 226. Focuses on a wide range of musical styles from the Renaissance to the present. More complex chords and larger forms such as the fugue, rondo, theme and variations, and sonata are studied. Various strategies for analyzing musical compositions are investigated. Post-impressionist and serial composition techniques are included. Theoretical analysis and study are accompanied by parallel exercises in sight-singing and ear training. Prerequisite: MUS 226. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

480 Senior Project (2)

The culminating experience in the music major. Students present a formal recital or write an historical or critical thesis. Using music selected from each major historical period, they demonstrate their ability to apply knowledge gleaned from the study of music history and music theory to their interpretations or investigations of the chosen repertoire. Students electing to perform a recital take MUS 480 concurrently with the final semester of applied music study and receive 2 semester hours. Students writing a thesis receive 4 semester hours. Prerequisite: grades of C or higher in MUS 313 and 325. Prerequisites/ corequisites: MUS 314 and 326.

The following course(s) are undergoing revision to fit the new enhanced, 4 x 4 curriculum. Thus, course numbers, titles, prerequisites, and offering information are subject to change.

102 Basic Musicianship for Guitarists (4)

Basic fundamentals of music including pitch and rhythmic notation. Students learn to make music from a written score using the guitar. Students need to own their own instrument. Students may not receive credit for MUS 102 if they have already taken MUS 101. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

202/302 Great Composers (4)

An in-depth study of the life and works of a single composer. Students become familiar with the composer’s life, the historical setting, and gain intimate knowledge of important compositions from all periods of the composer’s career through guided listening.

APPLIED MUSIC COURSES (APMU)

111 College Choir (1)

Offered as a cultural experience for any student of the college. A wide variety of choral literature is studied and performed, occasionally accompanied by a professional orchestra. In addition to learning the selected repertoire, members of the choir are given many opportunities to develop musicianship and vocal skills. While the ability to read music notation is not required, participants must be able to match pitch. Offered each semester. Four semester hours must be completed to fulfill the general studies requirement.

113 Class Voice (2)

Offered in conjunction with APMU 211. Wesleyan Singers. Students study basic vocal techniques to develop the voice for both solo and choral use. Prerequisite: membership in Wesleyan Singers. Offered each semester.

121-462 Applied Music: Private Study (Instrumental, Voice, Piano/Organ, Guitar, and Composition) (2)

Private applied music study is offered to students enrolled in the college regardless of previous musical background or major interest. A serious commitment to learning about classical music literature and the technique required to perform such literature is required. Applied music fee of $250. Prerequisite: consent. Four semester hours must be completed to fulfill the general studies requirement.

211 Wesleyan Singers (1)

A small performance ensemble that offers a unique opportunity for advanced students to explore singing on a higher level than is possible in a larger ensemble. In addition to learning the selected repertoire, members of the choir are given many opportunities to develop musicianship and vocal skills. The ability to read music notation is not required, participants must be able to match pitch. Offered each semester. Four semester hours must be completed to fulfill the general studies requirement.

230 Wesleyan Singers’ Performance Tour (4)

A performance tour of approximately one-week duration with concerts each night. Performances may also be scheduled during the day in schools and retirement homes. A week’s intensive rehearsal is scheduled before departure and several performances on campus and in the area occur upon return. Prerequisite: membership in Wesleyan Singers.

PHILOSOPHY

DR. STEVEN M. EMMANUEL

DR. PATRICK A. GOOLD

DR. LAURENCE D. HULGREN, Program Coordinator

DR. R. CATHAL WOODS

The Greek word philosophia ("philosophy") derives from the roots philos ("love") and sophia ("wisdom") and is commonly translated "love of wisdom." For Socrates, and those who followed his example, the love of wisdom took the form of a disciplined reflection about human life and conduct. Convinced that intellectual and moral integrity go hand in hand, Socrates raised fundamental questions about the nature of justice, virtue, and the good life. Proceeding by careful analysis and rigorous dialectic, he sought a knowledge of reality on which to establish a firm foundation for making sound moral judgment. Though philosophical practice has taken many different forms over the centuries, the conception of philosophy as a process of critical inquiry aimed at a deeper understanding of self and world remains the dominant one. The study of philosophy promotes the development of analytical, critical, and interpretive abilities that are important for life in general. Properly pursued, philosophical study cultivates the appetite and capacity for self-examination and reflection, for the open exchange and debate of ideas, for responsible and articulate participation in community affairs, and for lifelong learning.

Philosophy courses provide students with a coherent intellectual structure of study, while acquainting them with the broad diversity of ideas and approaches within the Western philosophical tradition and beyond. The curriculum covers significant periods and prominent figures in the history of intellectual thought, as well as the central subfields of philosophy and their distinctive problem sets. Though the department recognizes that a philosophy major is a valuable preparation for careers in many fields, its approach to teaching reflects a basic commitment to the idea that philosophy is best thought of as a practice and way of life.

PHILOSOPHY COURSES (PHIL)

101 Individual and Society (4)

An introduction to philosophy as critical thinking and analysis through an examination of questions of human value(s). Students learn how to recognize and analyze the values by which they live, examine the issues of self and society, and develop a philosophical skill in seeing the basic values that influence these personal and social issues. Offered each fall.

102 Contemporary Moral Issues (4)

Introduces the practice of moral reasoning through the study of representative moral theories and their application to controversial issues in contemporary life. Students develop the critical and analytical skills required for thinking clearly about moral problems and forming their own conclusions about them. Offered each spring.

105 Meaning, Happiness, and the Good Life (4)

Examines key texts from philosophy and literature, East and West, on the meaning of life. Students attempt to grapple with questions such as, Can happiness be found in the fulfillment of our desires, or in their elimination, or in the worship and service of a universal being? Is a meaningful life a happy life? And what does the question “What is the meaning of life?” mean? Offered intermittently.

110 Perennial Questions (4)

A critical examination of several great issues that confront us in modern philosophical thought—issues including the question of the existence of God, the nature of ultimate reality, the sources of human knowledge, the principles of moral values, and the problems of aesthetic judgments. Offered each spring.

203 The Examined Life (4)

Approaches philosophy through the close reading and interpretation of Socratic dialogues. Engages the substance of the dialogues, the sort of knowledge Socrates seeks, how he searches for it, and why he thinks this search is necessary. Literary technique and the role of rhetoric in philosophical argument are considered. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each fall.

209 Methods of Logic (4)

Analysis and evaluation of argument along with an introduction to induction, correlation and causation, and to specific methods of argument evaluation such as categorical logic, propositional logic, truth tables, tree truths, and first-order logic. Background readings in the philosophy of logic and the psychology of reasoning. Offered each spring.

212 Practical Ethics (4)

Explores the potential of moral reasoning as a tool for conflict resolution and consensus building. Through a series of practical exercises, students learn to use moral argumentation as a means of fostering constructive dialogue and mutual understanding. Students develop the ability to listen carefully, distinguish real from apparent disagreements, discover common ground, and find creative solutions to moral problems. Offered intermittently.

215 Philosophy of Religion (4) V
Address major questions that have emerged in the history of philosophy concerning the justification of theological belief, the meaning of religious language, the nature of miracles, and mystical experience. Offered on demand.

304 Environmental Ethics (4) V
Identical to ENVN 304.

328 Buddhist Philosophy (4) V
Focuses on early Buddhist teachings in various schools of Buddhist philosophy. Readings and lectures are aimed at understanding the way Buddhist thinkers approach questions in ethics, epistemology, metaphysics, and philosophy of mind. Course readings are drawn from various canonical sources that record the teachings of the historical Buddha. These are supplemented by additional readings that discuss the development of these teachings in various schools of Buddhist thought. Special emphasis is placed on the Mahayana and Zen Buddhist traditions. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

332 Ancient Greek Philosophy (4) H,W
Introduces the major themes in Classical and Hellenistic schools, which conceived of philosophy as a way to find peace of mind. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and sophomore status or consent. Offered each fall.

334 Medieval Philosophy (4)
A critical exploration of the possible meanings of "human being," and how individuals might interpret their own existence. Offered intermittently.

337 The Enlightenment: A Movement and its Critics (4) VW
Examines a constellation of ideas about art, economics, education, psychology, politics, science and philosophy that defined the Enlightenment as an intellectual movement and a historical phenomenon. Offered each spring.

400 Philosophy Seminar (4)
An in-depth study of the work of a single major philosopher. The figure selected changes with each offering. Contact the department coordinator for the current selection. Offered intermittently.

410 Critical Reasoning (4)
What is the correct way to make judgments and decisions? This course investigates human reasoning and provides some basic instruction in correct reasoning. Possible topics include: conscious and unconscious thinking, advertisements, rhetorical techniques, biases, character traits of critical thinkers, argument analysis and evaluation, group reasoning. Offered each fall.

221/321 Ethics & Health Care (4)
Forgoing life-sustaining treatment...procurement of organs and tissue for transplantation...artificial reproduction...allocation of scarce health resources...AIDS: public health vs. private rights. Such issues in health care confront all of us at some time both as members of individual concern and as issues of public policy. Students study the ethical principles that should undergird decisions in health care. It focuses on the application of ethical principles to concrete cases. Offered each spring.

235/335 Social & Political Philosophy (4)
A study of recent research into happiness, what it means to be human, the nature of miracle, and the true needs of human understanding and integrating the perspectives of others. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

292/392 Alternative Futures (4)
Is there hope for HUMAN beings? Can we forecast futures as other than more of the same? What choices might we exercise in shaping futures? After initial reflections on the human prospect, students work in groups responsible for conjecturing sensibly and usefully about possible alternative futures. Topics include: future shock, coping, populations, resources, war, environment, and genetic engineering. Offered intermittently.

310 Theory of Knowledge (4)
What is the nature of our knowledge about the world, other people, ourselves? Focusing on work done in the 20th century, students examine some recent theories about the nature of human knowledge, as well as the related concepts of truth, justification, and belief. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

316 Needs of the Soul (4)
Discusses the meaning of history, the proper function of politics, religion, and culture, the nature of the human condition, and the true needs of human beings with constant reference to the writings of three writers of the middle 20th Century: Simone Weil, Simone de Beauvoir and Hannah Arendt.

350 Existential Philosophy (4)
A critical look at technology and its effects on society. Some of the important ways in which modern technology has changed how we think about ourselves, our obligations to others, and the natural environment are examined. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

410 Why Reason? (4)
Reasoning has long been attributed a redemptive power. In this course we examine this idea, and examine some of the roles that have been ascribed to reasoning, along with the problems from which reason might free us. We also learn about how we reason and why it is difficult for human beings. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

434 Issues in the Study of Happiness (4)
A study of recent research into happiness, what it means to be human, the nature of miracle, and the true needs of human understanding and integrating the perspectives of others. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

100 Introduction to Physical Science (4) L
Emphasizes the relevance of physical science in the everyday world and explores the connections between chemistry and physics. The laboratory component allows students to explore the principles of physics and chemistry using hands-on experiences. Topics include energy, electricity, magnetism, heat, work, light, the atom, chemical bonds, and chemical reactions. Intended for non-science majors. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered each semester.
PHYSICS

Dr. Garry E. Noe, Program Coordinator

PHYSICS COURSES (PHYS)

141 Introduction to Astronomy: The Solar System (4) L
A survey of the history of astronomy; the motion of objects in the night sky, gravitation and relativity; telescopes; the sun, planets, moon, meteors, and comets; the origin of the solar system; space exploration; and the search for extraterrestrial life. Designed for non-science majors. Offered each fall.

142 Introduction to Astronomy: Stars and Galaxies (4) L
A survey of the history of astronomy; the constellations; the nature of the stars; stellar evolution; white dwarfs, neutron stars, and black holes; the structure and evolution of the Milky Way; other galaxies, quasars; cosmology. Designed for non-science majors. Prerequisite: MATH 105 with a grade of B- or higher, MATH placement level H, A, B, or consent. Offered each spring.

221 University Physics I (4) L
A calculus-based introduction to kinematics, Newtonian dynamics, work and energy, gravitation, waves, fluid mechanics, kinetic theory, and thermodynamics. Prerequisite: MATH 136 or 171. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours. Offered each fall.

222 University Physics II (4) L
A continuation of PHYS 221. Topics include electric fields, circuit analysis, magnetism, geometrical and wave optics, relativity, and atomic structure. Prerequisite: PHYS 221 with a grade of C- or higher. Corequisite: MATH 172. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours. Offered each spring.

Mr. Rene Perez-Lopez (adjunct)
Dr. Aubrey L. Westfall

202/203 Ethnicity and Politics: Latinos in America (4) 5
Provides a literary path to exploring the human experience and discovering the role politics plays in that experience. Through readings and discussion of classical utopian and dystopian novels, students explore arguments and concepts detailed in classic political philosophy. Offered each fall.

203 Politics and Literature (4) V
A study of how Latinos have adapted to U.S. political ways in order to participate in U.S. politics and press their political agenda. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

POLITICAL SCIENCE COURSES (POLS)

103 Global Realities (4) 5
Designed for students who want to begin learning about international relations. Begins with a broad overview of political, economic, and cultural patterns in today’s global environment; followed by an inventory, evaluation, and comparison of information sources about international affairs, including print, broadcast, and cable media, the Internet, and CD-ROM and simulation software. Concludes with one or more case studies of current global issues, such as international terrorism, the control of rogue states, denuclearizing warfare, international women’s issues, international environmental problems, and the impact of global consumerism. Through these case studies, students learn how to identify key international problems, track them in the media, gather information about them, and develop and evaluate possible solutions. Offered each spring.

111 Introduction to Political Science (4) 5
Introduces students to the fundamental concepts and issues in the study of politics. Primary emphasis is placed on ideologies, such as liberal democracy, conservatism, socialism, communism, fascism, nationalism, and on political institutions and behavior, including legislatures, executives, interest groups, political parties, political socialization, participation, the expression of political opinion, revolution, and types of political systems. These concepts and issues are considered from both behavioral and traditional perspectives. Offered each fall.

112 Introduction to American Government (4) 5
Offers a citizen’s guide to the American political system, providing a brief overview of the Founders’ constitutional design, the federal system, and politics and policy-making in the presidency, bureaucracy, Congress, and the Supreme Court. Covers key judicial rulings on civil rights and liberties and national powers. Gives special attention to the electoral process, the media, and the ways that ordinary citizens can influence governmental policies. Offered each fall.

Provides a literary path to exploring the human experience and discovering the role politics plays in that experience. Through readings and discussion of classical utopian and dystopian novels, students explore arguments and concepts detailed in classic political philosophy. Offered each fall.
210 Introduction to International Relations (4) S
Drawing on both historical and contemporary experience, students study the behavioral and institutional aspects of the nation-state and its global environment in their political, military, economic, and cultural aspects. Main topics include power, foreign policy, diplomacy, international organization and law, arms control, and the global economy considered in the context of the post-Cold War world. Issues examined include overpopulation, food and energy scarcity, national and ethnic movements, economic development, environmental problems, and militarism. Offered each fall.

238/338 Comparative Politics of the Middle East and North Africa (4)
Offers students a basic understanding of broad trends of social change, state building, and economic development in the modern Middle East and North Africa ( MENA) during the post-WWII period. Attends to distinctions across MENA states along these three major dimensions, with special attention to public and private responses to modernization, democratization, and globalization. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

265 Research Methods (4) Q
Introduces the political science major to the major research design and analytical tools. Students learn how political scientists know what they know, and how they gain tools with which to explore, describe, explain, present, and debate this knowledge. Students actively experience every dimension of the research process as they plan, design, and carry out their own projects, then communicate their findings in written and oral forms. Daily classes include lecture and discussion of class readings, and individual student research. Offered each fall.

321 Political Writings of Latin America (4)
Identical to SPAN 321.

335 American Government (4) S
Acquaints students with the workings of our system of federal government. The Constitution, the presidency, Congress, the Supreme Court, political parties, and the regulatory agencies are treated as separate units of a unified focus upon our institutions of national government. Offered each fall.

348 International Human Rights (4) S,W
Examines the practical and philosophical questions surrounding civil, political, social, and economic rights, self-determination, and minority rights. Explores the contemporary practice of human rights in policy-making and law, with special emphasis on the role of politics in their interpretation, implementation, and enforcement. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior status or consent. Offered on demand.

373 Conflict Management (4) S,W
Identical to MBE 373.

105 Politics Through Film (4)
Film, one of the human community’s most comprehensive forms of cultural expression, offers unique opportunities for exploring the political dimension of life. Drawing examples from the extensive category of politically relevant films, this course introduces and illuminates a wide range of fundamental concepts in the study of politics. Although the focus is on politics, this course also offers the opportunity for students to learn some basics of film analysis and cultivate a critical perspective. Offered each spring.

201 State & Local Government & Politics (4)
Based on both theoretical and practical experiences in state and local government and politics. The relationship between federal, state, and federal systems is explored. Office holders and local officials are guest speakers on practical aspects. Offered each fall.

204 Introduction to Feminist Political Thought (4)
Feminist theory has always had a political agenda: to improve the situation of women in society. It also has theoretical import, asking basic questions about personal identity and equality, about ethical obligations to others, about justice and fairness, and about the history of political theory. This course brings together both of these strands, focusing on feminist theory, feminist politics, and the contributions that feminist theory can make in thinking about politics in general. Offered each spring.

205/305 Law in American Politics & Culture (4)
Examines how law is defined, its philosophical roots, the relationship between law and justice, the role it plays in American society, and how it is represented in American culture. Using films, plays, novels and other cultural artifacts in addition to sources in political science, we focus especially on the American Constitution, the concepts of the rule of law and due process of law, the institutions and politics of the law, making and enforcing process, and the unique roles of the lawyer and the judge. At the Honors level (305), we use cultural and political criticism to take a closer, more interdisciplinary look at how motion pictures, novels, plays, and other forms of cultural expression reveal the politics and patterns through which American culture understands and represents the law and its institutions. Offered each fall.

206 Introduction to Comparative Politics (4)
An introduction to cross-national comparative analysis, with particular attention to social movements, democratization, globalization, and the relative political and economic autonomy of the countries examined. Country case include Britain, Germany, India, Iran, Mexico, Nigeria, and the United States. Students engaged in cross-country case studies compare and contrast major political and economic institutions, political culture, parties and interest groups, and discuss class-based perspectives on political conflicts over wealth distribution and social justice. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

217/317 Comparative Politics: Asian Pacific Rim (4)
Examines political systems and the dynamics of political change in the eleven East and Southeast Asian nations of the Pacific Rim, a region that has assumed a commanding presence in world politics and the world economy. Normally included are Japan, China, and selected nations from among Korea, Philippines, Indonesia, Malaysia, Thailand, Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos and Burma. Offered each spring of odd-numbered years.

218/318 Comparative Politics: South Asia (4)
The confrontation of Western political forms with traditional non-Western and pre-colonial cultural and alternative strategies for political and economic development highlights this analysis of the politics of nation-building in the South Asian portion of the Third World. India and Pakistan are the main cases to be studied, although examples may be taken from Iran, Afghanistan, and perhaps Bangladesh and Malaysia as well. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

220/320 Comparative Politics: Latin America (4)
Examines major problems of political and economic modernization by considering Latin American political systems in their various approaches to development. Focus is on key examples of the successes and failures of the various developmental strategies: e.g., Cuba, Chile, Peru, Brazil, and Mexico. Further, the impact of United States’ policies upon the region as a whole receives special attention. Identical to SPAN 220/320. Offered each spring.

237/337 American Legislative Process (4)
Deals with structure and function of law making in Congress and the state legislatures, including consideration of such topics as: committees, representation, policy making, ideology and group influence. We also examine the impact of Congress and state legislatures on vital issues of public policy ranging from foreign policy to welfare policy, or from taxation to energy policy. Finally, the role of party politics and campaigns in the legislative process are considered. Offered on demand.

239 American Political Thought (4)
Focuses on major ideas shaping American institutions of government and politics from the founding generation to the present. The writings of many different individuals relating to such issues as: slavery and race; capitalism and social justice; and feminist political theory are evaluated. Readings include the Federalist Papers, selections from Democracy in America, works by Malcolm X, Dr. Martin Luther King, and Betty Friedan.

250 Introduction to International Political Economy (4)
Offers an overview of the political institutions and conflicts that structure our contemporary international economy. Class readings and discussions examine major issues at the center of current political science research. In particular, we examine postwar systems of international trade and finance, as well as divergent policy goals of states and societies of the North and South. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

270/370 The Constitution and Criminal Procedure (4)
Using the case-study method in texts and class discussion, media reports of current Supreme Court actions, artifacts from popular culture, and a hands-on simulation of the Supreme Court itself, this course surveys the American approach to constitutionalism; the overall framework of the American legal system; the decision-making processes of the Supreme Court; and the Supreme Court’s interpretation of four civil rights and professional procedures associated with the operation of the criminal justice system. Fourth Amendment search and seizure, the Exclusionary Rule, Arrêt, Fifth Amendment due process issues, the Miranda Warnings, Sixth Amendment right to counsel and jury trial issues, and Eighth Amendment bail, fine, and punishment issues, including asset forfeiture and capital punishment are of particular interest. Students taking this course at the 300 level have the additional advantage of more comprehensive coverage of these issues and valuable practice in briefing relevant cases. Identical to CJ 270/370. Offered spring of even-numbered years.
303 Urban Politics (4)
Students examine scholarly perspectives on the evolution of political processes, institutions, the intergovernmental context, key actors and contemporary issues in urban politics such as urban sprawl and economic development. A major part of this class is a six-week simulation of a city government where students take roles of city councilors, lawyers, business leaders, and citizen activists in making important decisions about the city's future. Offered each spring.

307 The Presidency and the American Political System (4)

308 Elections in American Politics (4)
A course that examines the dynamics of the American elections system, with particular focus on presidential elections. Students explore theoretical literature that seeks to explain elections and their outcomes, and engage in practical activities associated with the running of electoral campaigns. Offered full of even-numbered years.

323 Topics in Public Policy Analysis (4)
Using policy analysis models students examine a set of substantial public policy issues to establish the issue context, define the policy problems, and evaluate alternative solutions. Topics may differ each semester and include, but are not limited to, the environment, health care, crime, urban policy, poverty, and welfare. Identical to ENVS 323. Offered each spring.

326 Environmental Policy Analysis (4)
Examines environmental politics and policy by studying a set of substantive environmental policy issues to establish the issue context, define the policy problems and evaluate alternative solutions. Identical to ENVS 326. Offered each semester.

334 Comparative Politics: Contemporary Africa (4)
Introduces students to the significant issues having to do with the politics, economics, sociology and foreign relations of modern Africa. The course focuses on the core theoretical and conceptual ideas that underpin the study of Africa, as well as the primary contemporary problems facing African nations. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

343 Public Administration (4)
Contemporary approaches to policy-making and decision-making techniques are reviewed in light of the values represented in them and their promise for serving the public interest. We review classic and modern theories of bureaucracy, the history, development, and philosophical assumptions of the science of administration; the structure and functioning of American federal, state, and local administration; the budget-making process; government regulation of security; and the major challenges facing governmental professionals in our time. Identical to HHSW 343. Offered each fall.

344 European Union in World Politics (4)
Examines the foreign policies of European countries, both individually and collectively through the European Union, toward each other, regional and intergovernmental organizations, and other regions of the world. Explores other issues related to Europe’s economic and political integration, including national identities, democratic accountability, the Union’s expansion, US-European relations, the European Constitution, Turkey’s bid to join the Union, and immigration and Islam in Europe. Offered on demand.

345 International Law and Organizations (4)
Provides an introduction to the rules and institutions that provide the context for global politics. After considering why states cooperate, the course examines how organizations like the United Nations, the World Bank, Amnesti International, and the International Court of Justice attempt to establish and protect international standards for war and peace, human rights, the environment, and economic development. Of central concern are questions of these organizations’ legitimacy, accountability, and effectiveness. Offered each spring.

346 Model United Nations (1)
Provides an introduction to the rules and procedures of the General Assembly of the United Nations, including the UN’s bureaucratic structure, resolution writing, multilateral diplomacy, and specific issues in contemporary international politics. It guides students’ preparations for and participation in the annual National Model United Nations conference. Pass/fail grading. Offered each spring.

350 Immigration and Citizenship (4)
Explores the causes and consequences of international migration, how governments regulate it, and how it transforms our ideas of citizenship. Migrants contribute to their native and adopted lands, but also exacerbate inequality, enflame nationalist sentiments, and carry with them values and attitudes that may threaten existing sociocultural and political orders. Prerequisite: junior status or consent. Offered on demand.

353 Globalization and Its Discontents (4)
The theoretical, political, economic, and institutional foundations and practices of free trade are studied. Case studies are developed by students from internet data on the issues and stakeholders in the globalization debate and the impact of their activities. Included among these are human rights, environment, and labor groups; the World Bank; the World Trade Organization; and global corporations.

371 Constitutional Law I: The Federal System (4)
Government regulation of business, privacy, abortion, the origins and extent of the Supreme Court’s authority, and due process of law are among the specific topics that this course considers, using the case study method in light of current historical and political analyses. We focus on the relationship of the federal government to the states and the Supreme Court to the Congress and the president, as well as the role played by the court and the judicial philosophies of individual justices. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

372 Constitutional Law II: Substantive Rights (4)
Privacy rights, rights of accused criminals, racial, economic, and sex discrimination in schools, jobs, and housing, reverse discrimination, and freedom of expression and religion are particular concerns of this course, which examines through the case study method, together with historical and political analyses, the nature of the Supreme Court’s authority and its relationships to other branches of American government, equal protection of the laws, and First Amendment rights. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

374 Conflict Management II (4)
Identical to CJ 374.

380 Arab-Israeli Conflict (4)
A political history of the Arab-Israeli conflict as multiple level of analysis. Not only does it examine traditional macro-level ( interstate and national) accounts of the conflict, but it also draws from supplier, government regulation of business, privacy, abortion, the origins and extent of the Supreme Court’s authority, and due process of law are among the specific topics that this course considers, using the case study method in light of current historical and political analyses. We focus on the relationship of the federal government to the states and the Supreme Court to the Congress and the president, as well as the role played by the court and the judicial philosophies of individual justices. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

433 Political Theory: Ancient (4)
Introduces students to the classic works in ancient political philosophy. The readings and discussions center on the works of ancient philosophers, historians, and playwrights. How did political philosophers such as Plato and Aristotle deal with issues such as justice, obligation, equality, the common good, the role of reason, the aims of government and the nature of political? Many of the problems that political theorists confront in light of certain fundamental questions about society and politics are examined. The work of theorists from Plato to Aquinas are included. Offered each fall.

434 Political Theory: Modern (4)
Students analyze and evaluate some of the major themes in modern political theory such as natural rights, political equality and distributive justice. Selections include the works of Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke, Rousseau, Mill, Smith, Marx, and Nietzsche. Our goal is to consider the ideas of these authors and to understand more clearly the profound and complex role that ideas have played, and continue to play, in society. In addition, we deal with some contemporary responses to their work. Offered each spring.

440 Seminar: American Foreign Policy (4)
Examines American foreign policy formation. The first section focuses on the foreign policy process, while the second section is devoted to case studies of specific foreign policy decisions in American history. Provides a framework for informed evaluation of American foreign policy. Offered intermittently.

451 Junior Seminar (4)
Prepares students for successful internships. Students explore the meaning of work and careers and attitudes that may threaten existing sociocultural and attitudes that may threaten existing sociocultural and attitudes that may threaten existing Open to all students. Offered each spring.

PORTFOLIO

Dr. Lawrence D. Huittgren, Director
PORTfolio is a selective four-year program that allows students to integrate their college education with off-campus experiential opportunities. The purpose of PORTfolio is to provide a curriculum through which students can build the foundation for the knowledge, attitudes, and skills that are necessary for life-long personal satisfaction, professional success and civic responsibility. By dissolving the wall separating academics from the world outside, it connects liberal learning with the surrounding community, while each student in the program maintains and continually updates an electronic portfolio that documents her/his four years at VWC.

PORTfolio students and are accepted as new in-coming freshmen. The program includes at least one specially designed seminar a year, an internship and Winter Session courses for externships and service learning. Completion of the program satisfies VWC's computer literacy and oral communications requirement as well as other General Studies requirements. The program is taken in addition to one's major.

PORTFOLIO COURSES (PORT)

121 Introduction to the PORTfolio Program: Self and Circumstance (4)
A time of self-exploration and discovery involving close work with faculty mentors and other PORTfolio students. Readings, off-campus explorations, and the development of an electronic portfolio assist students in clarifying their own reasons for coming to Virginia Wesleyan College, their purpose while they are here, and the unique resources that they bring to the learning process. In addition, students discover their connections to the Chesapeake Bay environment and the international port of Hampton Roads and begin to use these unique resources to enrich their education. Prerequisite: admission to PORTfolio Program. Taken in the fall of the freshman year.

123 Service Learning in Hampton Roads (2)
Identical to INST 123.

124 Service Learning and Issues of Civic Engagement in Hampton Roads (4)
Identical to INST 124.

421 Senior Synthesis and Segue (2)
Provides the capstone to the PORTfolio Program. Students reflect, synthesize and write about their four years of learning experiences. A focus on ethical values allows students to discover how they can put their liberal learning to work for the common good. Emphasizes responsibilities to oneself, to one another, and to the community in the transition from college to "the rest of their lives." Each student's electronic portfolio is completed through the addition of individual reflections, synthesis, explorations, and preparations. Prerequisite: senior status in PORTfolio. Offered each spring.

122 Liberal Arts Seminar (4)
What are the liberal arts, and why spend four good years studying them? In the U.S., the liberal arts are housed institutionally in colleges and the undergraduate programs of universities. In this context, the two questions from the first sentence in this paragraph may be rephrased as: What are colleges? What are they for? How do they accomplish their goals? Their questions are approached in several ways. One is historical. How did colleges in general, and VWC in particular, get to be the way they (are) (is)? Where do the various ideas of what it means to be liberally educated come from? A second is more philosophical. What does it mean to know something? How would you teach, given different answers to that question? Another is normatively. What should colleges be doing? What kind of curriculum should we, at Virginia Wesleyan, have? Offered each spring.

221 Problem Solving Seminar (4)
A course for sophomores participating in PORTfolio. It develops problem-solving skills in students by having them work out solutions, individually and collaboratively, to "real-life" situations. Various strategies are examined and employed culminating in "Guided Design." Offered each fall.

225 PORTfolio Career Study (4)
Designed to provide an in-depth introduction to a career field of choice, an externship experience within that career field, and subsequent reporting and processing. Students spend the first week researching the career choice made in previous PORTfolio courses and the site at which they will extern. The second week consists of the on-site externship. The final week is used to document, process and present the lessons learned. Final reflection and summary are included in an updated electronic portfolio.

311 Director's Seminar (1)
Provides a venue for PORTfolio students to investigate in depth some topic of relevance as well as have an opportunity to stay abreast of current developments in career and graduate school planning. The class meets once a week over dinner with visiting speakers and presentations by Career Services staff. Prerequisite: sophomore status in the PORTfolio program or consent of the program director. Offered each fall or on demand.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SERIES

The professional development series of courses is designed for individuals currently teaching in a classroom setting. Teachers are provided insight and direction in obtaining National Board Certification. Questions should be directed to Mr. Thomas R. Farley in the Adult Studies Program office.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SERIES COURSES (PDS)

NB1 Professional Development and Pre-Candidacy for National Board Certification (3 non-degree)
Designed for individuals who are currently teaching in a classroom setting. Teachers are introduced to the mission, goals, and processes of the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards. At the same time they explore and determine their levels of interest in seeking National Board Certification. Designed for individuals who are not seeking National Board Certification, it also serves as an opportunity for teachers to critically consider strategies to improve their teaching and to impact student learning. Teachers investigate and demonstrate "best teaching practices" across their specific curricula and grade level (K-12) through the use of professional journals and reference materials, production of professional reading reports, designing and executing a content improvement plan, videotaping a lesson, implementing new differentiated instructional strategies, and creating an essay about the videotaped lesson with learning strategy implementation using descriptive, analytical and reflective writing. Pass/fail grading. Offered by contract to school divisions.

NB4 Take One Candidate Support Workshop (2 non-degree)
Designed to fine-tune the skills developed during the PDS-NB1 course. Topics will focus on the Core Propositions, video-taping, effective instructional practices and writing an entry. Included in class discussions is appropriate alignment to national curriculum standards as well as NBPTS standards applicable to the Take One! Entry. Teachers complete the Take One! Entry. Pass/fail grading. Offered fall and spring semesters.

PDS NBS Professional Development for National Board Certification - Completing the Journey (1)
Teachers focus on the final details of the portfolio entry as well as become familiar with the assessment center exercises. This course focuses on peer review and collegiate collaboration as the portfolio is Due to the interdisciplinary nature of our subject, students who are considering the psychology major should work closely with their academic advisors in selecting general studies and elective courses that will provide them with necessary background knowledge. Courses in the humanities and the natural sciences are particularly appropriate.

The Psychology Major as Preparation for the Healthcare Professions

Students planning to enter schools of medicine, dentistry, or other healthcare fields after college can major in psychology and still have time to take essential courses in the natural sciences. Practitioners who can consider the psychological factors that contribute to their patients’ complaints and reactions to treatment often find that having this perspective improves their diagnostic and therapeutic effectiveness. The college’s pre-medical advisor can describe how this curricular integration can be achieved through careful planning.

PSYCHOLOGY COURSES (PSY)

101 Introduction to Psychology I (4)

The first part of the introductory psychology course and a prerequisite for other psychology courses. Covers research methods, theoretical perspectives, biological foundations of behavior, sensory and perceptual processes, cognition, learning, memory, and consciousness. Intended for freshmen and sophomores. Offered each fall.

210 Statistical Analysis in Psychology (4)

Examines the role of data analysis in psychological research, stressing understanding of the fit of analysis techniques with data collection methods and research design. Emphasizes selection of the appropriate statistic, computation, and interpretation of results. Includes the application of computer software for data management, analysis, and graphing. Prerequisite: sophomore/junior status, completion of the general studies math requirement, declared major in psychology or consent. Offered each fall.

220 Research Methods in Psychology (4)

Students prepare an empirical research proposal that reflects understanding of the scientific method as an approach to studying psychological phenomena. Focuses on using the professional literature, the logic of empirically based inquiry, selection of appropriate data-gathering strategies, ethical research responsibilities, and the review process for human subjects clearance. Prerequisites: sophomore/junior status and at least 8 semester hours in psychology, including PSY 210, or consent. Offered each spring.

227 Social Psychology (4)

Explores our development as socialized human beings shaped through our interactions with groups of other people and how the structure and function of both the formal and informal groups that exist in society are shaped by the personalities of the individuals who comprise their membership. Students discover both academically and experientially the nature of such group-related psychological dynamics as attitude formation, interpersonal attraction, social conflict, and bureaucratic organization. Prerequisite: PSY 102, 201, or SOC 100. Identical to SOC 227. Offered each fall.

256 Abnormal Psychology (4)

The various categories of disturbed behavior are described in terms of their defining symptom patterns. Causes, diagnosis, treatment, and prevention are also discussed. Prerequisite: PSY 101, 102, or 201. Offered each spring.

PDS NB6 National Board Renewal Workshop (1)

The NBCT Renewal Workshop is a series of five class meetings to introduce NBCT renewal candidates to the renewal process, provide support as candidates examine their professional growth experiences, and complete their four-part portfolio to demonstrate continued accomplished teaching. Prerequisite: current National Board Certified Teacher (NBCT); approaching ten year renewal within one (1) year. Offered each semester.
285 Theories of Personality (4)
A survey of the major theoretical descriptions of personality structure, beginning with Freud’s psychodynamic model and tracing developments thereafter through exposure to significant alternative viewpoints. Prerequisites: PSY 101, 102 or 201. Offered each fall.

313 Clinical Neuropsychology (4)
Facilitates learning about the connections and interactions between neuroanatomy and functioning of the brain and neuropsychological disorders. Considers how clinical neuropsychologists assess, diagnose, and treat dysfunctions in these areas. Prerequisites: PSY 101, 102 or 201 and junior/senior status. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

321 Industrial/Organizational Psychology (4)
Presents an overview of individual, environmental, and organizational factors that affect job-related behavior. Topics include selection, testing, motivation, job satisfaction, job analysis, performance evaluation, safety and violence in the workplace, stress, leadership, and engineering psychology. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and PSY 101, 102 or 201, or consent. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

333 Assessment of Individual Differences (4)
An examination of the theoretical and practical considerations involved in the construction, administration, and interpretation of psychological tests to measure such factors as achievement, aptitudes, interests, and personality structure. Prerequisites: PSY 101, 102 or 201 and junior/senior status. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

351 Psychology of Gender (4)
Explores how being born into one gender category and not the other has a profound impact on how individuals are treated, what they expect of themselves, and how they lead their lives. Takes a psychological approach to critically examine sex and gender differences across a variety of life domains. Prerequisites: PSY 101, PSY 102 or 201 and junior/senior status. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

450 Evolutionary Psychology (4)
Explores how evolution has shaped behavioral, cognitive, and emotional mechanisms to help our hunter/gatherer ancestors cope with recurrent evolutionary problems. Students discuss why evolutionary approaches have met with such controversy, implications for understanding behavior in contemporary environments, and how culture and our evolved neural circuitry interact to produce behaviors. Prerequisites: PSY 101, 102 or 201 and junior/senior status. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

469 Uncertainty, Self, and Society (4)
Explores how, in today’s society, people must prepare for and adapt to rapid and dramatic changes in the world around them. Critically examines the meaning and role of psychological uncertainty in our personal lives and in society overall. Prerequisites: PSY 101, 102 or 201 and junior/senior status. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

477 History and Systems of Modern Psychology (4)
An examination of psychology’s evolution from its roots in vintage philosophical and biological concerns to its present diversity of research directions and areas of application that reveals the issues of substance and methodology that have systematically developed. Emphasizes analysis, synthesis, and evaluation of information. Especially useful to the psychology major seeking to identify a topic for the original research project (see PSY 480) and the non-major interested in an advanced but general coverage of fundamental psychological trends and perspectives. Prerequisite: junior/senior status. Offered each fall.

480 Original Research Project (4) W
Students conduct an independent empirical study, prepare a paper on their research, and defend the effort in an oral exam before a committee comprised of the project advisor, one other psychology faculty member, and one faculty member outside of psychology. Prerequisites: senior psychology major, ENG 185 with a grade of C or higher, PSY 210, PSY 220, and approval by project advisor.

489 Social Cognition (4)
Explores the ways that people make sense of their social worlds. Classic and contemporary scholarship from four main perspectives is integrated to form an understanding of six key phenomena: prejudice, attitudes, self and identity, attributions, social perceptions, and ideology. Prerequisites: PSY 101, 102 or 201 and junior/senior status. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

The following course(s) are undergoing revision to fit the revised, 4 x 4 curriculum. Thus, course numbers, titles, prerequisites, and offering information are subject to change.

245 Child Development Across Cultures (4)
Explores representative topics in child development from a cross-cultural perspective. The goal of this exploration is to uncover universal as well as culture-specific determinants of developmental phenomena. Students who enroll in this course leave with an appreciation of the challenges faced by those who are born into one culture but mature and are schooled in another. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

257 Introduction to Sports Psychology (4)
Describes how various psychological theories and principles are applied in the domain of athletics. Topics covered include leadership development, team building, motivation, training, and the management of anxiety. Offered when circumstances permit.

277 Learning Theory (4)
The highly influential and controversial perspective known as behaviorism is explored, first by helping students understand the logical basis for its characteristic insistence that only objectively measurable behavior can be subject to genuinely scientific investigation, and then by demonstrating how its principles have guided much of psychology’s inquiry about the form of learning known as conditioning. Applications in the areas of therapy, self-management, and behavior organizations are described. Also considered are the ethical issues that have been raised concerning the use of this approach. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

300 Teaching Assistants’ Program (2)
On the basis of superior performance in courses and evidence of an ability to communicate well, students may be invited to participate in this psychology program. Each Teaching Assistant (TA) is assigned duties that support the instructional objectives of the psychology faculty and that provide for learning more about psychology and for developing better interpersonal skills. A student accepted into the program may enroll for one, two, or three semester hours depending on the nature and extent of the responsibilities that are assigned. A student may enroll for PSY 300 more than once, but may apply no more than a total of three semester hours earned in this manner toward satisfaction of the requirement for a major in psychology. Pass/fail grading. Offered when circumstances permit.

303 Resident Community Leadership (1)
Resident Assistants (RA) develop their skills as peer counselors and group leaders by sharing their life experiences through group discussions and structured processes. Enrollment limited to current Resident Assistants. Pass/fail grading. Offered each semester.

362 Theories of Motivation: Human Behavior (4)
The activation, direction and maintenance of goal-oriented behavior is studied from a variety of theoretical perspectives. The primary focus is on conscious behaviors such as goal-setting, selection of self versus other perspectives, and social reactions. In addition, attention is given to the social and ethical implications of these orientations on behavior as well as psychological needs, and specific topics such as altruism and aggression. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

370 Sensation and Perception (4)
An exploration of the idea that behavior is affected by how individuals interpret the world around them and construct their own personal realities. This course traces the physiological and psychological events that
Psychology

...lead to an examination of the sensory systems to the eventual emergence of perceptually guided responses and emphasizes the idea that a genuine understanding of behavior depends on an knowledge of the sensory and perceptual mechanisms involved in constructing a personal reality. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

374 Adolescent Development (4)

Provides a comprehensive and in-depth examination of the physical, social, emotional, and cognitive aspects of adolescent development. Both normal outcomes and social problems are addressed. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

388 Cognition (4)

Examine research findings that help us understand how people perceive, remember, and think. These information-processing functions are described in terms of interacting mental activities such as pattern recognition, allocation of attention, concept formation, encoding, hypothesis testing, and internal monitoring of problem-solving strategies. Evaluation of a person's intelligence is viewed as a diagnostic test that attempts to assess the relative efficiency of these various processing components. Extensive opportunities are provided for students to gain valuable insights regarding their own cognitive skills. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

94 "Reel" to "Real" to "Reel": Psychological Reality in Cinema, Story, and Science (4)

An explanation of psychological topics of interest through the multiple lenses of nonfiction writing, film, and scientific reporting. How do each of their ways of telling us about ourselves shape our understanding of psychological reality? How do our background and experiences, including our understanding of psychological reality, shape our understanding of the psychological themes that are embedded in nonfiction writing and in film? Why is it important to answer these two reciprocal questions? To assist us in our search for answers, we read specific memoirs, biographies and scientific works in addition to viewing related films. Clinical, social psychological, and developmental themes are emphasized, and both individual and societal consequences of alternative ways of “knowing” psychological reality are discussed.

455 Biological Psychology (4)

Comparative and evolutionary perspectives are utilized in an attempt to understand how the anatomical and physiological characteristics of the endocrine and nervous systems relate to cognitive and affective psychological functions. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

Recreation and Leisure Studies

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES

PHIL 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378 8

Within the framework of the liberal arts, the mission of the Recreation and Leisure Studies Department is to educate students as informed consumers, skilled professionals, and advocates of recreation and leisure services throughout their personal and professional lives. The recreation and leisure studies major allows students to discover this exciting discipline and focus upon one of two career tracks, recreation administration and recreation therapy. The course offerings are designed to provide practical “hands-on” learning experiences with local agencies. By combining the concepts, skills, and perspectives of recreation and leisure studies courses with carefully selected elective courses, students may expect both to become liberally educated and to achieve to their career objectives in the recreation profession. The major also culminates in a semester-long internship, allowing students to continue their learning while applying their knowledge to “real-life” practice in recreation agencies. The major has been accredited since 1984 by the National Council on Accreditation of Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Related Professions. All students completing the program are eligible to take the national examination to be recognized as a Certified Park and Recreation Professional (CPRP). Students completing the recreation therapy track and designated coursework are also eligible to take the national examination to become a Certified Therapeutic Recreation Specialist (CTRS).

Designed to develop the technical skills and abilities necessary to become proficient in partnership dancing. Dances studied include swing, rumba, cha cha, mambo, tango. Students study dances and rhythms based on the dynamics of natural body movement and the expression of the special character of each dance. May be repeated once for credit. Prerequisite: PE 123. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

230 Intermediate Martial Arts (1)
An advanced martial arts course in karate for students who have mastered beginning martial arts skills and now desire to work on their advanced belts. Prerequisite: PE 130. Offered each semester.

The following course(s) are undergoing revision to fit the new enhanced, 4 x 4 curriculum. Thus course numbers, titles, prerequisites, and offering information are subject to change.

300 Coaching of Team Sports (4)
A clinical analysis of coaching sports on recreational and varsity level. Intended for future coaches and recreation majors and includes: philosophy, conditioning, care of injuries, rules and skills of the following sports: soccer, baseball and basketball. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

308 Instruction Theory & Techniques in Dance & Rhythms (4)
A basic knowledge of dance history, example: ethnic origins, social influences, style and evolution of the creative process, developments in the discipline or techniques of dance, also dance as an art form as well as a performing art. Parallel the liberal arts studies in history, sociology, philosophy, music, theatre/communications, and leisure studies. It creates a greater understanding and appreciation of dance. Also, it specifically points out the instructional uses and purposes of choreography. Offered intermittently.

RECREATION COURSES (REC)
101 Introduction to Recreation and Leisure Services (4)
Provides an overview of the profession of recreation therapy, including the philosophy, practice, procedures, and foundation of services for individuals with disabilities. Students develop an understanding of professional preparation, service settings, and consumer groups that utilize recreational therapy services. Fieldwork required. Prerequisite: consent. Offered each semester.

305 Teaching Assistant (1)
Provides recreation/leisure service majors or other students who qualify the opportunity, under supervision, to organize and lead recreation, physical education activity courses, and selected introductory content courses (REC 101, 200, 201, 204, 205). Students are required to prepare lesson plans. Prerequisites: REC 204 or 325, or prior teaching experience. Students must be interviewed and accepted by the course instructor. Offered each semester.

308 Historical, Cultural, and Professional Dimensions of Recreation and Leisure (4)
Provides students with knowledge of the history, philosophy, development, purposes, values, and interrelationships of recreation delivery systems from both the private and public sectors. Focuses on the professional dimensions of recreation and leisure as they relate to diverse cultures served in contemporary practice. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior/senior status. Offered each fall.
RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES

309 Internship Preparation in Recreation and Leisure Studies (2)

Provides guidance and direction in all phases of internship procurement for all students majoring in recreation and leisure studies and enrolling in REC 409 the following semester. Emphasizes each student’s self-assessment, documentation of personal/professional goals, strengths, and areas for improvement in relation to the agency’s attributes and compatibility with the student’s goals. Graded pass/fail. Prerequisite: senior and eligible to complete REC 409 the following semester. Offered each semester.

311 Recreational Therapy Process (4) W

Provides students with the knowledge and skills needed to organize, conduct, and evaluate recreational therapy programs in health care agencies. Requires students to write a written plan of operation for an agency providing recreational therapy services. Field experience is required. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each fall.

314 Recreational Therapy Analysis and Assessment (4)

Provides the rationale, procedural methods for, and applications of assessment in recreational therapy. Students examine and use standardized instruments and develop a functional assessment based on the use of activity/task analysis. They learn methods of clinical assessment, establishing client rapport, and interpretation of documentation of assessment results. Prerequisite: REC 212. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

340 Recreation Program Principles (4) W

Provides students with an understanding of recreation program practices, including planning objectives, programming principles, organization, group work, promotion, supervision, and program evaluation. In addition to the study of programming theory, students plan, organize, and evaluate a variety of recreation programs. Suggested prerequisites: REC 101 and 204. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered fall of even-numbered years and spring of odd-numbered years.

341 Management of Recreation and Leisure Services II (4)

Students develop an understanding of administrative practices, including legal aspects of recreation services, principles of planning and operation of recreation areas and facilities, financial and business procedures, public relations, principles of organization and coordination of services, personnel practices, and evaluation. Provides a foundation on which future depth of administrative competency can build. Offered each spring.

342 Fieldwork in Recreation and Leisure Studies (4) W

Offers the opportunity to investigate the leadership, programming, operation, and management of service agencies while gaining paid or volunteer experience. Through a comprehensive focus on individual areas of administration, the course is tailored to the individual needs of the student and agency to maximize experience and reflection. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and REC 204 or consent. Offered each semester and summer.

343 Administration of Campus Recreation (4)

Covers the planning, organization, administration, and evaluation of recreational sports programs in colleges and universities. Emphasizes practical experiences designed to acquaint the student with contemporary administration practices in the field. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

344 Introduction to Sport and Facility Management (4)

Provides students majoring in recreation and leisure studies with an extensive knowledge of effective management in a variety of sports settings. Covers specific skills needed to plan and maintain recreation facilities. Private and public schools and sport club environments are explored. Prerequisite: REC 101. Offered each spring.

345 Ropes Course and Group Facilitation Methods (4)

Prepares students to become ropes course leaders and facilitate the ability of groups to better achieve their goals. Through coverage of the factors connected to initial group processes, conflict, goal deliberation, and the role of the facilitator, the course provides hands-on activities, enabling the student to experience the responsibilities needed to become a useful group facilitator. Offered each fall.

346 Travel and Tourism (4)

Introduces the principles of travel and tourism as an element of leisure service delivery. Covers tourism development and promotion from both the public and private sectors. Students investigate various socioeconomic factors of tourism and visit various travel and tourism agencies. Offered each fall.

347 Outdoor Recreation and Education (4)

A series of experiences, discussions, and readings about current issues and practices in outdoor recreation and education. Students plan, prepare, and implement an overnight backcountry experience. Requires an overnight field experience outside of regularly scheduled class meetings. Offered each spring and intermittently in Winter Sessions or Summer.

348 Maui to Moguls: The Impact of Adventure Travel on Culture and the Environment (4)

Examines the impact of adventure travel on culture and the environment. Students travel to two diverse locations, a ski area and the island of Maui, to learn how activities as diverse as skiing, snowboarding, snorkeling, hiking, windsurfing, and biking affect local culture, the economy, and preservation of the environment. Classroom work prepares the group for the travel experience. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

349 Leadership II: Instructional Techniques (4)

Students learn the successful leadership and teaching styles associated with the instruction of outdoor recreation and athletic activities. They practice a variety of leadership approaches and group process techniques, behavior management, and teaching styles. Prerequisite: REC 204. Offered intermittently in spring.

408 Seminar in Recreation and Leisure Studies (4)

Explores and discusses current social and ethical issues that impact the leisure industry. A forum for students to present the results of a self-directed project. Prerequisites: senior and eligible to complete REC 409 the following semester. Offered each fall.

411 Therapeutic Recreation Programming for the Aged (4)

A series of experiences, discussions, and readings about current issues and practices in outdoor recreation and education. Students plan, prepare, and implement an overnight backcountry experience. Requires an overnight field experience outside of regularly scheduled class meetings. Offered each spring and intermittently in Winter Sessions or Summer.

Such issues may include therapeutic recreation and general recreation needs, legal and ethical considerations, and general inclusion in community recreation programs. Students develop awareness of the barriers faced by people with disabilities and learn to facilitate inclusion as well as strive for normalcy in community recreation settings. Some fieldwork required. Offered each spring.

203 Technology Applications in Recreation & Leisure Studies (1)

Provides an introduction to, and opportunity to become proficient in, various technological applications that are used in recreation and leisure agencies. Particular emphasis is placed on the use of computer hardware and software. This includes word processing, database management, spreadsheets, and specialized registration software. An exploration of the Internet including the use of e-mail and the world wide web helps the student understand how these resources may be utilized to assist the recreation and leisure studies student as well as developing a proficiency. Graded pass/fail. Offered each semester.

211 Therapeutic Recreation Programming: A Case Study (4)

A series of experiences, discussions, and readings about current issues and practices in outdoor recreation and education. Students plan, prepare, and implement an overnight backcountry experience. Requires an overnight field experience outside of regularly scheduled class meetings. Offered each spring and intermittently in Winter Sessions. Such issues may include therapeutic recreation and general recreation needs, legal and ethical considerations, and general inclusion in community recreation programs. Students develop awareness of the barriers faced by people with disabilities and learn to facilitate inclusion as well as strive for normalcy in community recreation settings. Some fieldwork required. Offered each spring.

242 Dance & Society/Dance Appreciation (4)

Designed for non-dancers. Explains the use of movement as expression and the cultural aspects of dance. It is a survey course and gives students basic knowledge of dance and its role in society. Offered intermittently.

268 Women and Leisure (4)

Designed to investigate the past, present and future roles of leisure in the lives of women. Leisure patterns... and pursuits are examined through a review and analysis of gender-specific ideals on equity, empowerment and social values. The course addresses work and leisure from an evolving cultural perspective by contrasting men and women as well as examining differences among women. The course also incorporates a personal examination of leisure philosophy, behavior and constraints with regard to one’s situation and gender. Offered intermittently.

302 Design & Maintenance of Recreation Facilities (4)

An introduction to the general principles of contemporary design and maintenance of recreation and park facilities on the federal, state, municipal and commercial levels. Offered each fall.

310 Disabilities & Therapeutic Recreation (4)

Introduces students to the various disabling conditions that typically receive therapeutic recreation services. Adaptive, corrective and progressive therapeutic recreation techniques are explored for approximately 50 disabling conditions. The course focuses on treatment protocols as related to specific disorders, their characteristics in the four functional domains, and the habilitative or rehabilitative goals established for each. Lab fee. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

312 Treatment Techniques in Therapeutic Recreation (4)

Prepares recreational therapy students to utilize appropriate treatment techniques within each segment of the client population. Includes instruction in group process techniques, stress management, values clarification, sensory stimulation, cognitive retraining, therapeutic exercise and other modalities used within the field. Along with learning recreational therapy treatment techniques, the student learns the background, planning, leadership requirements, and necessary resources for each. Students plan, implement and evaluate their techniques in classroom simulations. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

318 Clinical Skills for Therapeutic Recreation (4)

Acquires students with the various disciplines associated with therapeutic recreation and the rehabilitation, treatment and education of individuals with disabilities. The course focuses on basic terminology, treatment techniques and procedures utilized by Certified Therapeutic Recreation Specialists. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

319 Practicum in Recreational Therapy (1)

Facilitates a structured clinical experience for students in a variety of settings working with people with disabilities. The laboratory consists of 50 contact hours of clinical experience under the supervision of a Certified Therapeutic Recreation Specialist (CTRS) as well as coordination by the CTRS faculty member teaching the course. It combines clinical field exposure with traditional classroom instruction to maximize understanding and skill mastery. Course must be taken twice, each time concurrently with one of the following courses: REC 211, 312, 314, and 318 for a total of 100 practicum hours. May be repeated for credit. Offered each semester.

323 Methods of Teaching Individual & Dual Sports (4)

A comprehensive analysis of selected a civitie and related teaching methodology. Teaching methods are a major component of this course with ample opportunity for students to practice their teaching skills. Offered intermittently.

327 Leisure Education (4)

The study of leisure, its historical bases, the social/psychological pressure that influence how one uses leisure time and the strategies for changing one’s leisure patterns through leisure education. This course may be of particular interest to students who are majoring in health and human services, psychology, sociology or recreation. Offered intermittently.

334 Practicum in Recreation and Leisure Studies (4)

Serves as a structured experience that allows students to investigate the operation of selected sport, tourism, and recreation management areas. Through individual practicum assignments in an area related to a student’s interest, a first-hand understanding is gained of how principles of sport, tourism, and recreation management can be effectively utilized. Students combine field experience with traditional classroom instruction to maximize understanding and skill mastery. Offered each semester.

336 Commercial Recreation (4)

Analyzes the principles of organizing commercial recreation agencies and the factors affecting their success. Emphasis is placed upon actual agencies through field evaluation and case studies. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES

RELIGIOUS STUDIES

RELIGIOUS STUDIES COURSES (RELST)

113 Introduction to Religious Studies (4) V

An introduction to the academic study of religion. Students gain familiarity with a wide range of religious traditions; ways in which religions shape society, culture, and world affairs; and scholarly tools for coming to terms with the wide variety of sometimes strange, always interesting phenomena. Offered each fall.

116 World Religions (4) V

A survey of major religions of the world, their beliefs, practices, and ethical concerns. Focusing primarily on Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, and Buddhism, students examine the history, literature, structures, and manifestations of each of these religions. They examine how such disciplines as psychology, sociology, theology, art, and ethics shape, and are shaped by, religious world views. Concludes with an examination of some of the key conflicts/disagreements between two of these religious traditions. Offered each semester.

Focuses on religion as practiced by both mainstream and minority groups in America. Examines how religion shapes, and is shaped by, American values such as ethnicity, politics, and culture. Offered each spring.

157 Bible in American Culture/Life (4) V
Focuses not on the content of the Bible, but on the function of the Bible in American culture, politics, and society. Students examine such persons as Thomas Jefferson and look at the role that religion plays in creating and maintaining culture through such popular venues as motion pictures, television, sports, and fashion, as well as the impact of religious values on contemporary public educational contexts. Offered on demand.

180 Judaism and Film (4)
Introduces students to Judaism through the use of film. Examines images of Jewish history, text, ritual, and belief, as presented in film, and evaluates the contemporary positive and negative portrayal of Judaism and of Jews. Offered each spring.

181 Judaism through Food (4)
A hands-on introduction to Judaism. From feasts to fasts, students explore the history, texts, and traditions of Judaism through the study and first-hand encounter with its foods, their place, preparation, restricted use, and geographical variations that are central to the religious and cultural experience of Judaism. Offered each spring.

201 Religion in the News (4)
An introduction to the way in which religious communities and religious issues are portrayed in today's news. Through an investigation of multiple sources, students examine the ways in which news shapes—and is shaped by—our understanding of religions (or lack thereof). Offered in Winter Sessions on demand.

217 The Old Testament World (4) V
The ancient Israelites wrote stories of their past. They preserved laws. They wrote prophecies, biographies, common-sense advice, love poetry, and apocalypses. An introduction to some of these writings; specifically, the writings preserved in the Old Testament and in the Apocrypha. Examines both the history of the Hebrews and Israelites and the literature they used to express and communicate their faith. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

218 The New Testament World (4)
The first Christians wrote letters to each other, they wrote tales about Jesus, they wrote sermons, and apocalypses. An introduction to some of those writings preserved in the New Testament and to those apocryphal and non-canonical works that shaped how the New Testament was remembered and how Christianity developed. Examines both the earliest Christians and the literature they used to communicate and express their faith. Prerequisite: at least 3 semester hours in English, history, philosophy, or religious studies. Offered each spring.

223 Religion and American Politics (4) V
Identical to CRS 232.

226 Religious Battles in Court (4) V
Identical to CRS 233.

232 Religion and American Polits (4) V
Introduces students to the role religion plays in creating and maintaining culture through such popular venues as motion pictures, television, sports, and fashion, as well as the impact of religious values on popular cultural expressions. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

265 Extreme Religion: The Body, Pain, Sex, and Martyrdom in Religious Experience (4)
For the sake of their soul and their faith, religious individuals engage in a variety of actions which—in other contexts—would be considered extreme: self-mutilation, snake-handling, fasting, celibacy, tantric sex, polygamy, suicide, martyrdom, etc. Focuses on the role of religious experience, particularly on ecstatic or extreme religious expressions in world religions today. After examining the roles and functions of "experience" within religion, students focus on specific cases of "extreme" religious practices, seeking to understand their meaning and significance for their practitioners. Prerequisite: at least 3 semester hours in: history, English, philosophy, or religious studies. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

303 Saints and Heretics: Christian History I (4)
Traces the "plot" of the development of Christian thought about questions of fundamental human importance from the formation of the medieval world to the Reformation. Students examine the mutual dependence of theology and wider culture with special attention to developing strategies for reading the Bible. May be taken in conjunction with RELST 304 or independently. Prerequisite: at least 3 semester hours in: English, history, philosophy, or religious studies. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

304 Damned and Saved: Christian History II (4)
Continues the "plot" of the development of Christian thought. Students trace the creation of our modern world view from the wake of the Reformation through the Enlightenment and into the 19th and 20th centuries. Emphasizes the development of strategies for reading the Bible as students examine the interrelation of theology and in cultural context at each step of the way. May be taken in conjunction with RELST 303 or independently. Prerequisite: at least 3 semester hours in: English, history, philosophy, or religious studies. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

320 Science and Religion (4)
Examines the relationship between science and religion. Whether science and religion are compatible. The first question is primarily historical. Students examine key advances in the history of science (the heliocentric theory of the universe or evolution, for example) and theological responses to them. The second question is primarily philosophical. In each case, students begin with the issues raised in important primary texts. Prerequisite: junior/senior status, at least one course in the natural sciences, or consent. Offered intermittently.

326 Methodism (4)
An interdisciplinary exploration of the history of Methodism, with special attention given to the Wesleyans, the Unitarians, and the religious and cultural development of the Methodist denomination and its Wesleyan offshoots (such as the AME Church). Prerequisite: 4 semester hours of religious studies or history. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

335 Christian Theology and Film (4)
Examines the relationship between sports and religion. From the use of sports as a means of acculturation, the use of elite competition as a surrogate for interreligious conflict, and the competition between organized sports and organized religion for money, attention, and devotion, to the sacralization of the space of the field of play and elevation of athletes to modern gods, the world of athletic competition overflowing with religious elements. Using a variety of disciplinary methods, students examine this relationship, the ways in which religion and sport reinforce similar ideals, and the ways in which they compete with one another for the minds, hearts, and bodies of the "fans." Offered spring of even-numbered years. "RELST 463 only.

The following course(s) are undergoing revision to the new enhanced, 4 x 4 curriculum. Thus, course numbers, titles, prerequisites, and offering information are subject to change.

251/451 Religion and Literature (4)
Works selected from the fiction, nonfiction, biography and mythology of the world’s literature, both classic and modern, academic and popular, and focused on the point of view of belief, unbeliever, values and spiritual orientation. Offered spring semester of odd-numbered years.

341 War, Peace, and Christian Ethics (4) V
Examines Christian ethical perspectives on war and peace. Topics include the justifications for and limitations on the use of force, just war and pacifism, alternative approaches such as just war, individual and collective, and application of these perspectives to current issues. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

352 Seminar in C. S. Lewis (4)
Examines the literary, historical, and theological contributions of British author C. S. Lewis, focusing on key literary and philosophical influences upon his life and literature and examining how his thought and imagination have affected contemporary religious discourse and practice. May be offered either as an on-campus course or as a travel course. Prerequisite: 4 semester hours of religious studies or English. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

361/461 Thinkers/Topics in Religion (4) VI*
Focused, in-depth study of one important religious thinker (or thinker about religion), or a narrowly defined topic of current importance in religious studies. May be repeated for credit with the instructor’s permission. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered each year. *RELST 361(V); RELST 461(I).

363/463 Sports and Religion (4) I*
Examines the relationship between sports and religion. From the use of sports as a means of acculturation, the use of elite competition as a surrogate for interreligious conflict, and the competition between organized sports and organized religion for money, attention, and devotion, to the sacralization of the space of the field of play and elevation of athletes to modern gods, the world of athletic competition overflowing with religious elements. Using a variety of disciplinary methods, students examine this relationship, the ways in which religion and sport reinforce similar ideals, and the ways in which they compete with one another for the minds, hearts, and bodies of the "fans." Offered spring of even-numbered years. "RELST 463 only.

* The following course(s) are undergoing revision to the new enhanced, 4 x 4 curriculum. Thus, course numbers, titles, prerequisites, and offering information are subject to change.
324 Local Religions in Practice (1)

The study of religion, long dominated by the study of what “believers” were “thinking,” also has a long tradition of observing what adherents were doing. From the earliest sociologist and anthropologist, the study of religion has never been complete without an understanding of religion in practice. This course introduces students to the practices of participation-observation and ethnography, as well as to some of the foundation literature and pressing questions still asked in the study of people in the course of their religious lives. Offered on demand.

327 Religion, Law, and the Schools (4)

An investigation of the relationship between religion and education in the United States. The class reviews the historic relationship of religion and education in the United States, related legal and public policy materials, and specific curricular issues as they relate to teachers, administrators, students, and their parents. Offered each summer.

331 Rationalism and Mysticism in Religion (4)

Rationalism and mysticism are radically different ways of comprehending the world, and yet many of the worlds’ major religious traditions feature both rationalist and mystical forms. First, this course examines rationalism and mysticism as comprehensive and competing religious paradigms; second, surveys manifestations of religious rationalism and mysticism in the monotheistic religions, and third, examines in detail the oscillation of rationalism and mysticism in Judaism from Late Antiquity until the 20th century. Prerequisite: at least three semester hours in one or more of the following: English, history, philosophy, religious studies.

332 Jewish Ethics (4)

Focuses on how Judaism helps people meet the challenges of contemporary life. What do classic sources and contemporary thinkers say about animal rights and human subjects are explored. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

483, 484 Senior Thesis I, II (4, 4)

Independent research under the direction of a faculty member of the department leading to the preparation and writing of a senior essay or thesis. Open to religious studies majors. Prerequisite: consent. Offered on demand.

SCIENCE

SOCIAL SCIENCES

DR. ROBERT B. ABERLENT, Program Coordinator

The Social Science Divisional Major (SSDM) is designed for students with a natural curiosity in several fields of study across the spectrum of the social sciences. It consists of 48 semester hours, 32 of which must be at the 300/400 level and 20 of which must be concentrated in one department or discipline within the division. This area of concentration must include 16 hours at the 300/400 level. The major must also include at least 8 semester hours of enrichment courses at the 300/400 level in each of two other disciplines within the division. Either the area of concentration or at least one enrichment field must be history, political science, psychology or sociology. Finally, the major must include one research course, which may be a research methods course or one with an extensive research component. The SSDM Oversight Committee maintains a list of approved research courses.

The student must formally declare the SSDM by filing a Declaration of Major form with the Registrar’s Office at least two semesters before graduation, summer not counting as a semester. In close consultation with an academic advisor, the student develops a contract listing the courses to be included in the major, along with an essay explaining the goals and the rationale for choosing the divisional approach and demonstrating an intellectual coherence and clear focus for the major. The contract must also indicate which courses in or outside the major the student will use to fulfill the college’s requirements for oral communication competency and computer proficiency and how those courses fulfill the requirements. The contract must be approved by the student’s faculty advisor and the members of the SSDM Oversight Committee, all of whom, along with the student, sign the completed contract. The contract is kept on file by the administrative assistant of the Social Sciences Division. It may be renegotiated if courses listed are no longer available, but such changes must be approved by the student, the faculty advisor and the SSDM Oversight Committee. Finally, during the last semester of coursework, the student must write a reflective essay that reviews the goals and unifying intellectual theme of the major as stated in the declaration contract and then explores in some detail how the goals and themes have been realized.

DEPARTMENTS

351 Research Methods for the Social Sciences (4)

Offers the student an overview of data collection methods as well as basic analytic procedures within the context of the social sciences. Both positivistic and naturalistic paradigms are examined, and the ethical framework as well as the methodological procedures involved in designing and conducting research with human subjects are explored. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

SOCIAL SCIENCES COURSES (SOSCI)

351 Research Methods for the Social Sciences (4)

Major Requirements:

Either the area of concentration or at least one enrichment field must be history, political science, psychology, or sociology.

The contract is due at least two semesters before graduation, summer not counting as a semester. The contract is due with the registrar’s office on or before April 1 for fall graduation and by October 1 for spring graduation.

The contract is due by March 1 for fall graduation and by April 1 for spring graduation.

484 Internship in Criminal Justice and Sociology (9)

Practiced, supervised experience in direct student learning in applied social settings. Students learn how acquired knowledge and research writing skills can be applied to the workplace. Practical and applied learning through student performance in the applied setting gives the student a "competitive edge" for future community workplace contribution. Prerequisites: 18 hours of sociology or criminal justice and CJ 483 or SOC 483. Students must contact the department faculty to review full eligibility for this course. Identical to SOC 484. Offered each spring.

489 Senior Integrative Assessment (4)

Students assess and analyze the connectedness of their academic learning in light of their future goals. Contemporary topics take a holistic and systematic perspective focusing on a variety of issues such as justice, ethics, and community needs. Prerequisite: senior status. Juniors need consent from the instructor. Identical to SOC 489. Offered each fall.

420 Criminal Law: The Appellate Process (3)

Provides students with an understanding of a criminal appeal. While reviewing an actual criminal trial transcript, students develop legal issues for an appeal, then prepare a legal brief for an appellate court review. Emphasizes the creation of a well-reasoned argument within the context of a legal brief. Prerequisites: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and CJ 389 or consent; CJ 387 helpful. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

460 Readings in Criminal Justice 2 (4)

Students select a topic concerning criminal justice theory or research, survey the relevant literature, and discuss their findings with their major professor. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: consent. Offered each semester.

389 Criminal Investigation (4)

An introduction to the general processes of criminal investigation that engages students' critical analysis of how and why crimes are committed. Students learn basic investigation techniques and responsibilities. Prerequisite: two criminal justice courses. Offered each spring.

460 Readings in Criminal Justice (2, 4)

An overview of the organization of criminal courts in Federal and state jurisdictions is provided. The courts' relationship to law enforcement and social control is also examined. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

383 Emergency Management (4)

Identical to HHSW 383.

390 Comparative Criminal Justice System (4)

Pertaining with the world in fighting crime, students gain a global perspective of crime and criminality through a comparison of culture, history, political systems, and religion of the U.S. and other societies. Topics include criminal procedure, courts, law enforcement, a review of transnational crime, and more. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

THEATRE

TRAVIS B. MALONE, Program Coordinator and Division Chairperson
DR. SALLY H. SHEEDO

Virginia Wesleyan's theatre program is an artistic yet challenging educational effort. On stage and in the classroom, theatre students gain experience in virtually every aspect of the field. They encounter a wide variety of practical, theoretical, and critical perspectives on theatre and dramatic literature, from Ancient Greece to the present. The multi-faceted nature of the program covers a variety of specialties to assist the artist in adapting to an exciting and fast-paced profession.

At various times throughout the program, theatre majors will be required to meet with faculty members to assess their development as artists and plan for their future involvement in the senior capstone experience. This experience, which is tailored to the needs of each student, requires majors to complete advanced creative and scholarly work to prepare them for future employment in the field or for graduate school.

Women's and Gender Studies Courses (WGS)

219 Women in Culture and Society (4) S

Students examine conflicting definitions of gender in the contemporary U.S., analyzing general patterns and the impact of gender definitions on their own lives. Differences in the definitions of womanhood and manhood are discussed, along with the variety of women's experiences and perspectives. Ideas about gender are contrasted with the real-life situations of women and men in our society. Emphasizes the opportunities and difficulties that women of differing races and classes encounter in today's society. Offered each fall.

319 Feminist and Gender Theory (4) W

Identical to ENG 319 and SOC 319.

430 Women's Studies/Gender Studies Seminar (4)

Introduces students to the latest feminist theories and methodologies as well as the most recent research on gender in relation to a topic chosen by the instructor. Topics vary. Recent topics include "Violence, Non-Violence, and the Body" and "Gender Troubles." Students give presentations and complete research projects relevant to their major disciplines. Does not fulfill divisional requirements for Latin Honors. Identical to SOC 430. Prerequisite: senior status or consent. Offered in selected semesters.
CAMPUS LIFE

A necessary complement to education in any college classroom is growth through campus life. On any given day at Virginia Wesleyan students can be found participating in athletics, singing with the choir, practicing for a play, planning for an art show, gathering news for the student newspaper, leading prayer and Bible study, participating in an art exhibit or rock climbing session, and engaging in social activities in the Jane P. Batten Student Center.

At Virginia Wesleyan students have always been special, and our student life program strives to uphold that motto. Although the college is primarily residential, campus activities are intended to involve and meet the needs of commuters and adult students, as well as resident students.

Guided by the staff of the Vice President for Student Affairs, the student life program and services encourage all students to grow outside the classroom.

Residential Living: Residence halls at Virginia Wesleyan are designed to foster a sense of community. It is in the residence halls that students encounter a variety of interesting people and find many opportunities for cultural, educational, social, and recreational enrichment. The campus is made up of academic villages patterned closely after Thomas Jefferson’s adaptation of the Oxford-Canbridge plan. An academic village includes classrooms, faculty offices, and student residences with lounge areas.

Bray Village and Village II each include two academic buildings and four residence halls. Brock Village has three traditional residence halls and three residence halls that offer students apartment-style living. The rooms in Bray Village, Village II and the traditional halls in Brock Village are designed for single and double occupancy—and for personalized living. Rooms are furnished with beds, dressers, full-length wardrobes or closets, desks, and chairs. Laundry facilities are available on each residence hall floor. Each unit of the apartments and townhouses in Brock Village consists of four bedrooms, two bathrooms, a living area, and kitchen. Each townhouse has a washer and dryer, and the apartments have laundry facilities on each floor. The newly constructed Village IV has 24 townhouses, which accommodate 96 students. Students are encouraged to personalize their rooms, apartments, or townhouses according to their tastes and those of their roommate(s). By providing their own rugs, lamps, rugs, and other items, they can transform their living space into a comfortable home. The campus dining center includes a 500-seat central dining facility, private dining areas, and additional seating in the newly renovated Boyd Dining Center. Nearby are the college’s post office and business office.

The college requires all students to live on campus in the residential housing facilities. Exceptions are granted to those students who (1) elect to live at home with one or both of their parents in the Hampton Roads area; (2) are married; (3) are carrying less than a full course load (fewer than 12 semester hours); (4) petition the college and are granted permission to live off campus. Students who have been residents of the Hampton Roads area of Virginia for the year prior to their initial application for admission to the college are considered commuter students. They have the option of commuting from their local residence or residing in the college’s residence hall facilities. Students who are under the age of 18 or 24 years of age or older must request permission to live in the college’s residential facilities.

The Office of Residence Life is responsible for selecting and training the residence hall staff, coordinating hall policies and developing cultural, educational, social and recreational activities. The social and recreational activities, including the annual “Seasfood Party in the Dell,” are complemented by a number of interesting educational and cultural events.

Student Activities: The Student Activities Office seeks to enhance the overall educational experience by fostering social and leadership development and encouraging collaboration. This office supports the Wesleyan Academic Council (Student Programming Board), Student Government Association, fraternities and sororities, clubs and organizations, programs for commuters, and leadership initiatives for students.

Commuting: Commuter students are a vital part of the college community. The student life program is intended to integrate the resident and commuter populations to enhance campus activities for everyone. Theme parties, student publications, intramural sports, sorority and fraternity functions, worship services, athletic contests, the Lake Taylor Music Festival, and Spring Fling are just some of the activities and opportunities afforded both commuter and resident students.

Through the Commuter Service Office, which is part of Student Activities, commuter students are kept informed, provided specific opportunities, and encouraged to take full advantage of campus resources and the co-curricular activities of the college. They are also encouraged to take questions and concerns to the Commuter Assistant, who holds office hours dedicated to commuters.

Jane P. Batten Student Center: For both the resident and the Jane P. Batten Student Center is full of exciting activities. The $18.6 million center is home to a spacious fitness center featuring dozens of weight machines, bikes, Stairmaster, and other equipment; an eight-lane swimming pool complemented by a ten-person Jacuzzi and saunas; three racquetball courses; an indoor elevated jogging track; a convocation center/gymnasium; a practice gymnasium; a rock climbing wall; the Marlin Grille; and the Scriber Bookstore.

The Community Council: The College’s commitment to building a vital community finds expression in Virginia Wesleyan’s structure of campus governance. The Student Government Association, the Faculty Assembly, and the Administrative Council meet regularly to make policy regarding the respective spheres of concern. At least three times annually, faculty, staff, and student representatives come together for meetings of the Community Council, a body which provides a forum for sharing information and discussing common concerns. Students are also represented on other vital committees of the college, giving them a distinctive voice in the making of college policies.

Student Government Association: The Virginia Wesleyan Student Government, organized as the Student Government Association (SGA), is an association that includes the Executive Council, president and vice-president, and 16 student senators. The SGA makes every effort to respond to student concerns and promote the general welfare of students and campus organizations. Moreover, through work on many college committees, participation in numerous social activities, sponsorship of open forums, participation in Community Council, and special programs that foster informal student/faculty dialogue, the SGA contributes in many ways to the quality of campus life.

Wesleyan Activities Council (WAC): WAC is the programming board dedicated to providing quality weekend events and entertainment for everyone. Theme parties, student publications, intramural sports, sorority and fraternity functions, worship services, athletic contests, the Lake Taylor Music Festival, and Spring Fling are just some of the activities and opportunities afforded both commuter and resident students.

Other Cultural Opportunities: Cultural opportunities abound on the Virginia Wesleyan campus and beyond. Speakers and performers of regional, national, and international acclaim are invited to campus throughout the year to share their talents and expertise with the college community. In addition, the college’s own drama department presents major productions in the fall and spring semesters, and several student groups, including the Wesleyan Singers, perform on campus.

The campus is also just minutes from many outstanding local attractions, such as the world-famous beaches along the Atlantic Ocean and the Chesapeake Bay; the Virginia Aquarium and Marine Science Center, which offers seasonal boat trips for dolphin and whale watching, a six-story IMAX theater, aquariums, and intriguing new animal exhibits; and Nauticus National Maritime Center, an educational and exciting interactive science center with more than 150 exhibits and the battleship Wisconsin. The Sandler Center for the Performing Arts, Norfolk’s Scope Arena, Chrysler Hall, the Virginia Beach Amphitheater, and the Chrysler Museum of Art are all just a few miles from campus. Hampton Roads is also home to several outstanding cultural events and opportunities.

The VWC Concert Series: Through the Virginia Wesleyan Concert Series, the college offers outstanding live musical performances in which artists connect with audiences in a special way. The intimate and informal setting of the Hofheimer Theatre brings a drawing-room atmosphere to every concert, and even back-row patrons enjoy a close connection with the performers. With 10-12 free concerts offered each year, students have ample opportunities to enjoy vocal and instrumental music in the styles of jazz, classical, folk, and bluegrass without ever leaving the campus.
opportunities for students to meet their spiritual experiences can happen in a variety of campus venues, and community; all drawing us near to God. These multi-faceted experience of learning, worship, service at Virginia Wesleyan. At its best, spiritual growth is a relating to current health issues. Students must submit a completed Health Evaluation Form before enrolling at Virginia Wesleyan. This form contains important information about any of the programs, policies, or health services staffed by two licensed clinical social workers. Students may be referred by members of the faculty or staff, or they may refer themselves for counseling. This free, confidential service is available to all students and includes short-term counseling on campus as well as referral to professionals off campus. The college chaplain is also available to students seeking individual counseling. One member of the staff, a specialist in the area of substance abuse, offers education and confidential counseling for students who have concerns about their own drug or alcohol use or that of another individual.

Health Services: All Virginia Wesleyan students are entitled to the benefits of the Health Services Office. First aid and health care are provided by a registered nurse and/or licensed practical nurse from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. If necessary, students may also be referred to an off-campus physician's office. Transportation is provided by the college when needed. Students must submit a completed Health Evaluation Form before enrolling at Virginia Wesleyan. This form contains important information in case of an emergency. All immunizations must be up to date. Health Services sponsors programs on campus relating to current health issues.

Spiritual Life: Engage, impact, transform—these three words shape our vision for spiritual life at Virginia Wesleyan. At its best, spiritual growth is a multi-faceted experience of learning, worship, service, and community; all drawing us near to God. These experiences can happen in a variety of campus venues. From weekly worship and meetings of faith groups to simple conversation and prayer, there are numerous opportunities for students to meet their spiritual needs. Students are encouraged to explore other faiths in a religion course, participate in an offering of the Center for Sacred Music, engage in the formation of a living and learning community, or volunteer in the community with other students. Students can also connect with a local place of worship or seek their own path. There is an ecumenical worship gathering called SOAR and a Catholic Mass on Sundays. Monumental Chapel is open and accessible for groups and individuals. Special arrangements for use of the chapel can be made through the Chaplain's Office.

Intercollegiate Athletics: Athletics are an integral part of campus life at Virginia Wesleyan. Men participate in intercollegiate soccer, basketball, golf, tennis, lacrosse, baseball, indoor/outdoor track, and cross-country. The women's intercollegiate program includes basketball, softball, tennis, soccer, field hockey, lacrosse, indoor/outdoor track, cross-country, and volleyball. Additionally, Virginia Wesleyan offers a competitive cheerleading program.

Virginia Wesleyan is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association—Division III, as well as the Old Dominion Athletic Conference. Students who participate in intercollegiate athletics are required to be enrolled full-time and must be making satisfactory progress toward graduation.

The Marlin is the mascot for Virginia Wesleyan's athletic teams. School colors are navy blue and silver, with red as the accent color.

Campus Recreation Program: The Campus Recreation Program (RecX) at Virginia Wesleyan College strives to provide quality recreational opportunities to the campus community regardless of skill or experience. Its primary mission is to promote personal growth, social fellowship, and healthy lifestyle choices through participation in challenging and fun activities. All of the programs emphasize student involvement and leadership to determine the direction of yearly goals. Students may get involved through working as an Intramural Official, developing a club sport, or volunteering for the Recreational Advisory Board. For more detailed information about any of the programs, policies, or general rules, go to the website RecX.vwc.edu.

Clubs and Organizations: Virginia Wesleyan is home to over 100 student clubs and organizations that strive to meet the needs of the student population. These organizations include club sports, fraternities and sororities, leadership groups, clubs organized around majors, national honor societies, religious life and community service organizations, and special interest groups.
